Ike Found No Pessimism, Apathy On Political Jaunt

Party Heads Laud Effort In Campaign

Welcoming Crowd At Capital Airport Proud Of President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower came back from the campaign circuit today reporting that "I didn't run into any pessimism or apathy."

The chief executive stepped from the presidential plane Columbine II into a welcoming crowd of White House and government officials and GOP political leaders.

They pressed around him with outstretched hands, waving hats and assurances that he had been terrific on his six-day, 5,300-mile swing across the country.

Calls Demos Radicals

Today's flight was from Chicago where Eisenhower made a nationally broadcast speech last night. In that address he punched at the Democrats again as radicals.

Eisenhower's remarks about the absence of pessimism or apathy were tossed off as he stood chatting with Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn and Mrs. Clare Williams, new assistant national chairman.

"We are proud of you," Mrs. Williams told the chief executive.

Stevenson Attacks Type Of Campaign

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower concludes his cross-country campaign swing today, accused by Adlai Stevenson of a "desperate, intolerable, demagogic type of campaign."

With Eisenhower returning to Washington from his week-long speaking tour, Nixon again took over the brunt of the Republican campaign for GOP congressional candidates with a swing into New York.

Eisenhower's repeated use of the word "radical" during his tour brought heated criticism from Stevenson. Eisenhower's Democratic presidential opponent in 1952 and 1956.

The old Nixon has been joined by the new Ike—or a new speech writer—in a desperate, intolerable demagogic type of campaign," Stevenson told a meeting of Democratic precinct chiefs in Chicago.

Joining Eisenhower in praise of administration economic policies, Nixon told New England audiences that radical Democrats will go to Congress if GOP Senate and House candidates are defeated in the North and West.

At a party rally in Providence, R.I., Nixon said the Eisenhower administration has managed to curb "the runaway inflation it inherited from the Democratic party."

U. S. To Continue Cardinal Asylum

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States said today it would continue harboring Josef Cardinal Mindszenty in the U.S. legation at Budapest despite Hungary's charge this amounted to "gross interference" in Hungary's affairs.

The State Department late Wednesday acknowledged Hungary had rejected an American-relayed request that Mindszenty be given safe conduct out of the country to attend the forthcoming meeting of Roman Catholic cardinals in Rome to elect a new pope.

Cardinal Rites Attract 10,000

CATIONS DI ZOPPOLA, Italy (UPI)—Six archbishops and bishops, civic leaders and a crowd of 10,000 paid final tribute today to Celsio Cardinal Constantini.

The cardinal, chancellor of the Holy Roman Church and one-time reorganizer of the church in China, died in Rome Oct. 17 at the age of 82. He was 31 days Pope Pius XII's junior and survived him only eight days.

Churchman Asks Religious Words Of One Syllable

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Some rural churches would be better served if their reading matter was reduced to one-syllable words, an Episcopalian dean said today.

"A standard Episcopal church prayer book is rather difficult for some people in the hills to grasp," said the Very Rev. Dr. W. Ross Bailey.

"The problem is to reduce religious material to words of one syllable."

Dr. Bailey, who is dean of the Southern Convocation of the Episcopal Diocese of West Virginia, gave this advice while discussing the special problems of churches in railroad and coal communities and hill towns.

He spoke at the annual three-day meeting of the National Convocation of Churches of Town and Country. It ends today.

September Living Cost Held Steady As Earnings Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that living costs remained unchanged in September. At the same time, earnings of factory workers rose to a record level.

It was the second straight month that living costs, after a steady two-year climb, failed to rise. In August there was a slight decline.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said its living cost index was unchanged in September from the August level of 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

Rail Workers Get Hike

About 900,000 workers in the railroad industry will get a one-cent an hour wage boost effective Nov. 1 as a living cost adjustment based on the new index compared with what it was six months ago.

Factor worker earnings, after deducting federal income and social security taxes, rose to $77.25 a week in September for the worker with three dependents, and to $69.80 for the single worker. Both spendable earnings figures represented record highs. They were levels about 65 cents above August levels and about $1.80 per week above the figures for September last year.

Buying Power Up

The bureau said factory worker buying power has been increasing steadily from a low point last April because of gradually longer working hours, higher hourly earnings and comparatively steady price levels.

Ewan Clague, Labor Department statistics commissioner, said that the gain in spendable earnings promises to increase national consumption and thus buoy economic recovery.

Force Use Renounced By Chinese

Chiang, Dulles Issue Communique After Three Days Of Talks

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek ended his talks with Secretary of State Dulles today by renouncing force as the main method of recovering the Communist-ruled mainland.

It was learned on good authority that Chiang also had agreed to consider cutting his off-shore island forces if the Communists silence their guns. This was not contained, however, in a joint communique ending three days of talks with Dulles.

Chiang said in the communique it is still the sacred mission of the Nationalists to return to the mainland. But he added: "The foundation of this mission resides in the minds and hearts of the Chinese people."

The principal means of successfully achieving that mission is through nationalism, democracy and social well-being, "and not the use of force," the communique said.

No Flat Commitment

The communique also went a step closer toward an American commitment to defend the Nationalist-held offshore islands, although it did not make such a flat commitment.

The statement said that the United States and the Nationalist regime "recognized that under present conditions the defense of the Quemoy together with the defense of Taiwan (Formosa) and Penghu (the Pescadore Islands) in the Formosa Strait."

This was interpreted as a new warning that any Red attempt to take the offshore islands might provoke U. S. intervention.

Leaves By Plane

Dulles left by KC135 jet tanker for Washington after he and Chiang drew up the communique in their fifth meeting since Tuesday.

The communique said the renewed Communist bombardment of the Quemoy group and the Red propaganda campaign to divide the United States and Nationalist China had instead drawn the two allies closer together.

The Chinese Communists and their Soviet backers "cannot possibly succeed" in trying to conquer Formosa, eliminate Nationalist China and expel the United States from the western Pacific, the communique declared.

"It is hoped and believed that the Communists, faced by the proven unity, resolution and strength of the U.S. and Nationalist governments, will not put their policy to the test of general war, and that they will abandon the military steps they have already taken to initiate their futile and dangerous policy," it said.

Both governments "noted that the U.S.-Nationalist military aid treaty" is "defensive in character."

However, the Nationalist renunciation of force was interpreted in Taipei as not applying in case the mainland is shaken up by a major revolt against Communist rule. Nationalist leaders have continually insisted that a revolt would come and have stepped up such predictions since Red China recently began to force peasants out of private home life and into communal living.

Perpetual Motion Machine

Nutritionist Warns U. S. On Overeating Problem

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A food expert told the American Dietetic Association today that we have invented "the first perpetual motion machine in history."

He said the Russians will lay any claim to this one.

Muriel G. Wagner, a Detroit nutritionist, described it as "the movement of the fork from plate to mouth and back again."

She advised some 4000 delegates attending the association's 41st annual convention that "despite the grave warnings about the dire consequences of overeating, this condition is on the increase in our country."

Mrs. Wagner said adult food habits are formed during infancy and early childhood. This seems to indicate that the best way to prevent obesity in adults is to begin by teaching proper food habits from infancy, she said.

She warned that the teaching program should be focused on the problems of overeating which have resulted from misconceptions of nutrition.

"Unfortunately, some parents have the mistaken notion that the more the child eats, the healthier he will become," she said. "This sometimes leads to the formation of habits of overeating."

Hoover Plans Conferences On Bombings

State, Local Police To Be Told Of FBI Services Available

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Director J. Edgar Hoover announced today the FBI will hold special conferences with state and local police in the next two months on actual and threatened bombings of schools, churches and synagogues.

Hoover said the FBI will outline to local and state authorities investigative services his organization can make available in such incidents.

The meetings will be held throughout the United States, Puerto Rico and Hawaii during November and December. Dates and meeting places will be set by FBI field offices.

Hoover expressed belief that "these outrages can be materially curbed by an aroused public opinion, a coordinated effort on the part of federal, state and local law enforcement agencies and by stern treatment of the perpetrators."

The FBI, in recent bombing cases, has sent agents to the scene, analyzed evidence in its laboratories, made its fingerprint facilities available and has covered out-of-state leads for state and local enforcement officials.

Boy, 12, Tells Of Killing Tot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 12-year-old boy has told police he killed his 2-year-old girl playmate in a fit of rage after she struck his injured eye.

Olden Goldberg was charged with homicide Wednesday night and taken to the youth study center to await a formal hearing in Juvenile Court today.

Police said marks on Geraldine Williams' body indicated that Olden hit the child, then strangled her. Patrolmen found her body in a yard near her home. It was wrapped in newspaper and stuffed in a wicker shopping basket. She had been missing for two days.

The boy is white; the girl was Negro.

Mystery Clerk 38 Years Hunted In $375,000 Theft

TROY, O. (UPI) — D. Omer Tobias, quiet, greying "mystery clerk" at a local firm for 38 years while remaining virtually unknown in the community, was sought today by the FBI on charges of embezzling $375,000.

The sheriff's office here said it had no leads on the whereabouts of Tobias, missing since Oct. 14, when officials of the Hobart Manufacturing Co. where he worked attempted to question him about missing checks.

Authorities kept a round-the-clock watch on the home of the 58-year-old bachelor, where he had an estimated 100 thousand dollar antique collection. But they said they did not expect him to show up there.

The FBI filed charges Wednesday in U.S. District Court in Dayton citing Tobias with conversion of funds and causing them to be transported interstate.

Papal Crown Gets Cleaning

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The richly jeweled triple crown of the popes has been cleaned and polished for the coronation of its next wearer.

Vatican sources said the bee-hive-shaped crown was taken Wednesday to a Rome goldsmith, who worked in the presence of two priests. It was returned to the Vatican a few hours later.

The tiara is the most precious of the "three" papal crowns in the Vatican. It was made for the coronation of Pope Pius IX in 1846.

Felons Stage Drive To Aid Heart Victim

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI)—Inmates of the West Virginia Penitentiary have started a drive to collect funds among themselves to aid a two-year-old girl who needs a delicate heart operation.

The money will be given to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bane of Lumberport, Harrison County. Their daughter, Marsha, has a heart disorder which needs an operation but her parents are unable to finance it, the prison newspaper, the Penitentiary, noted. The father is unemployed.

The story calling for contributions to the fund concluded: "Our total contribution for Marsha Bane may not reach any staggering total but you may be sure that it will show that the inmates of West Virginia State Penitentiary care, not only for a helpless little two-year-old, but for any human being in need or deprived of something he rightfully deserves."

"We will add to our contribution our fervent prayers to God for Marsha's complete recovery."

Tank Of Aircraft Found In Ocean

GUAM (AP) — A search ship today recovered a wing tip tank from the same type aircraft that vanished in the Pacific west of Guam Saturday with four crewmen. The plane was an A2J photo reconnaissance Navy craft.

The Navy said the aircraft crashed near Princeton and five destroyers headed for the area where the tank was found.

Russian Poet, Author Wins Nobel Prize For Literature

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Boris Pasternak, the Russian poet and novelist, won the Nobel Prize in Literature.

The award was the most dramatic in years. The 68-year-old author still lives just outside Moscow. The Soviet government has not permitted publication in Russia of his monumental novel about 10 years—was completed in 1956 what communism has done to during the de-Stalinization period freedom and tried to prevent its publication abroad.

Air Experts Probe Italy Air Tragedy

31 Killed In Crash Of Airliner, Jet Over Anzio; Reports Clash

ANZIO, Italy (UPI)—British and Italian air experts today began an investigation of "the crash that shouldn't have happened"—the collision of a British airliner and an Italian jet fighter which killed 31 persons over this World War II beachhead.

The 26 passengers killed in the crash included an American heiress and the Briton who had been her husband for less than 24 hours.

Controversy Rages

The collision, in broad daylight and crystal-clear weather, touched off an immediate controversy. The Italian air force charged that the airliner was off course, while British airline agents argued that it was well within the charted London-to-Naples airway.

Eleven Italian investigators, led by air force Gen. Domenico Ludovico, met here this morning to try to determine the cause of the crash. Britain was represented by Anthony Milward, president of the Nationalized British European Airways Corporation.

Hit Liner In Side

The condition of the wreckage indicated that the U. S. made F84 fighter ripped into the side of the BEA turboprop Viscount, exploding its pressurized cabin and killing all of its 31 passengers and crewmen.

The air force pilot's parachute saved him from death, but he was critically injured. He told interrogators in a hospital in nearby Nettuno that "I don't know what happened."

Victims of the crash included Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Cubitt, an American heiress and her British bridegroom of a day. Mrs. Cubitt was the former Diana Muckerman, of New York City, a granddaughter of the late publisher, Bernard MacFadden.

The Cubitts were married Tuesday in London's fashionable St. James Church. They were headed for an Italian honeymoon when the collision snuffed out their lives.

The communique reaffirmed U.S. recognition of the Nationalist government as "the authentic spokesman for free China and the hopes and aspirations entertained by the great mass of the Chinese people."

In an apparent reference to earlier U.S. desires for withdrawal of part of the 100,000-man garrison on Quemoy, the communique said after the Communists ceased firing, it had been hoped the talks could give primary consideration "to measures which could have contributed to stabilizing an actual situation of nonmilitancy."

With resumption of the Red bombardment, Nationalist sources said, Dulles did not raise the question of troop withdrawals.

Delicate Heart Surgery:

Doctor, Soldiers Give Boy, 5, Life

BALTIMORE (AP)—A surgeon's skilled hands and two groups of U. S. soldiers 4,000 miles apart have given the gift of life to little Klaus Kaemmerer.

The 5-year-old German youngster underwent a "bluebaby" operation yesterday at Johns Hopkins Hospital. Although the boy was in critical condition after the three-hour operation this is routine and the hospital said the operation was a success.

It was aimed at correcting a heart defect which prevented sufficient oxygen from reaching the little boy's lungs.

The skilled surgeon's hands were those of Dr. Alfred Blalock, co-developer of the operation. Eight pints of rare O-negative blood were required and four of them came from soldiers at near-by Fort Meade.

But the prime moving force behind the whole thing was made up of some 500 Americans who are with the 3rd Missile Battalion, 71st Artillery in Karlsruhe, Germany. They donated $2,500 for the operation and chipped in with townspeople to pay for the trip to Baltimore.

"I'm happy it's over," said Mrs. Sigrid Kaemmerer, 26, who flew here to be with her son. The boy's father, Wilhelm, 30, is a civilian dispatcher at the battalion's motor pool in Karlsruhe.

Continued with 8,965 shells in the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. today, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said. It added that the island's defenders hit back.

The Nationalists claimed destruction Wednesday of 15 Red guns, 12 emplacements and an observation post plus hitting a motor pool and setting 48 trucks afire.

Yugoslavia, India Arms Plan Cools

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—India and Yugoslavia ran into solid Western opposition today in their efforts to revive an already spurned Soviet proposal to set up an 81-nation disarmament commission.

The two perennial "neutralist" compromisers in East-West U.N. disputes asked participation of all U.N. members in an apparent effort to reconcile the two sides and get the disarmament talks started again. The talks have been stalled for the past year.

The resolution, put before the assembly's main political committee, calls for a full-membership meeting of the disarmament commission "as appropriate."

It also suggested that the new commission submit to the assembly, at a special session if necessary, "constructive" disarmament recommendations. Opposition by the United States, Britain, France and the other Western powers was expected to be as staunchly outspoken as it was last year when the proposal was sponsored by the Soviet Union.

Italian Pope Seen Choice Of Princes

Cardinal Agagianian Given Outside Chance In Election Saturday

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Vatican sources predicted today the conclave of cardinals would uphold a 436-year tradition and elect an Italian pope.

Russian-born Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian of Armenia was the only one of the 37 non-Italian cardinals believed to have any chance at all to be named at the conclave opening here Saturday. The main factor in his favor was his close association with the Roman Curia.

Five Italian cardinals were mentioned as the most likely to be named pope. They were: Benedetto Cardinal Aloisi Masella, who as camerlengo is head of the church during the present period of interregnum; Giacomo Cardinal Lercaro, archbishop of Bologna; Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini, archbishop of Palermo; Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli, patriarch of Venice; and Marcello Cardinal Mimmi, secretary of the Sacred Consistorial Congregation in the Roman Curia and archbishop of Naples.

Only Cardinal Lercaro, at 67, is under 70, but current speculation is that the cardinals' ages would not affect their being elected.

Detection Of Methane Gas In Mines Nears Solution

CHICAGO (UPI)—An official of the U.S. Bureau of Mines said today he was "convinced" the mining industry will soon solve the problem of detecting the killer-gas methane.

R. S. Jones, chief of the bureau's electrical-mechanical testing branch at Pittsburgh, told the annual convention of the National Safety Council that new methods for spotting the gas were "forthcoming."

Methane—an odorless, inflammable gas, formed by decomposition of organic matter—is usually the cause of mine explosions. Human sense organs cannot detect the gas.

Ike Credits GOP In Lift In Economy

Asserts Republican Victory Can Assure Even Greater Gains

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower credits his administration with helping to push personal income to a record high. And he says election of a Republican Congress is the best insurance for even greater prosperity.

Climaxing a cross-country campaign tour, the President told a nationwide television-radio audience Wednesday night the economy generally is booming — and that it wouldn't be if he had heeded the "counterfeit logic" and spendthrift tactics of which he accused the Democrats.

The Republicans, Eisenhower said, stemmed the business recession without the help of "a federal wheel chair" of pump priming through massive government spending.

The President, returning to Washington today for a brief respite from the campaign trail, addressed a cheering crowd of about 4,700 GOP workers.

He fired again at the Democrats but his speech was noticeably milder than those he made in California earlier this week. In that state he called the Democrats political radicals, left wing, and a party hopelessly split right down the middle.

In Chicago he used many of the same critical terms and left no doubt about whom he was talking, but he chose to use the word "Democrats" only once. That was when he appealed to Republicans, independents and like-minded Democrats to vote for a GOP Congress in the Nov. 4 elections.

Republicans Are Again On Defensive

WASHINGTON — The Republican attempt to make political capital out of the fluid situation in the Formosa Straits has now backfired.

The sudden shattering of the Quemoy cease-fire by Red China finds President Eisenhower and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon on the hustings leading a last-minute "peace and prosperity" drive to cut down the widely predicted Democratic gains November 4.

All the GOP speeches are having to be rewritten to the background music of the Red bombardment and the answering artillery of the Nationalist Chinese. It may well be the final piece of bad luck in what has been an ill-starred campaign from the start.

IT WILL BE difficult enough to find convincing things to say immediately. What is even more damaging is that the new confusions will again focus public attention on the underlying issue of the election, which is the quality of leadership offered today by the Eisenhower Administration.

It is even possible that it would be better for the President and Secretary of State John Foster

Dulles to return to Washington and put firm hands on the helm. Apparently they have decided, however, that the President shall continue to campaign and Dulles shall go on to Formosa.

YET NEWS dispatches from that troubled island suggest that the Communist action was a direct slap at Dulles. The Red order ending 15 days of quiet in the Formosa Straits noted the Secretary's impending arrival and accused him of interfering in internal Chinese affairs.

But even before Dulles took off from Washington, the Administration had staged its gamble that Red China would stand still while Republicans boasted that the President had outsmarted, outthought and outlasted the Reds and thus brought peace to Formosa.

The guns indeed were quiet, but the initiative remained the whole time with Peiping, and the Red Chinese are, if anything, even more unpredictable than their counterparts in the Kremlin.

THE ONLY power the United States has in the Far East is the power to wage war which might turn into universal war, and that it does not want to do, as everyone knows. But no one knows what the Chinese Reds are thinking; it has been admitted at the State Department that his country cannot even be sure why or how the cease-fire came about in the first place.

Meanwhile, Administration boasts were inevitably reaching Red China which, of course, cares nothing for the political necessities of either American party. Perhaps they did not influence the new outbreak; perhaps Peiping only decided that the Americans either would not or could not persuade Chiang Kai-shek to withdraw from the offshore islands so close to the China mainland.

POLITICAL impact at home remains the same — surprise, shock, confusion — with bulletins from the scene of action carrying the dismal potential of making all the campaign orators look foolish. But the Democrats can choose a certain silence now and let events speak for themselves; Republicans are again on the defensive.

Nixon Still Rates As Pro-Eisenhower

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — With a White House endorsement in his pocket for a "give-the-Democrats-hell" campaign, Vice President Nixon can still be labeled a 100 per cent pro-Eisenhower Republican.

Suspicious that Mr. Nixon might be steering a more independent course — farther to the right than the President's — have been cropping up from time to time.

Nixon's speech at the Harvard School of Business Administration may have started them. Here he advocated cuts on upper bracket income tax rates and imposition of a manufacturers' sales tax. Both are sacred principles with big business groups. Organized labor publications promptly jumped the V.P. for supporting such reactionary ideas.

NIXON'S initial campaign speech at Indianapolis first raised the theme that election of "a radical A.D.A." (Americans for Democratic Action) Congress would mean a flood of bills aimed at "nationalization of health, housing, power, farming and other American institutions" and the substitution of "government enterprise" for private enterprise in providing for the needs of the people.

This got translated into some extreme language in the statement which Republican leaders issued at the White House after a luncheon meeting with the President and vice president. It charged that "socialization of industry" would follow a Democratic victory, with everyone becoming pawns of a superstate, far to the left of New and Fair Deals.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower, disowned this language at his last press conference. It was attributed to the vice president. That built up the idea that Nixon was new pursuing a course to the right of the President's.

This statement, however, was not of the vice president's dictation or authorship. It was based on a draft prepared by the professional staff at GOP headquarters.

This text was changed considerably by the White House conferees. President Eisenhower is said to have had a number of looks at it and to have suggested changes.

HIS PRESS conference remarks calling the party policy declaration "their statement" — meaning the GOP leaders — was a surprise to people who worked on it.

Careful examination of all the Nixon campaign speech texts also fails to reveal any evidence that Nixon is shifting away from Eisenhower policies to that of alone.

Nixon is supporting Eisenhower policies on Lebanon, Formosa, Red China and the Soviet Union right to the last word. In fact, Nixon supported these policies harder than the President and Secretary of State Dulles did, until they both told him to go ahead and answer Democratic critics on foreign policy issues.

ON DOMESTIC issues, Nixon has stuck right by the President's program. "I can say with complete confidence," he declared at Los Angeles, "that if we continue the sound, progressive policies of our Republican administration in Washington, 1958 will be a good year and 1959 will be all odds the best year for the American people in the history of our economy."

Like the President, Nixon has refused to take a stand for or against the controversial right-to-work laws.

Nixon has likewise refused to take part in the campaign against Walter Reuther—a cause dear to the hearts of more conservative Republicans. In fact, at Huntington, W. Va., Nixon made a direct appeal for labor votes.

NIXON HAS also repudiated reactionary businessmen who have been supporting "screwball committees and pamphleteers" more than they support the Republican party. "It's a millstone around our neck," he said at Portland, Ore.

More than anything else, Nixon has been campaigning for Republican unity. "The Democrats can afford disorganization," he said at San Diego. "The Republicans can't."

And with those words the case that Nixon supports one wing of the GOP more than another seems to be destroyed.

MONEY PLANS—President Roosevelt concentrates on preparations for immediate initiation of his monetary plans, scheduling meetings at the White House preliminary to the setting of a price the government will pay for newly-minted gold, in proceeding to the administration goal of higher price levels and a managed currency.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—It was 101 in Los Angeles and 79 in New York the other day, and a lot of householders who flinch from paying fuel oil bills in the latter area were feeling cozy and lucky.

While sitting around a summery theatre alley with some rehearsing folk, we got to talking about climate, extremes of temperature and playing a game. Each was to write down on a piece of paper the coldest he or she ever had endured and the locale.

The winner was John Hazza with this: "Calgary, 60 below zero for 10 consecutive days, after which a chinook came along and drove it down to 67 below for 14 hours." Try that kind of weather on your fuel oil bills.

A LOT OF people lubricate cars and know nothing about them; a lot of people clean ties and know nothing about them. But not Stuart Bart, who turned a hobby into a mushrooming business.

Bart was a tie-cleaner, at home. He made a hobby of cleaning his own ties and in so doing perfected certain techniques. He started with a little place and now has more than 130 places, including his own and franchised agencies. And he knows the history of male neckwear.

He says the Elizabethan ruff, of 1560, probably was the first real piece of male neckwear. In 1636, a French regiment of soldiers, most of whom were of Croat origin, wrapped cloths around their necks to minimize sabre cuts. These became known as Cravats, from the origins of the Croat soldiers.

IN THE 18th Century the Paris dandies came out wearing jabots, which doubled or tripled, rather as neckwear, napkin and handkerchief. The stock came along about then, a sort of Ivy League variation of the jabot. It was not until the 19th Century that clip-on ties came along, and with them came the Ascot, named after the famed British race course.

Then came ties, as we know them today, with various knots such as Windsor, half-Windsor, plain four-in-hand and even frunkfurter.

Do you look back on your flamboyant ties of the late 30's or early 40's as strangely bizarre now? They were a direct result of the dropping of vests from men's attire. When suits came out without vests, men saw that their shirt fronts were very plain, indeed, and substituted wildly colorful neckties for the departed vests.

EASTERN men with pride in their attire, soon decided things were getting out of hand and shifted abruptly from wide, hand-painted vivid ties to narrow, dark, often one-color ties. But they fancied up the shirts both in color and trimming. Evening shirts today have lace fronts or embroidered fronts and daily wear shirts have color and design.

There is, indeed, one noted shirt manufacturer (the one who popularized the model with the eye-patch) who claims that "the loudest shirt you can wear in town is a plain white shirt." He has a point, but I never agreed with it.

It happened when a man, bound for a dinner party, dropped in for a drink and begged the privilege of taking eight moussettes to his hostess as a surprise gift. This led to a vogue.

In case you are plagued by wonder if this place is a direct descendant of the Paris restaurant of the same name which was a favorite with Napoleon, yes, it is. And the chief bartender (trust this reporter to explore that area) was a former choral singer with Ben Yost and other choirs and decided, as a matter of practical economics, to eschew concerts for making martinis.

DID YOU KNOW that teachers in schools near rocket bases, such as Alamogordo, White Sands, Cape Canaveral and similar locations, are hard put to it to keep informed well enough to maintain their self-respect in relation to their six-year-old pupils who know everything about missiles, rockets, orbits and so on? Fact.

Many teachers are taking night courses via lectures by rocket scientists, who realize the plight of the teachers.

Which reminds me of the story of the six-year-old who showed up in an Iowa school and the teacher, after getting his name, asked if he had been in school before. "Yes, ma'am," he said. What school had he attended? "Cape Canaveral, ma'am." What had he learned? "Well, to count and being asked to count, said: 'Ten-Nine-Eight-Seven-Six-Five-Four-Three-Two-One-Oh, heck!'"

25 Years Make Difference

WASHINGTON — The 25th anniversary of repeal rapidly is approaching and all I can say is that a lot of booze has gone down the hatch since that cold night in 1933 when the management sent me out to check on how legal drinking worked.

I set up my observation post first in Child's restaurant (now a parking lot) on Pennsylvania Ave. and I never shall forget how webby some of the customers got at prices lower than they'll ever pay again. Trouble was that bartenders all had died out. Child's had to settle for a gent who said frankly that he was a soda jerk.

WHEN HE GOT his first order for brandy he hauled down one of the large snifters on the back bar and filled it to the brim with French cognac. When the customers sighted that, the restaurant soon ran out of brandy.

Some of the drinking liquor in those early days was simply terrible, though I do remember a tolerable grade of Scotch that sold here for $2.20 a fifth. The more horrid concoctions eventually went off the market, but some of the brands then sold still have such unpleasant memories that I doubt they ever can be revived again.

TODAY IT IS almost impossible to buy a legitimate brand of whisky that'll make you sick — if taken in moderation — or that even has a burnish flavor. And yet Americans seem to be drinking less than ever.

I'll not bore you with many statistics, but 10 years ago a survey indicated that 57 percent of adult Americans sometimes poured themselves a small snort. As of now the folks who admit event to taking an occasional drink are down to 45 percent of the population.

I'D THINK, myself, the dries would take this as a good sign and let nature (coupled with high taxes and higher prices) take its course. They are campaigning against the demon rum harder than before, however, and I'm not the man to ridicule them. The ladies of the WCTU and the members of the Board of Temperance are truly good citizens and I've come to respect them, even though I still believe they are mistaken.

Some of them are my good friends and in another couple of months I'll be seeing them again when they make their annual appearance before Congress in hope of suppressing liquor advertising.

In the past, incidentally, they held up the Saturday Evening Post as a shining example of a publication that needed no whisky ads to succeed. What they'll do now, since the Post is extolling in its pages the virtues of a wide variety of schnapps, I don't know.

ONLY DRY states left are Mississippi and Oklahoma and, as it happens, I know something about those. Along the Gulf coast of teetotaling Mississippi I don't believe I've ever seen so many wideopen saloons per mile. Outside Biloxi I dined for the first time in my life in a restaurant which advertised the first Martini free with dinner.

Nor have I ever had trouble getting a drink in Oklahoma. My late father, who lived his last years in Henryetta, claimed that prohibition to him was a boon. He drank occasionally from a bottle of bonded Bourbon and he said that a phone call whenever he ran out brought another jug at a reasonable price to his front door.

THE LEGAL liquor distillers insist that, as of now, more moonshine actually is being consumed than tax-paid whisky. This is impossible to confirm, but I will report that I met a respectable, elderly lady from Georgia, who had in her suitcase a bottle of white mule. I sampled it and it was as bad as I remember it from 25 years ago, but she said she liked the flavor.

(United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

ANOTHER BREWERY—Machinery for a brewery at Lonaconing is ordered, the plant to be located in the ice company plant recently opened there. The industry is booming as Frostburg has a new brewery, and reports are that one is contemplated at Piedmont.

HOSPITAL EXPANDS—The board of the Home and Infirmary of Western Maryland announces plans to add an extension to the wing of the local hospital. The addition will house the nurses, culinary department and other of the hospital business. The addition of a sun parlor is also anticipated as soon as money is available, possibly early in the spring.

WILMINGTON, Del. — Former President Truman, in accusing Nixon of using "verbal garbage" in his campaign speeches: "A sound government to the Republicans is the kind of government in which the president makes nice sounds while the vice president snarls."

Hal Boyle

Reporter's Notebook

EDITOR'S NOTE: So far as we know, this is not Donald Crisp. Crisp, it is purely coincidental that both Phyllis Battelle and Hal Boyle should have devoted their columns to this veteran movie actor today.

NEW YORK—"Give the best you can," said Donald Crisp. "Whatever you do, do it thoroughly and all out for whatever wages you get. That is the oatmeal and groats of living."

At 78, Crisp, filmdom's "Old Reliable," doesn't have to worry where his next bowl of oatmeal is coming from. In his 33-year career he has been everything from a prop boy to a financial prop of the motion picture industry, and today he is rated one of Hollywood's wealthier figures.

Some 374 performances before the camera—the latest as the cardinal in John Ford's new Columbia release, "The Last Hurrah"—have stamped Crisp as one of the greatest and best-loved movie character actors. He won an Oscar in "How Green Was My Valley."

But the public tends to forget that Crisp also was a pretty fine director. Among the 100 films he directed was "The Mark of Zorro" with Douglas Fairbanks, and "Svengali," with John Barrymore.

"THE BEST MOVE I ever made was to stop directing back in 1929," said Crisp cheerfully. "At that time everybody was trying to get into pictures—not only the banker, but the banker's daughter."

Crisp, a bank director himself, has always been a canny man with a buck and helped arrange the financing of many pictures over the years.

Born in Scotland, he fought in the Boer War, then saved for more than five years to earn his passage to America in 1906.

"The day I arrived I deposited $53 in a New York bank," he remarked, "and it's still there."

One of his first acting chores was in the 1908 release of "The French Maid," made by the Biograph-Mutoscope Company.

A Hollywood pioneer from the start, he loves to recall the early days. . . . When he loaned Cecil B. de Mille his first camera. . . . When he played Gen. Grant in D. W. Griffith's "Birth of a Nation."

"I broke with Griffith because he refused to give me film credit for directing the battle scenes in that picture."

"It cost $61,000 to make the film, and I helped convince William H. Clune, a Los Angeles theater owner, to put up $43,000 of it. His estate later took out more than nine million dollars from that one picture."

LOOKING BACK across the years, Crisp believes George Arliss was the most fascinating character he ever met.

"He had an old-school polish, a charm that now belongs to a forgotten world," he said.

"As a man grows older he finds it harder to accept the new world that springs up around him. Perhaps it is because he still likes to do things the way he was taught."

"But there's one thing we had in the old days that we may lack now—the willingness to try anything. Now there is something wrong."

"We have time now to make all the mistakes we need, even time to teach an actress how to dress. But sometimes it all seems too manufactured."

"But my philosophy is that we're all kin, yet don't see the same, and that makes the world. You must learn tolerance for the other person's view."

Crisp has had considerable tragedy in his life. He lost two sons in World War fighting, and the death of his wife left him lonely.

Now in his still-vigorous age he is comforted by these lines from a hymn he first sang as a choir boy at ten:

"We plow the fields and scatter the seed, He paints the clouds and lights the evening star."

Assignment America

NEW YORK—Not long ago in a remote area of Scotland, the elder sister of elder movie statesman Donald Crisp was approached by a visiting parson.

"What iver became," inquired the preacher, "of your wee brother Donald?"

"Donald?" said she. "Oh, he went into the clownin' business."

Memories are long in the Scottish hills. It was 32 years ago that Donald Crisp went into the clowning business.

He has by now become an historic figure in the American movie industry. Not only was he in the first silent film ever made, he was featured in the hand-cranked, penny-in-the-slot "mutoscopes" before that.

"But in Scotland the spirit is blithe, and they remember the good things as if they happened just yesterday," Mr. Crisp, still the most straight-spined and distinguished actor of his day at the age of 78, smiled wistfully.

"I SUPPOSE I might be considered quite an antique. I came here in 1906, after serving in the Boer war. The only job I could get at first was in a mutoscope called 'The French Maid.' In those days the Nickleodeon film was considered about as honorable as peddling dope. I'll never forget an acquaintance meeting me on the street and remarking, 'I understand that you are a filthy movie . . .'"

Then came "Birth of a Nation," followed by 376 other movies. He acted, wrote, directed and/or produced some of the greats of Hollywood, still making one distinguished movie a year the latest, "The Last Hurrah," and thinking now, when he sees himself on screen:

"Look at that old, old man. Why doesn't he sit back and give up?"

THERE IS something vaguely sad in the manner of Donald Crisp, although he still has a keen mind and the familiar gentle demeanor moviegoers have delighted in for a half-century. He confesses to being a lonesome man.

"I lost my good wife, playwright Jane Murphy this summer and my two boys were killed in the war, so I'm quite alone," he says matter-of-factly. He has no long-standing friends left, except Edmund Gwenn, who is critically ill. "They're all gone. Not moved away. Gone."

"That's why I'm here in New York, and on my way to British Columbia for some salmon fishing. It's something to do."

"Today in the movies anything sentimental is called maudlin. Anything sweet is called corny. It comes under the heading of progress—and I think it's wrong. You can throw out mother love and burn up Peter Pan."

"Obviously, I must have lived too long."

(United Press International)

Worthy Exploit

FOR MANY YEARS we have had to depend upon fragmentary reports of life in Red China, mostly from untrained observers. To know so little of the world's most populous country has been a severe handicap. But now the barrier of ignorance has been broken, thanks to one of the most superb exploits in American journalism in many years. For the first time in the nearly ten years of Red China's existence, a U. S. reporter of great experience as a foreign observer and with a broad background in agriculture and other economic fields has gained entry to bring us a report that is at once comprehensive in extent and massive in detail. The man is John Strohm, whose penetrating conclusions and rich documentation have been made available to America and the West in a six-part series by NEA Service.

MERELY TO GET INTO, through and out of Red China called for courage, ingenuity and high resourcefulness, all of which Strohm displayed. Yet he could have shown these attributes and still returned with a thin, shallow, narrow-gauge report. The big news is that his reporting matched his nerve. He has given us an astonishingly full portrait of the Communist Chinese. The picture is one of a teeming nation being whipped by hate of America and countless other psychological pressures into a frenzy of effort aimed at industrializing and communizing 650 million people in record time. Strohm, who has twice had Russia in long and careful firsthand focus, says Red China's communizing pace far outstrips the Soviet Union's. The backyard blast furnace, productive of mere droplets of iron by comparison with great mill furnaces, is the ever-present symbol of the Communist attempt to give a broad industrial footing to this vast peasant land. Strohm acknowledges that partly as result of this immense labor and partly as a spur to greater effort, the Peiping government has done much to make over the face of China, cleaning it up, injecting an "honor system" into many money dealings, improving housing and other living conditions.

BUT THE EVIDENT truth is this: Red China's industrial output is still but a trickle when set beside the world's industrial giants. Most of its labor is still at the primitive level. And meantime Red China's population is spiraling toward a frightening one billion estimated for the early 1980's. The Chinese are already scratching the earth frantically for every edible shoot. The task ahead is monumental. And what Strohm's report strikes you with above all is that to achieve even this much has cost the Chinese a staggering and tragic price: their minds and their spirits have been tightly harnessed to the ruthless purposes of China's Red dictators. The slave stamp is being branded upon the world's most numerous people. Even more tragic is that the weapon of hate used by Peiping fires them into a militant mood which could make them ready to accept a world war that all the rest of the world, including Russia, realizes could be a total disaster for humanity.

Confusion

IN CONNECTION with the firing of the moon rocket, the Air Force has admitted a blunder which some quarters have termed "historic." About 90 minutes after launching, the press was informed proudly that the lunar rocket was "the first man-made object to escape the earth's gravitational field." It wasn't. Furthermore, it was never intended to do such a thing. Without going into the mathematics, it was going too slowly. Now most people will have to read the above words slowly to understand the mistake. And many won't understand it at all. Yet, it was an untruth—a blunder though it may have been called "historic." To the very thoughtful, the implications bring a slight chill. This was a mere misunderstanding, somewhere, of some rudimentary science. But what is going to happen in the future when (1) scientists in government are talking in really tough mathematical equations, (2) being interpreted by writers who need translators, at their elbow, and (3) being read by a public which we know can't all be graduates of engineering colleges?

THE UNITED States has assured its allies it will go to war if necessary. Question among Communist leaders: How far is it from here to "necessary"?

Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Koontz Mark 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Koontz, Braddock Farms, LaVale, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary October 5, with a family dinner and open house.

Mrs. Koontz is the former Miss Arveta Davis, daughter of the late Mrs. Sarah and Charles Davis Bayard. Mr. Koontz is the son of Mary and Samuel Koontz, of Orsina, Pa.

The couple was married in Bayard October 3, 1928, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shaffer, with Rev. Grover Poole, minister of Bayard United Brethren Evangelical Church, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Koontz are the parents of two daughters, Evelyn Rae, a student at Allegany High School, and Mrs. Eleanor Albright, Fayette Street.

Approximately 200 friends and relatives attended the open house many from out-of-town.

New Officers Elected By Homemakers

Election of two officers, reports and a program featured the monthly meeting of the LaVale Homemakers Club, held at the fire hall, Mrs. Dudley Browne was elected vice president and Mrs. J. Wesley Litter, back, secretary. They will be installed in December.

Mrs. Ernest Screen reported 11 members exhibited in the fair and ribbons were awarded to Mrs. Fred A. Gates Jr., Mrs. Screen, Mrs. O. M. Marquis, Mrs. Carl Belt, Mrs. Cromwell Zembower, Mrs. John Beckman and Mrs. Homer Carlton. The club received $15 for its demonstration on "Easy Candy." Mrs. Carlton is fair chairman.

A reading in memory of Mrs. Virgil Hartsock, a deceased charter member, was given by Mrs. Cromwell Zembower, who presided at the business session, which opened with the flag salute and collect read by Mrs. John Beckman. The history of the hymn, "O Jesus Thou Art Standing," was given by Mrs. Fairy Wheeler. Mrs. Charles Long led the singing. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Thomas Gifford and Mrs. Vernon Cost. Miss Mary Brengle reported 12 books read during the month. A clothing report was given by Mrs. T. E. Williamson. Mrs. John Mace gave a report and showed corner shelves she made at the carpenter's workshop. Roll call was answered with favorite TV shows. Preceding the meeting Mrs. Bertha Simpson held a bake sale for the nutrition committee.

The program consisted of a film, demonstrating the difference between the use of hard and soft water, shown by Roy Collins, a representative of the Crystal Laundry, T/Sgt. Joseph P. Hodge of the Ground Observer Corps, Air Defense Command, Canton Filter Center, representing William Barger, county CD director, showed a film on Civil Defense produced in Allegany County. Several members of the LaVale club were in the film.

A birthday party will be held in conjunction with the meeting of the Navy Mothers Club tomorrow evening. It will be at the American Legion Home, at which time those with birthdays in July and August will be entertained by those with birthdays in September and October.

Water Damages Wheeling Store

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI)—Officials of the Bertschy Furniture Co. said today that two breaks in the store's sprinkler system Tuesday caused an estimated $25,000 in damages.

A cap on a check valve blew off shortly after noon and poured almost two feet of water on the basement floor. Some four hours later, a pipe ruptured on the fourth floor, allowing water to seep down to both the third and second floors.

Manager Elmer J. Lloyd said among the damaged merchandise were 250 mattresses stored in the basement.

Caution Said Necessary In Using Of New Drugs

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Science's efforts to dovetail the chemistry of drugs with the chemistry of the body have greatly increased the possibility of doctors doing unwitting harm with their medicines, according to Dr. Jesse D. Rising, associate professor of medicine and pharmacology at the University of Kansas.

Dr. Rising was speaking of "miracle drugs" which are scientifically designed to correct sickening errors in body chemistry. Often they do, but often they produce an unanticipated side effect which is worse than the original complaint.

It used to be, he continued, there were only two bad drug reactions. One was a toxic reaction—a poisoning. The other was an extreme sensitivity reaction.

New Reaction Group
"Recently a different group of reactions to medication has attracted attention, reactions that we cannot, in our present state of knowledge, place in either of these groups," he said. These reactions present the appearance of "actual disease states, mimicking diseases."

Why? How? In truth, science does not know. Therefore, in Rising's opinion, the physician "must always bear in mind that even good medicine is at best the lesser of two evils."

"The thoughtful physician will use drugs with the full realization that in doing so he is taking a calculated risk, weighing the chances for cure or relief against the ever-present possibility that harm will be done. He will not lightly prescribe medications, but will exert every effort to understand the sites and mechanisms of the actions of drugs and the harmful effects that may result from their use."

Caution Is Necessary

"Caution is especially necessary in the use of newer drugs. This is not to say that one should stubbornly deny his patients the benefits of medications that are not fully understood. One should, however, recognize the gaps in his knowledge. Scientists inevitably accumulate facts faster than understanding. One of our obligations is to realize this and exert our individual and collective efforts to advance understanding."

Dr. Rising was addressing physicians in general in the technical journal, "Postgraduate Medicine." Doctors, he said, "must produce miracles without mischief." He granted it was "a super-human task" but pointed out that people in general expected "superhuman powers" of doctors.

Experimentations will continue; too high, that human beings are not sacrificed unnecessarily. More, "miracles will follow one another at an increasing rate." More newspapers are purchased every day than all the matchbooks given away free. But doctors must see to it that the price of this progress is not too high.

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The political activities of Big Labor in Michigan are financed by a six-cents-per-month levy on AFL-CIO members. This gentle head-tax on Michigan union members raises about $500,000 in good times but will gather in only $300,000 in this year of Michigan recession and unemployment. The fund supports all activities of the Michigan AFL-CIO.

Even so, the end political result of this levy on union members should arouse the envy of Republican campaign fund raisers, perhaps causing them to wish they could lay a head tax on even a nickel a month on somebody. They cannot do that. Neither can the heads of the great corporations lay a head tax of even one cent per month on their stockholders or employees, a device which, if feasible, would raise funds beyond belief to be available for expenditure for purposes of political education.

Accuse Reuther

The Republicans and some of the managers of the great corporations are accusing Big Labor of having politically kidnapped the state of Michigan. Specifically, they charge the kidnapper was Walter P. Reuther. The man in charge of Big Labor politics in Michigan, however, is August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO Council. Scholle has Reuther's active support, of course, else he could not be so sure of collecting that head tax.

In response to questions from United Press International, Scholle said that only about $60,000 of the $300,000 the head tax will raise this year could be cited as political expenditures. His phrase was "for educational expenditures in the political field."

This sum is spent, Scholle said, mainly for printing circulars although occasionally the council, by agreement, will permit a political candidate to have something printed and the council will pay the bill. This, instead of ordering the printing on its own. Scholle estimates about $10,000

The AFL-CIO Council received about $14,000 this year, according to Scholle, from the international union treasury. This money, he said, was contributed voluntarily by union members and has been contributed to the campaign funds

Man Charged With Murder In Shooting Of His Son

LOGAN, W. Va. (UPI)—A 54-year-old Logan County father of 10 children was awaiting grand jury action today in connection with the shotgun slaying of his 24-year-old son.

Robert Bryant Sr. of nearby Crawley Creek was charged Wednesday with murder in the death of his son, Robert J.R. Bryant, admitted to Magistrate Carson Browning that he shot his son, but said he did not know the youth had died when he made the statement.

Bryant said the son came home drunk Tuesday night and began to beat members of the family. He said he tried unsuccessfully to stop the youth, and was chased from the home along with other members of the family.

The father said Robert Jr. began pelting the group with rocks and he asked the boy to stop. The pelling continued, Bryant said and he shot the son with a 12 gauge shotgun after warning him again to stop "throwing the rocks."

Mrs. Bryant supplied the gun. During the hearing the father exhibited bruises which he said were inflicted by the son. Bond was set at $1,000.

Some 24 hours earlier Virgil Parsley, 49, apparently went berserk and killed his two-year-old son and his wife with a pistol, Logan County Prosecutor Claude Joyce indicated that Parsley would be sent to a state hospital for mental tests before he is arraigned on murder charges.

EMPIRE LOOK — Model Carol Filer seems to wear the ultimate "empire look"—candlesticks on her hair at a London fashion show. Actually, she was standing in front of a chandelier when the photo was taken.

Japanese Housekeeping Differs But Budget Woe Same As That In U. S.

By GAY PAULEY

TOKYO (UPI)—The method of keeping house differs but the problem of keeping the budget is the same for the homemaker here as in the United States — making income balance outgo.

I was a guest for tea in the home of Mrs. Takeshi Nakagawa, whose husband is an executive of the Meiji Confectioners (crackers, candy, gum, etc.) but whose income compares pretty closely with that of our middle-income group in the United States.

Mrs. Nakagawa, who has three grown children, all single, consented to have her husband's income and the family spending habits discussed, although most Japanese households consider these things their own business.

Her husband earns between 80,000 and 100,000 yen a month, or about $225 to $275. Out of this come food, clothing, utilities, upkeep of one Japanese-made car, and cost of sending the two younger children — a son, Hironobu, 20, and a daughter, Kikuko, 18, to Hosen University. The older daughter, Kayoko, 22, already is through college and working as a stewardess for Japan Air Lines.

Does Kayoko contribute to the family budget? "Not a cent," said Mrs. Nakagawa. But the small, plump woman said it with great good humor, and added: "She says she is saving for a fancy trousseau."

Own Their Home. Mrs. Nakagawa knows only a few words of English. I'm in the same boat with Japanese, so her bi-lingual daughter translated for us.

The Nakagawa family owns its own home, a modest six-room house — set in a small, enclosed garden on the outskirts of Tokyo. It has kitchen, living room and dining room combination, three bedrooms and one bath.

The furnishings were Western-style to the extent that the living area had sofa and chairs, the dining area was equipped with table and chairs comparable to sets of stainless steel or aluminum in the states; the kitchen had a refrigerator, electric iron, gas range, washing machine, and sink with cold water tap only. Most Japanese homes are without running hot water.

But typically Japanese was the open, airy look of the house—no standard type doors, but instead a scrim-like fabric separating kitchen from dining area, bedrooms from living area.

Bathing Procedure Described. It was explained to me that only one bath was needed, because Japanese style bathing is different from Western. Japanese don't use soap in the tub; they soap the body and rinse before entering the bath. The head of the house has first priority on the tub, then the wife, then the eldest child, and so on down, all using the same water. The bath water is changed daily.

Grocery shopping is a matter of American-style "togetherness." She and her husband make a weekly trip downtown to a supermarket for most of the supplies.

The monthly food bill averages 10,000 yen per person (about $28), "including rice." Electricity averages 3,000 yen a month. Gas, 4,000; water, 230, because the Nakagawas have their own well, plus the city supply, the telephone, 3,000.

The only installment plan buying was the family car, she said. "But," she laughed, "there never seems to be a surplus. We always are in the red."

It has been estimated there are 2,796 separate languages, plus dialects, in the world.

Mayor Of French Town Fired For His Idleness

VALENCE, France (UPI)—Mayor Rene Arnoux of nearby Urie was fired by the town council for "administrative idleness." A council spokesman said Arnoux hadn't done any official paperwork in months.

Economic Mission Arrives

CAIRO (UPI)—An advance party of a French economic mission arrived by plane Tuesday night for talks with the United Arab Republic on trade and the question of French property.

The U. S. Military Academy at West Point was established in 1802.

'Gateways' On TV To Examine Human Senses

NEW YORK (AP)—"Gateways to the Mind," first in the season's Bell System science series visible on the home screen tonight, is an interesting examination of the human senses.

A preview last week of the filmed NBC-TV program revealed it as being of interest to any viewer willing to spend an hour in contemplation of how he communicates with the world about him.

Dr. Frank C. Baxter conducts the program, which relies heavily on animated drawings and a rather self-conscious stage organization. The intent of this program is highly commendable, for it swims bravely against the escape entertainment trend.

Nevertheless, I found myself vaguely annoyed by some of the cuteness and coy dialogue that flabbily padded the strong bones of the program. Dr. Baxter of the Foreign Ministry budget said Italy could not "fail to take note of the Arab awakening."

ing examination of illusions on the basis of experiments by Dr. Hadley Cantrill of Princeton.

Even more interesting is the examination of mental activity through sensory stimulation as demonstrated by Dr. Wilder Penfield of McGill University.

Personally, I wish the program started with its last quarter and went on from there. But apparently, on the basis of what my teacher friend told me, it's a good thing that it doesn't.

The first woman lawyer was licensed to practice law in the United States in the State of Iowa in 1869.

A secondary school teacher to whom I described the program told me that I'm all wet in my reaction. When you're presenting complex ideas to youthful minds—with whom, among others, the program wishes to communicate—you must constantly ease "the learning tensions" with a variety of visual and oral gimmicks, the teacher said.

The gateway to my mind was opened widest in the last quarter of the program when it reaches the razzle-dazzle stage of the human senses. There is an illuminating examination of illusions on the basis of experiments by Dr. Hadley Cantrill of Princeton. Even more interesting is the examination of mental activity through sensory stimulation as demonstrated by Dr. Wilder Penfield of McGill University. Personally, I wish the program started with its last quarter and went on from there. But apparently, on the basis of what my teacher friend told me, it's a good thing that it doesn't.

The first woman lawyer was licensed to practice law in the United States in the State of Iowa in 1869.

GOING OVERSEAS — Mrs. Elaine Martin, wife of C. F. Martin, will leave Saturday for Japan to join her husband who is stationed there with the Navy. They will be there for approximately 34 months. Mrs. Martin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Haines, Old Furnace Road. Martin is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Martin, 36 National Highway.

Fear Of Midnight Knock Goes In Soviet Union But Its Memory Lingers On

By ROY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The clammy fear of the midnight knock on the door is gone from the Soviet Union, but the memory lingers.

A few years ago the average Russian wouldn't dare talk to an American on the street. Today an American can't step out of Moscow's Metropol Hotel without being besieged by Russians asking for everything from chewing gum to Glenn Miller records.

A block or two farther away the more serious ones fall into step. They'll ask you for American magazines or shirts.

In the last several months some have even started offering to buy American dollars. Even under relaxed Soviet laws they are risking Siberia. Or—you never know—they may be just testing you out.

Many of the people who approach you just want to talk to a real, live American. They might even join you for lunch. Few will go beyond that.

Despite the Kremlin's protestations of peaceful coexistence and freedom for all, the people still have some of the feeling of the days when association with a foreigner was a crime.

"I think it's perfectly all right for us to meet now," one Russian told me, "but you never know. Things may change again."

"You never know," seems to be the present state of mind in Russia.

A few Russians visited our Moscow apartment. Some wanted to see badly they didn't care about the militiaman (Soviet policeman) who guarded our door and checked out visitors 24 hours a day. You never knew if they were bold, or had reason not to worry.

All of them wanted to read magazines, listen to records and talk about life in the United States, art, music and similar topics. Earlier this year Komsomolskaya Pravda, guardian of youthful Soviet morals, denounced some young Russians for such associations. I saw one of them a few months later. Her head had been shaved, she had been kicked out of the Komsomols, the party youth organization, and was having trouble finding a job.

The charge: spying Americans, immoral behavior and giving out information. Association with Americans, which the Kremlin has officially favored since Stalin's death, sometimes produces reverse results.

John Baker, a young American Embassy official, was declared persona non grata and expelled from the Soviet Union a few months after he started attending classes at Moscow University, and making friends.

That was called behavior unbecoming a diplomat. There was no other charge.

Some of the ordinary people talk with amazing frankness. They love their anecdotes, that amazing Russian safety valve that lets off steam with every turn of the party line.

One of the anecdotes describes the Communist type catechism Soviet children go through on entering the Pioneers, the kiddies' party organization.

"Who is your mother?" the boys are asked.

"The Communist party, for it takes care of all our needs," they answer ritually.

"And who is your father?"

"Nikita Sergeievich Khrushchev."

"And what do you want to be when you grow up?"

One aspires to be a factory manager, another a scientist, the third a football star.

Comes the turn of little Ivan. He too says: the party is his mother and Khrushchev his father.

And what does he want to be? "An orphan," he replies.

The Kremlin is launched on a tightrope. When Khrushchev denounced Stalin 2½ years ago, he said, in effect: Let a little freedom grow.

A little freedom has a way of burgeoning.

In the last two years the little freedoms that the Russians won have been burgeoning only to be batted down again. So far they haven't been batted down to the level of Stalin's day.

School Sets Talent Show For Friday

Columbia Street School will sponsor a talent show tomorrow evening at the school.

The talent show will consist of a song and dance by Brenda La Fon, Susan Ransom, Debbie Carson and Debbie Drew. Barbara Hankins will sing and Darlene Meagher will present a tap and acrobatic dance.

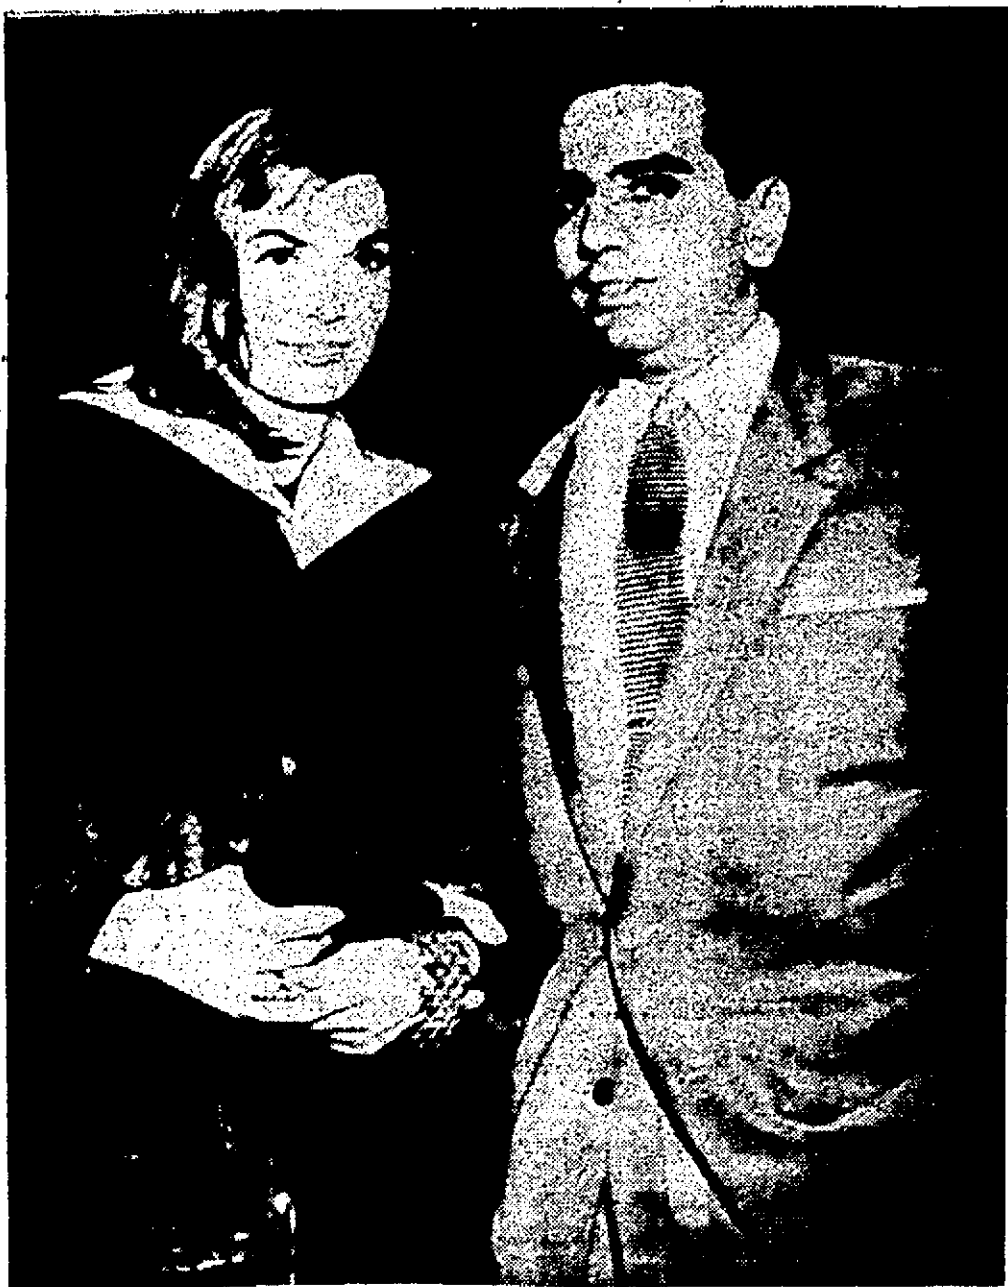

Donna Thomas and Linda Zegles will sing a duet and Ellen Hoban, Marjorie Hobrock, Donna Stouffer and Barbara Billard will perform a dance number. A solo song number will be given by Mary Jo Bedinger and Rebecca Gormer and Ginger Harden will dance.

Other numbers will include a song and dance routine by Francie Hughes and a tap dance by Rebecca Minnick. Sandra and Pamela Zegles also will present a song and dance. William Deremer, James Carson, Walter Rorick and James Rapson will give a pantomime and Carolyn Morris perform a tap dance.

The final numbers on the program will be a song number by Donna Park and Jane Myers, a tap dance by Linda Keolker and a song by Diana Morion.

Bullet Breaks Up Movie Love Scene

MOAB, Utah (UPI) — A stray rifle bullet, apparently fired by a deer hunter, missed hitting movie stars Henry Fonda and Dolores Michaels by only seven feet Wednesday, officials of Twentieth-Century Fox Studios said. The stars were filming love scenes for a movie along the Colorado River when the bullet lodged in a tree.

Geiger Named As Deputy Of KC Council

Lawrence E. Geiger of 804 Tampley Street, was elected deputy grand knight of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, during a special election at the council home Tuesday night.

Geiger, who held the post of chancellor, will fill the vacancy created when George Callahan moved to Florida.

Elected to the office of chancellor was John J. Rorick who had been warden. Edward Lyons was elected warden.

During the meeting it was decided to hold the annual memorial service at 2 p. m. Sunday, November 16, in the council chamber. At that time members of the council who have died in the past year will be eulogized.

Joseph Soethe is grand knight of the local council.

everything you touch is new.

See the 1959 DeSoto and you'll feel an urge to ease behind the wheel and drive it. This car glows with newness . . . in its beauty and in the surprising ease of its riding and handling. Touch a push-button and feel the instant response of a mighty Turboflash V-8 engine. Feel the steadiness of De Soto's new Level-Cruise Ride—smooth, pillow-soft, safe. Swing easily in and out of the car on De Soto's new Sports Swivel Seats. See the 1959 DeSoto at your dealer's.

NEW ADVENTURER ENGINE. Now optional on any DeSoto. Its fabulous dual 4-barrel carburetors and high-lift cams give you all the power you'll ever want or need.

NEW LEVEL-CRUISE RIDE adds optional load-leveling rear air cushions to improved torsion-type suspension. It gives you the smoothest, safest ride on the road.

NEW FASHION-VOGUE INTERIORS. You get more headroom, leg room and more visibility. Handsome coachwork in easy-to-clean rayon fabrics and long-wearing vinyl.

NEW SPORTS SWIVEL SEATS. Simply touch a lever and your half of the front seat swings easily out. Enter, and it gently swings you inside and locks automatically.

Youth Killed When Car Hits Utility Pole

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Norval L. Hooper, 16, of Prince Frederick, was killed last night when he and a companion were thrown from their car after it skidded on rain-slick U. S. 301 and sheared off a utility pole.

State Police said the car, apparently traveling at a high rate of speed, westbound on the highway, left the road about two miles east of here. The pole was cut at its base and both occupants were thrown 50 to 60 feet.

Hooper, the driver, was pronounced dead on the spot. His passenger, John W. Mohler, also 16, of Prince Frederick, was taken to Calvert County Hospital with a compound fracture of his left leg and

Dark Side Of Being Champion—Fear Of Faltering—Dogs Life Of Successful Criminal Lawyer

Editor's Note — He's one of the nation's foremost criminal lawyers and his success in defending such men as James Hoffa and Frank Costello has been extraordinary. But there's a dark side to being a champion—the fear of faltering.

By SAUL PETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward Bennett Williams, the spectacularly successful lawyer, is a tall, handsome man with curly brown hair and hazel eyes that reflect a weary sense of strain.

Both the success and the strain seem premature in a man only 38. But that look of nagging pressure is familiar. You remember seeing

The best surgeon in your home town had it. So did the best heart specialist. So did Rocky Marciano, and Jackie Gleason and Joe Di-Maggio when they were top men in their precincts. Ernest Hemingway reflects it when he speaks of a new Hemingway book as if the champ were coming back to defend his title.

This sad look of strain is the dark side of the moon, the other side of the champ, the scar of success. It is the curse of being the best or even one of the best. "It's a contest living," says Edward Bennett Williams, regarded by many as the country's top trial lawyer. "Each thing you do is measured only in terms of victory or defeat. If a man does a brilliant job and loses, people don't say he was brilliant. They say, 'he lost.' This is the price of reputation. My friend, Joe DiMaggio, and I ways felt it, whether there were 200 or 80,000 people in the stands.

He was expected to be his best. It's the same in law.

"You become successful, the papers build a legend about you and you're tempted to believe it. Now you're champ; now you must never lose. The thought of any single failure becomes immense.

"All the great ones in my profession who went down the drain went down because they couldn't lose; they began to cut corners. One ended up in the bottom of a whiskey barrel. Another wound up being tried himself. Still another ended in a sewer with needle marks on his arms."

Williams shrugged in his Ivy League suit. He drained his whiskey glass and lit another cigarette. "But you try to get some perspective. You have to. You've got to understand a new guy will come along and he'll do it better. This is a young man's game, like baseball. You can't let yourself believe your own publicity. It's like a narcotic—you lose touch with reality, you think you're invincible."

Williams, of course, is not invincible, but his batting average is high. He defended his friend, the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, in an income tax case and won him a rebate. He got a leftist screen writer, charged with contempt, off with a $150 fine. He defended Confidential magazine against a post office ban and won. He defended Lt. Aldo Jardi of the OSS in a perjury trial and won. He kept Frank Costello out of jail a year and saved him from deportation. He won Jimmy Hoffa an acquittal in a bribery case when the government looked like a cinch to win.

In trial work, Williams finds a creative challenge. He compares it to the work of a friend, a movie producer, with this difference: "I've got to make 12 jurors—100 per cent of my critics—like our case. My producer friend can get by with only 60 per cent of his critics on his side. And he's dealing only with dollars. I'm dealing with someone's liberty."

Williams was the government's star witness in its bribery case against Hoffa. The Teamsters boss had been charged with bribing Cheasty to get a job with and spy on the Senate Rackets Committee. Hoffa was arrested with committee documents on him and

The biggest weapon in a defense lawyer's arsenal is cross-examination. "The last art a trial lawyer acquires—the one that takes the most experience and the most ingenuity," Williams' basic rule in cross-examination is: "Never ask a question to which you don't already know the answer. You don't ask questions for information, but to demonstrate a point. The guy may spin you, but with enough information you can steer him back into the channel."

Thus, there was a prosecution witness named John Cheasty and Williams was hammering away at his credibility. Suddenly the defense lawyer's voice softened and, with what seemed like perfunctory interest, asked Cheasty about a telephone conversation he once had with his wife.

Q. What did you tell her? A. I told her I'd be in Canada and wouldn't be able to get home that night.

Q. What did she say? A. She wanted to know if I had taken up drinking again?

Cheasty was the government's star witness in its bribery case against Hoffa. The Teamsters boss had been charged with bribing Cheasty to get a job with and spy on the Senate Rackets Committee. Hoffa was arrested with committee documents on him and it looked like the government couldn't lose.

The case appeared such a cinch committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy vowed he'd jump off the capitol dome if Hoffa wriggled out of this one. Several weeks later Williams offered Kennedy a parachute. Hoffa again had wriggled free. How?

Williams' critics said it was because the defense attorney had exploited the fact that eight of the 12 jurors were Negroes. They said it was Williams who arranged for ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis to visit the trial several times and to chat with Hoffa, all in full view of the jury.

Williams denied this completely. He said he had nothing to do with Louis' appearances in the courtroom. He said he would never have considered such tactics because "any time you make a bald, crass appeal to a minority group, you alienate those with any intelligence."

It was his cross-examination of Cheasty, Williams insists, that won for Hoffa. For six days on the stand he stalked Cheasty, firing questions from every angle, draining every weak spot dry, booming his questions from the back of the court so that every juror could hear.

"I've done better cross-examinations," Williams said, "but my cross of Cheasty was good enough. He wins the big majority of his cases but he always runs scared. Like Frank Leahy when he was coaching football at Notre Dame. Says another lawyer: "Every time I meet Ed and ask him about his chances in any given case, he always says he doesn't have a prayer."

The whole question of a lawyer's batting average has been highly inflated, Williams points out. Assume you have 100 cases in which you normally can expect to win 50 and lose 50. How much difference does the lawyer make?

The best lawyer, Williams says, can be expected to win 60 and lose 40. The worst might lose 60 and win 40.

A native of Hartford, Conn., Williams is a graduate of Holy Cross and Georgetown Law School, where he later taught. His first five years of actual practice were spent with a large Washington firm defending ho-hum damage suits.

The danger of winning fame as a criminal lawyer is that the client's reputation may rub off on the attorney, in the public's mind. This, Williams calls "guilt by client."

"No one would say that Dr. Paul Dudley White was sympathetic to Marxism if he treated Eugene Dennis for a coronary disease," Williams once told a bar association. "But if one of us counsels Dennis on the defense of his liberty we are at once suspect." Williams admits it's not principle alone that prompts him to defend unpopular clients. He also likes the challenge, the excitement and the fees that frequently accompany the defense of the damned.

"With every client, I insist on three things in advance. I must have dictatorial control of the case; you can't try it by committee. The client must be completely candid with me. And, of course, we have to agree on economics. After all, I have a family to support."

The economics of the matter is said to bring Williams in the neighborhood of $200,000 annually.

THE IMPERIAL OF 1959

Today, America has a new measurement for excellence in motoring.

IMPERIAL FOR 1959... a car whose great dignity is matched by an eagerness of spirit.

A car whose new Royal Coach Body gives passengers more space... a car which makes available new front seats which swivel forward to make entry and exit easy and graceful.

IMPERIAL FOR 1959... a car which combines spectacular handling ease with a firm sense of absolute control... whose newly designed engine develops enormous power with fewer engine revolutions... so it need never race or raise its voice.

A car which can be equipped with Auto-Pilot to remind you of speed limits, and to maintain a steady turnpike pace, up hill and down, without so much as a touch of the accelerator.

A car that comes to you in all its carefully crafted excellence from America's newest automotive plant.

IMPERIAL FOR 1959... excellence without equal. A boastful statement? See it. Drive it. And then decide.

NEW RODEO QUEEN—Marilyn Lee Painter, a Pennsylvania State University coed from Pittsburgh, poses with her horse and wears her crown after she was named 1958 rodeo livestock queen at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show in Harrisburg. Rep. Hyde Defends His Voting Record

Only two of his votes in Congress, of federal aid, and he stressed that the state would have lost $2,000,000 by the deal. He said inquiries among federal and school authorities failed to bring out the name of one state which was incapable of solving its own school problem. The second item questioned Mr. Hyde said, was his vote against the Kennedy-Ives Bill. He said that when the bill came from the Senate to the House, Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) kept it in his pocket for 40 days and in the last few days of the session, referred it to the states. The plan, he said, would have cost Maryland taxpayers $7 millions to get $5 million down by a vote of 22-7. He explained the bill did not provide for proper nomination of officers of labor unions and failed to set up proper procedures for counting of ballots. Labor itself, he said, was confused. He cited the fact that he had early letters from unions asking support for the bill but that the same unions later reversed their stands. Estel C. Kelley, former member of the House of Delegates, spoke on behalf of the six Republican candidates for the House of Delegates. It is important to the people of Allegany County, he said, that the Delegation remains all Republican in order to avoid the possibility of partisan politics. Republican delegations, he said, have been able to work cooperatively for the people and no "harmony slogan" was needed to get the job accomplished. Simeon W. Green spoke on behalf of the Republican candidates for county commissioner. Mrs. Samuel Berry, whose late husband was a member of the Delegation, endorsed all state-wide Republican candidates.

Baltimore's Industrial Health Termed 'Good'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of articles on the business health of Maryland's communities. Today's article deals with the Baltimore metropolitan area, written for The Associated Press by Ralph Crosby, Baltimore News-Post Industrial Editor.

By RALPH CROSBY
News-Post Industrial Editor

BALTIMORE (AP)—The outlook for Baltimore commerce and industry this month was brighter, economic front are indicative of than any time during the year, the upward trend in business with major plants and businesses. The announced investment in reporting thousands of hirings and new industries and expansions for rehiring, millions of dollars in the first eight months of 1958 was new contracts and sales, and the $81,873,000, called "very healthy" report of a multi-million dollar by local economic experts. Some 43 million dollars in new building and expansion program for the metropolitan area, tracts for Baltimore shipbuilders. Recalls and new hirings in more are being processed for award by than a dozen major industries saw the U.S. Maritime Administration more than 2,000 workers back on. It was reported this week that the job in September, and work approximately $20 million in commercial projects are planned for the near future, and are expected Industrial employment in the to provide employment for up Baltimore metropolitan area was wards of 5,000 additional workers reported to be down some 10 per. The Federal Reserve Board recent from last year figure, but the ported that Baltimore department general "upswing" in business re-store sales were 7 per cent higher ported by local industrialists in, in the first two weeks of Septempected to bring it back to normal within several months.

And since the 1953 work-force as a whole was down only 3.1 per cent from the 1957 peak, it would take but a moderate upturn in the hiring rate to match last year's employment figures.

A quick look at the major advances on the Baltimore area economic front are indicative of the upward trend in business with major plants and businesses. The announced investment in reporting thousands of hirings and new industries and expansions for rehiring, millions of dollars in the first eight months of 1958 was new contracts and sales, and the $81,873,000, called "very healthy" report of a multi-million dollar by local economic experts.

Some 43 million dollars in new building and expansion program for the metropolitan area, tracts for Baltimore shipbuilders. Recalls and new hirings in more are being processed for award by than a dozen major industries saw the U.S. Maritime Administration more than 2,000 workers back on. It was reported this week that the job in September, and work approximately $20 million in commercial projects are planned for the near future, and are expected Industrial employment in the to provide employment for up Baltimore metropolitan area was wards of 5,000 additional workers reported to be down some 10 per. The Federal Reserve Board recent from last year figure, but the ported that Baltimore department general "upswing" in business re-store sales were 7 per cent higher ported by local industrialists in, in the first two weeks of September than for the same period last year and 4 per cent higher than sales in August. Department store sales have been steadily rising since February when they were 18 per cent behind last year's figure.

In the various industries the business report is almost unanimously "improving" or "steady." The automobile industry, perhaps the hardest hit in the recession; aircraft industries; and electric and electronic appliance manufacturers have shown the greatest recent growth.

Such local manufacturers as Bendix Radio and Western Electric reported plans for the recall of as many as 500 laid-off workers.

The Westinghouse Electric Co., for instance, announced "substantial" hiring in the near future as a result of $22 million worth of Navy contracts awarded to its electronics division in Baltimore.

The automotive industry will get a shot in the arm in mid-October when some 800 hourly rate employees will be added to the working force at two Baltimore divisions of General Motors.

Among the others is the Martin Co., which is creating a new space flight division to develop the nation's first piloted space ship, to be called "Dyna-Soar Aircraft." The contract means more employment.

Food and canning industries are in the midst of seasonal growth and are fully employed due to the bumper fruit and vegetable crop, remains steady.

Baltimore's giant steel industry

Shipbuilding, which saw as much as 50 per cent unemployment during the last year, shows a slight improvement this month, and has perhaps the brightest future of any local industry.

The 43 million dollars in contracts for shipbuilding will go to the Bethlehem - Sparrows Point shipyard and the Maryland Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. for the construction of four new vessels and the conversion of two others.

Maritime Administration calculations show that this construction will cause new and continued employment for more than 6,000 workers for a year.

The $84,873,000 investment in new and expanded industries includes two new plants in the Marley Neck area of nearby Anne Arundel County. The Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co. purchased 145 acres in the area on which they have started building a steel fabricating plant, and the Kennecott Copper Corp. is now erecting a plant on a 200-acre tract in the area.

Also in the expansion are two regional shopping centers which are almost complete. Metropolitan and suburban shopping centers continue to spring up and constitute one of the largest building programs of recent years.

The two centers slated to open next month are Westview, on Rt. 40 West, dominated by Hutzler Brothers Stores; and Harundale Mall, on Ritchie Highway near Glen Burnie, which is dominated by Hochschild, Kohn and Co.

Not included in this expansion figure is the largest single industrial project in the history of Maryland, which was completed this year by the Bethlehem Steel Co. at its Sparrows Point plant. The expansion involved an outlay of some $200 million, and it made Bethlehem's local plant the largest steel producing installation in the world.

Building construction as a whole is still down in Baltimore and nearby counties. For the first eight months of 1958 a total of 7,240 units went under construction at a cost of $43,763,450. This was some 6.2 per cent under the figure for the same period last year.

In nearby Baltimore County and the third, fourth and fifth districts of Anne Arundel County, the percentage of decrease in total value of construction for the two eight-month periods was approximately 8.5 and 15.3, respectively.

Without a doubt, new contracts, new construction, continually increasing sales, and new employment forecast for the Baltimore area makes the future the brightest spot in the business picture. That the so-called recession will disappear from Baltimore next year, speculation official, who says employment will jump "tremendously" in the first six months of 1959, is not far from the truth.

State's Hiring Drop Credited To Farm Work

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Department of Employment Security placed fewer persons in Maryland's non-farm jobs in September than in the previous month. Farms indirectly had a hand in it. Director Robert B. Kimble said the August to September drop was because of the tapering off in the food-processing industry as the growing season nears a close. Kimble's department placed 6,148 persons during September, compared with 6,670 during August and 3,817 for September a year ago. He attributed the increase over last year—only the second such boost this year—to a fine crop yield. Drought hit last year's crops.

Superintendent of Prisons James W. Curran made the statement yesterday in reference to criticism of Joseph W. Kaylor, director of Maryland's forest and parks. The proposal is for expansion of the prison camp in the center of Sandy Point State Park, the only State park operated on Chesapeake Bay. Kaylor had termed the move "inconsistent with good park practices" and said it threatens the entire park and recreation program in the state. Curran said Kaylor had approved the principle of the plan although disagreeing on the exact location within Sandy Point. The prison superintendent said Gov. McKeldin approved the plan at the same meeting that he and Kaylor attended, and it also has the support of the State Planning Commission and the Maryland Self-Survey Commission.

Veterans Reveal Little Support On Bonus Plan

DAMASCUS, Md. (AP)—Maryland's veterans organization indicated little support at a public hearing last night for the proposed veterans bonus. Several officers of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars indicated that 50 percent or less of their members supported the bonus on the basis of a informal polls. John O. Chilcote, state commander of the Legion, said the bonus as proposed would average $300 each for 300,000 eligible veterans in the state. The Legislative committee includes 15 members from the General Assembly, veterans organizations, and the public. It is due to report to the Legislature in December. This was the fifth of six scheduled hearings. The last will be in Cheverly next Tuesday. It takes 25,000 pounds of water to grow one pound of cotton. Brigham also proposed additional representation for veterans organizations and for counties not now represented on the Veterans Commission.

Four Accused In Barn Fire

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Four Carroll County juveniles, who set a fire as a Halloween prank that burned down a barn, have been charged with arson. The four charged yesterday in Juvenile Court, aged 16 and 17, were Louis William Shifflett, LeRoy Thomas Smily, Leo David Foreman and Claude Samuel Foreman, all of near Taneytown.

Truman And Nixon Have One Thing In Common

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Vice President Nixon, listening to background music at a GOP rally Wednesday, commented he liked it fine. "I used to play a mean piano myself," he added. "Just like Harry Truman," someone commented from the crowd. "And that's about the only thing we have in common," Nixon retorted.

Young Felon Faces Check In Girl Death

BALTIMORE (AP)—Police investigating the 1954 slaying of a 14-year-old girl will seek permission today to give a lie detector test to an inmate of the House of Correction. The young prisoner, serving an 18-month term for larceny, was questioned for three hours yesterday at the Jessup institution. Permission to take the prisoner from the House of Correction would have to be given by a judge. Capt. Frank J. Battaglia, Southwestern district commander, said he will confer with State's Atty. J. Harold Grady today about such a move. Another young man being held here was given a second lie detector test yesterday. After the first test, police had reported he showed a "strong reaction" to questions about the killing of Carolyn Wasilewski.

Board Notes Changes In Voting Places

The Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors has announced changes in polling places in Midland and Westernport.

Irvin Neat, clerk in the local office, said voters in District 18, Precincts One and Two, and in District 27 in Midland will vote in the Midland Elementary School auditorium.

Formerly they voted in the fire hall of that community. Some 851 eligible voters of Midland are being notified by mail.

In Westernport, District 8, Precinct Two polling place has been moved from Hammond Street School to the Campbell store-room, corner of Rock and Hammond streets.

Some 839 voters, who will be affected by the move, are being notified by mail, Neat said.

On October 27, 28 and 29 the 100 voting machines which will be used in the election will be distributed throughout the county.

Many of the mission churches in daily use in New Mexico today were built by Spanish friars prior to the year 1633.

Underwood Outlines Plans For Multi-Lane Road

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. Cecil H. Underwood said Wednesday the federal government had been asked to allocate additional interstate highway mileage to West Virginia for construction of a multi-lane road from Morgantown to Beckley.

Underwood said the State Road Commission already was at work on plans for a four-lane highway between Morgantown and Weston which would be designed to meet the interstate construction requirements.

The route would tie in with a similar highway being constructed in Pennsylvania linking Pittsburgh with the West Virginia border near Morgantown.

Underwood told a joint meeting of the U. S. Rts. 19 and 50 Assns. convening here that even without additional interstate allocation the SRC would undertake the Morgantown to Weston project.

Once preliminary studies are completed and approved by the federal Bureau of Public Roads the SRC will set up for work in two sections.

"One will be from Jane Lew near Weston to Quiet Dell, a 13-mile stretch," Underwood said. "The second section will include a new bridge at Benton's Ferry together with connections northward to Fairmont and southward to U. S. 250. . . approximately 8 miles."

The governor said improvement of U. S. 19 in Marion County between Tucker Crossing and White Rock Crossing is now under study.

Regarding U. S. 50, Underwood noted the State Road Commission has already entered into a contract with a St. Louis firm for a study report on improvements and necessary relocations of the highway from Parkersburg to the Virginia line.

The first section will be in Doddridge and Harrison counties from Sherwood through Salem and Wolf Summit to a connection with the Clarksburg expressway. Second section will be in Dodd-ridge County from Greenwood to St. Mary's street to carry U. S. 119, he said.

In the Morgantown area, Underwood said a new four-lane bridge is being designed to carry U. S. 119 across Cobun Creek, while in the Grafton area a project is being considered to re-place the present old bridge at total of $6,816,836.

Japanese Styles So Westernized Modern's Wardrobe Has Falsies Instead Of Kimonos

TOKYO (UPI) — Fashions in this city are so Westernized the young modern's wardrobe includes falsies instead of kimonos. Copying the Occident hasn't yet reached the stage where examples of the Jayne Mansfield may, one of Tokyo's largest department stores, the Japanese girl just ain't built that way. And centuries of wearing the binding obi-

Western dress from the movies and fashion magazines. "Before the war, it was considered almost indecent for a Japanese girl to wear falsies," said Miss Hiroko Nakamoto, of the store's import-export division. "Now there's no stigma. And the men have changed; they are interested."

Rie Haraguchi, the store's head designer, said skirts and sweaters, or blouses had ousted the kimono for everyday wear for a couple of reasons. One, Western dress is more comfortable for the cords to hold obi in place. But the Japanese girl can buy Western-style suit-plus accessories for around $40. One thing about the kimono—it doesn't get dated as some fashions from the West do.

Miss Haraguchi said the economy also is causing Japanese brides to buy Western styles instead of the traditional. A bride can get a United States-type gown for 15,000 to 20,000 yen—$40 to $55. But a bridal kimono, of the richest of silks, costs from 100,000 yen, or about $275. Pity the father of the bride who wants an old-fashioned wedding.

She will buy from three to four to three inches longer than in the of these kimonos, for the ancient ceremony, and for changes later. A costly silk head-dress also is her homeland. The sack never caught on, she said. "And few of us wear furs," she added. "In every country, every girl dreams of owning a mink. Here, every Tokyo's white collar girls, they-girl dreams of her first evening were skirt lengths mid-calf, two dress."

PTA To Hear School Nurse

Mrs. Helen Vogel, public health nurse, will be the speaker at a meeting of the LaVale School PTA today at 8 p. m.

Tonight's program also will include the annual membership drive, conducted by Mrs. Robert G. Garner.

Harold W. Green, president, has listed the appointment of chairmen of the various committees for the coming year.

They are Mrs. Henry Duke, ways and means; Mrs. William Wilson Jr., Mrs. Donald Paulman and Mrs. George Braggs, home room parents; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barb, safety; Mrs. Jerome Farber and Miss Nellie Powell, health; Mrs. Dayton Murphy, hospitality; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garner, membership; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Black, budget; and Mrs. C. M. Sanner, play ground; Paul Buchanan, building and grounds; Mrs. Donald Beynon, program; Mrs. Mary Twigg, publication; and Miss Nellie Powell, principal, faculty board advisor.

After the meeting refreshments will be served by fifth grade mothers.

Utilities Must Speed Up Repair Work On Streets

Utility companies were told yesterday by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland that when they tear up streets during repair work that their crews must work around the clock until the street is open to traffic.

The notice was contained in a letter sent yesterday to the Potomac Edison Company. Copies were being sent to the Gas Company, Telephone Company and to interested city departments and officials. It was signed by Mayor J. Edwin Keech for the Mayor and City Council.

The letter advised the firm that when the surface of any street is disturbed, crews will be required to work around the clock until traffic can use it.

Officials warned the city "certainly will not tolerate" any further inconvenience to the public and announced that corner of Baltimore and Mechanic streets Tuesday.

The letter said street work was started at approximately 8 a. m. and traffic was limited to one-way. The employees worked until 4:30 p. m. and "at the time of dictating of this letter had not resumed work."

"It is true," the letter said, "that it rained during the night of October 21 and during the morning of October 22," adding: "We do not want to seem unreasonable about this matter but there are no excuses for such action and the same cannot be tolerated by the city."

"If permits are granted, they will only be granted upon express condition that you comply with the terms of this letter."

Yesterday afternoon, Potomac Edison workers restored two-way traffic after fill was tamped in the excavation made to install a steam line.

A crew reported to the site about 8 p. m. last night and completed filling the excavation on the northerly half of the street.

The traffic officer on duty said he was told crews would work around-the-clock to extend the line to the southerly side.

A clay tablet was found in what is now Iraq, a tablet which was identified as being 35 centuries old. On it was inscribed: "You can have a lord, you can have a king, but the man to fear is the tax collector."

West Virginia Police Leader Blasts Paper

Charges Charleston Gazette Hides Under Editorial Immunity

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Police Supt. Hazen H. Fair took the unusual course Wednesday of replying directly to editorial criticism.

He accused the Charleston Gazette, a Democratic newspaper, of making "reckless, unsubstantiated and untruthful statements" in a "politically motivated editorial" under the "cloak of editorial immunity."

In a lengthy editorial in Wednesday's editions, the Gazette said that:

—Under Fair, the Department of Public Safety has not been "spared the shabbiness of manipulation or political interference."

—Fair ousted or had transferred officers who conducted gambling or liquor raids "without first getting clearance from the front office," especially a series of raids in the Moundsville area, Fair's hometown.

—The "public safety of the state is being endangered" because the department is "badly demoralized" and its members "afraid to show any initiative" because of Fair's actions.

—Fair is "an ex-sheriff and small-time politician," "Simply not the man for the job," and Gov. Cecil H. Underwood should ask for his resignation "before he makes even bigger blunders than he has already."

The superintendent's formal reply, handed to newsmen hours after the editorial appeared, said: "As to the politically motivated editorial and newspaper criticism of me personally and the Department of Public Safety concerning certain changes and reorganization within the department, I can only say that I was appointed by the governor and confirmed by the State Senate."

"Unless the editors of the Charleston Gazette have information to the contrary, I believe I am expected to direct the Department according to the laws and regulations in the best interest of the department and the people of West Virginia."

"This I intend to do. With the information available in the department files and the knowledge of personnel gained in the last year and a half, I believe I am capable of determining which officers, and troopers are qualified for promotion and transfer and retirement."

"I do not intend to be pressured into any action by reckless, unsubstantiated and untruthful statements delivered under the cloak of editorial immunity. I shall continue to discharge my duties to the state of West Virginia without fear or favor to the best of my ability."

State Health Board Files Appeal In County Case

The Maryland Court of Appeals has been asked by the State Health Department to order the town of Westernport to continue chlorinating its water at Savage River Dam.

Westernport, located near the junction of the Savage and Potomac rivers, has for years chlorinated its water at its Savage River source, about six miles from town.

The town recently constructed a filtration plant within the city limits, and town officials planned to chlorinate the water there.

State health officials sought an injunction against discontinuance of the dam chlorinator on grounds such action would create a "public health menace" for persons who tap into the transmission pipeline between the river and Westernport.

But Circuit Judge George Henderson found that "running unchlorinated water through a main" is not an unsafe procedure. He also indicated that Westernport could not be forced to sell water outside its corporate limits. The State Board of Health appealed from this ruling.

A total of 19 Garrett County families have purchased treated water from the pipeline for about 20 years. The transmission line also has supplied chlorinated water to the Bloomington Water Co., which services Bloomington, and the wood yard of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co., which employs about 75 persons.

Mayor Okey E. Michael of Westernport testified in Circuit Court that the town gave all these users adequate notice of its intention to stop chlorination at the dam and offered to continue supplying untreated water.

It was testified that the town of Bloomington has provided for its own chlorination system and the wood yard has arranged to do the same. Michael said receipts from the 19 individual users are about $240 per year, and the estimated annual cost of chlorination is $3,800. He said the town would continue to chlorinate at the dam, by digging wells or by installing the 19 families-paid the entire cost.

The state health officials claimed they have the power "to impose reasonable conditions on a municipality in supervising the chlorination of the water supply." They said they proved to the contemplated action of Westernport officials was prejudicial to the public health.

Earl Edmund Manges, attorney for Westernport, said supplying water to persons outside the city limits is beyond the town's authority, and the State Board of Health has no power to require the town to continue the practice.

Central Alarm Unit To Hold Meet Tonight

The central alarm committee of the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the LaVale Fire Hall.

The committee is headed by James Loar, LaVale, and includes Paul Haberlein, Frostburg; Harry DeHaven, Baltimore Pike; Elmer VanPelt, Tri-Towns; and Lawrence Smith, Flintstone.

Each volunteer fire company in Allegany County is urged to send a representative to the meeting, when an effort will be made to reach a definite conclusion on the proposal to establish a central fire alarm system.

Early this year, the Bowling Green volunteer company wrote to the bi-county association, citing the frequent false alarms and urging that the association consider the formation of the central alarm plan.

Under the proposal, fires in all sections of the county would be reported to Central Alarm headquarters, which could send the alarm for the unit or units needed to bring the blaze under control.

Francis Fatkin, president, said officials hope the alarm system can be financed through the Civil Defense agency.

Girl Scout Council Schedules Training Events

Several training events have been scheduled by the training committee of the Cumberland Girl Scout Council.

An art workshop for new and experienced leaders, troop committee members and program consultants will be held today at LaVale Methodist Church from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Theodore Foote, art supervisor for Allegany County public schools and a member of the Girl Scout board of directors, will conduct the workshops.

At the first session Foote will show and lead a discussion on the movie "Adventuring in the Arts," after which some craft work will be done by those attending.

The next two sessions will be on succeeding Thursdays at the same location. Interested persons may attend any of the three workshops.

The second session of the basic course for new leaders was held last night at Cresaptown Methodist Church. This session included flag ceremonies, interpretation of the Girl Scout promise and laws and a presentation and discussion of the outdoor phase of Scouting in preparation for a session to be held outdoors next week. Mrs. Ruby Adams is the trainer.

The fifth session of the basic leadership course for new leaders, being held at the Girl Scout House on Thursday mornings was devoted to program planning for Brownie and Intermediate age troops.

Mrs. Kathleen Kave, volunteer trainer in charge of the course conducted the session for Brownie leaders and Miss Olive Hurlburt, executive director, for intermediate troops. A session especially for leaders of senior scout troops will be held at a later date.

This weekend, Camp Tioga, the Cumberland Council Girl Scout Camp will be the scene of a two-day training period for leaders as a climax to the outdoor training course, in progress the past two weeks. The opening session at camp will be held Friday afternoon with tours of the campsite to explore possibilities for program activities; crafts, and campcraft skills.

Various types of cooking have been planned which will be done on outdoor fires. In addition to the aluminum foil, reflector oven, and bean hole cooking on Saturday, there will be games with the use of the compass, nature exploring, flag ceremonies, discussion groups and a "Scout's Own" program.

Consultants and trainers for the weekend will include Mrs. Aden Everstine, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Mrs. Z. F. Zimowski and Miss Olive Hurlburt.

The patrol system will be used throughout the weekend, with the following leaders serving as patrol leaders for this event: Mrs. Edward Milbrada, Mrs. Marcella House and Mrs. Kate Hartell.

Judge Bars Two From Resort For Assault On Cop

SNOW HILL, Md. (AP) — Two Baltimore men accused of assaulting police at Ocean City last Memorial Day won't be allowed to return to the resort city for five years.

Wicomico County Circuit Judge E. McMaster Duer also imposed five-year suspended sentences on Joseph W. Butts, 23, and Raymond M. Bartel, 24. The sentences were handed down yesterday after a jury convicted them of resisting arrest and assault.

The two men had appealed their case after Magistrate James B. Robins fined each $500 and costs and sentenced them to four months in jail.

Color Changed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Green trash cans in the downtown area here are being repainted gray. City officials said this should stop citizens from mistaking them for mail boxes.

McKeldin Likely To Get U. S. Post

BALTIMORE (AP) — Compliments and hints of job offers by Vice President Nixon did not go unnoticed by Gov. McKeldin, who will be out of a job come January.

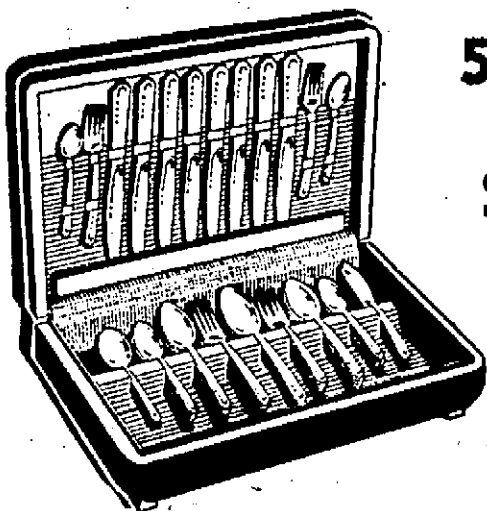

Nixon, in Maryland for a Republican Party rally, said Tuesday night that McKeldin is "one of the best vote-getters the Republican Party has," and indicated a federal post would be available when McKeldin leaves office.

The governor responded yesterday: "I have spent my whole life in public service. If it were felt by those in authority in federal service that my services could be useful, I could not in good conscience refuse."

Both Parties Turn Efforts To Baltimore

State's Largest City May Determine Outcome Of Races

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Republicans and Democrats turned their attention to populous Baltimore City today in last-ditch efforts to woo voters before the Nov. 4 general election.

The hopes of candidates from both parties rest with the voters of Baltimore, to large extent, because of the city's huge proportion of the total state vote.

Republican Sen. J. Glenn Beall hopes to hold down the normally heavy Democratic vote in the city. If his Democratic opponent, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, is held to a small majority or even defeated in the city, then Beall knows his chances of victory will be good.

Could Be Slim
But should D'Alesandro capture another large Democratic majority in a city which has elected him mayor three times, then Beall's chances of winning grow slimmer.

The Democratic candidates concentrated today on Baltimore's 2nd District. Tonight they will attend a United Democratic Women's banquet at a downtown hotel (Emerson). And later they will appear at the Young Men's Bohemian Democratic Club in the city.

The four statewide Democratic candidates are J. Millard Taves for governor, D'Alesandro, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert for reelection and State Sen. Louis S. Goldstein for comptroller.

Beall and his running mates also spent the day touring the city. However, James P. Devereux, candidate for governor, scheduled a brief afternoon speech to the Anne Arundel County League of Women Voters at Annapolis.

Double Lambasting
Beall and D'Alesandro spent a few minutes lambasting each other's records last night. They appeared together on a Baltimore television program (WMAR-TV). Beall said Baltimore's advertising tax, sponsored by the mayor's administration, was a "threat to our precious freedoms of speech and press." The law recently was declared unconstitutional by the State Court of Appeals.

The Republican senator also accused D'Alesandro of giving himself a 66 per cent salary boost, of depriving the city of 15 million dollars in payrolls because of his tax on manufacturers' inventories and of taking park property for a civic center when most people wanted it downtown.

D'Alesandro defended his record as mayor and said Beall "has never spoken on the floor of the Senate on any major issue—on any issue at all."

Both candidates expressed approval of federal aid for school construction.

John Lindner Elected By Beekeepers

John W. Lindner, this city, has been elected an officer of the Maryland State Beekeepers Association.

Lindner will serve as a vice president of the organization, representing Western Maryland. The officers were elected at the association's convention last weekend at College Park.

Other officers are James Marsh, University Park, president; Richard D. Hammond, Frederick, vice president; Lloyd B. Shearman, Baltimore, vice president; Roswell Boland, Hollywood, vice president; George A. Adams, University of Maryland, secretary-treasurer, and Leonard Llewellyn, Laurel, recording secretary.

Lindner said the organization will observe its 50th anniversary with a program on December 4 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore.

Local Man Given 30-Day Sentence

Wives Targets Of Assaults By Husbands

This is apparently "open season" on wives, according to attaches of Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrates Morris Baron and J. Milton Dick said this morning that during a 12-hour period five assault cases were brought to their attention.

Magistrate Baron issued three warrants charging local men with assaulting their wives, while Magistrate Dick has issued two such warrants.

The magistrates pointed out that in all cases the wives were carrying bruises allegedly inflicted by their husbands.

United Fund Total Nears Drive Quota

Victory Predicted To Workers After $293,314 Reported

"The goal is in sight," Lewis J. Ort, president of County United Fund, told an overflow audience of County United Fund workers at their victory meeting last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Collected or pledged to date is $293,314.46, or 87 per cent of the $339,622 goal, Ort said.

"Time-wise and money-wise, the campaign is a parallel of last year's United Fund success," Ort told the community leaders from all over the CUF area.

Last year's campaign did not end until October 29, he stated, and the amount now in hand is almost identical with the amount reported on October 22 last year. Final reports will be heard next Wednesday, he added.

Tribute To Workers
Captain Daniel K. Biggs, campaign chairman, paid tribute to the "spirit, determination, enthusiasm and cooperation of County United Fund workers." He said that CUF is something to be proud of, pointing out that a far greater effort is made here than in many larger communities he has visited.

"CUF is the good seed," he declared—"the seed of hope for 31 great agencies. We have sown the good seed, and we are reaping victory."

Victory "Oscars" were awarded to chairmen and team captains who met or exceeded their goals to date. Walking off with the bulk of the Oscar awards were the employee committees of the Big Seven industries, who piled up a total of $97,871 to spill over their goal of $95,773.

Reporting for the employee groups were:

Roy Salzer, Allegany Ballistics; Duane L. Boyd, B&O Railroad; Earl Johnson, Kelly-Springfield; A. Trago Brust, West Virginia Pulp and Paper; Robert Esler, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, which, with an average gift of $23 per employee is again far over the national average; Edward Duer, Western Maryland Railway; and Vito J. Dormio, Celanese Corporation of America employees.

Golden Gifts Report
Former Attorney General William C. Walsh reported for himself and George B. Newman as co-chairmen of the Golden Gifts division. He said that CUF is a "great team requiring the interests, energies and talents of people in all walks of life." Golden Gifts' final report next Wednesday will be 100 per cent, he said—"I can promise you that."

Mayor J. Edwin Keech was honored by Ort for "doing an outstanding job in his first year as a CUF worker." Others who were introduced included Earl K. Hess, county chairman; C. M. Sanner, assistant to the campaign chairman; Robert Garret, classified co-chairman; Glenn K. Davis, business co-chairman; classified captains Lt. Richard McConnell, Reynold Wallach, B. U. Smith, Lee Silcox and Robert Esler.

Recognition was given to business division captains, of whom C. M. Sanner said, "Some are not here tonight—they are out pounding the streets to meet their goals."

County Chairman Hess introduced Raymond C. Hudson, Tri-Towns chairman; G. Harley Dixon, Tri-Towns Golden Gifts chairman; John Batcha, Tri-Towns business and classified chairman; T. Warner Lowry, Keyser chairman; and Mrs. Edna Laing, McCoole chairman.

The meeting ended on an optimistic note, with Ort declaring: "We are assured of victory!" Captain Biggs, in his closing remarks, said: "You heard the great sum that has been reported. That's the final kick—we will be over the goal within a week."

16 Counties Represented At College

Allegany Leader With Washington In Second Position

Editor's Note—This is the second in a series of four articles dealing with Frostburg State Teachers College, its peak enrollment, future needs and recreational program.

By P. WILLIAM MACKERT
Evening Times Staff Writer

Sixteen of Maryland's 23 counties are represented in this year's peak enrollment of 705 students at Frostburg State Teachers College.

All, with the exception of Charles and Wicomico counties, show an increase over 1957 figures released by President R. Bowen Hardesty who assumed leadership at the college in December 1954. He succeeded Dr. Lillian C. Compton, retired.

Compared to last year's registration, Allegany County leads the field with 437, an increase of 42 over the previous scholastic term. Washington County has 51 and Garrett County 45 to round out the "top three."

Some From Shore
Every county on the Western Shore is represented on the 40-acre campus. Eastern Shore representatives come from Wicomico and Queen Anne's counties.

A county breakdown on the geographical location of the 1957-58 enrollees, respectively, follows:

Allegany, 395-437; Anne Arundel, 23; Baltimore, 4-15; Calvert, 0-1; Carroll, 4-13; Charles, 2-2; Frederick, 11-25; Garrett, 32-45; Harford, 0-1; Howard, 0-1; Montgomery, 11-21; Prince George's, 26-34; Queen Anne's, 0-1; St. Mary, 0-1; Washington, 31-51 and Wicomico, 1-1.

Maryland counties not represented at the college in this year's enrollment list include Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Kent, Somerset, Talbot and Worcester.

Baltimore City, which sent 10 new potential teachers to the campus last year, showed a marked drop to one for the current year. Out-of-state students jumped to 10, an increase of one.

Enrollment Doubled
In the past 11 years the college has more than doubled its enrollment. A rundown follows: 1948-340; 1949-427; 1950-441; 1951-403; 1952-478; 1953-438; 1954-501; 1955-629; 1956-609; 1957-588 and 1958-705.

Next year's registration will probably pass the 800 mark since approximately 50 applications have already been received. Expected to double is the summer graduate program undertaken by 133 students last summer for the first time.

Ten out-of-state students from West Virginia, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia are registered at the college. Unlike Marylanders, they are not required to sign a pledge to teach in the state for two years after graduation. But the tuition fee is $400 plus $316 for room and board (dormitory), activities and athletic participation.

Five from West Virginia
Five are from the Mountain State, four from Pennsylvania and one from Washington.

In-state students enrolling in the teacher preparation program pay no tuition, but the teaching pledge is required.

New county high school students at the college this year are from Allegany, Fort Hill, Beall, Bruce, Carver, Catholic Girls Central, Flintstone, LaSalle, Mt. Savage, Oldtown, St. Mary's, St. Peter's, Ursuline and Valley. Garrett County students came from Friendsville, Grantsville, Kitzmiller, Northern and Southern high schools.

In the scholastic department an official breakdown for 1957-58, respectively, disclosed: Teacher education, 461-583; junior college, 79-80 and special, including nurses from Memorial Hospital, 48-42 for a total of 705. The College Laboratory School figures are 167-176.

TOMORROW: Future needs.

Assault Case Jury Fails To Reach Verdict

A jury in Circuit Court could not agree on a verdict yesterday afternoon in assault case involving a Martin's Mountain man and four State Roads Commission employees.

The defendant was Thomas R. Wolford, 48, of Flintstone and the plaintiffs were George B. Hale, maintenance engineer of the SRC, Joseph A. Footen, George P. Jenkins, and Philip C. Sonner Jr., employees.

The trial was heard by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris and the petit jury, which began deliberations about 1:15 p. m.

About 3 p. m. Edward J. Mattingly, foreman, informed Judge Harris the jury had no hope of reaching a decision in the case.

Judge Harris ordered the case continued, and discharged the jury until further notice.

The assault charge arose from an incident that occurred last June 3 at a service station and restaurant operated by Mr. Wolford atop Martin Mountain.

Testimony yesterday disclosed that the four employees of the SRC went to the site prior to canalization work.

Local Man Elected To PE Employee Post

Paul D. Long, collector with The Potomac Edison Company here, has been elected to a division vice-presidency of the utility company's Employees' Association for 1958-1959.

Long, who resides at 604 Avondale Avenue, was elected to the post of western division vice-president in an employee election. The association handles social activities of the company.

A. E. Connor of Berkeley Springs and Mease Stronsider of Romney were the defeated candidates.

Jurors Find Chupek Guilty Of Manslaughter

A jury in Circuit Court today found Andrew B. Chupek, 35, of Jenners, Pa., guilty of manslaughter by automobile after they heard testimony in his appeal from a conviction in Trial Magistrates' Court.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris who presided released Chupek in custody of his attorney, Edward J. Ryan, pending sentencing in the case.

Chupek had been charged and found guilty of manslaughter in the death of Frank Junior Mayhew, 34, of Piedmont last May 17.

Magistrate Morris Baron gave him six months in the House of Correction and fined him $500 when the lower court hearing was held.

During testimony yesterday the accident was reviewed by Tfc. Milton G. Hart and Trooper L. Wayne Lewis, who investigated. Edwin R. Lilly, county investigator, read a statement which was given by Mr. Chupek.

Others testifying yesterday were Daniel E. Stroke, Leo E. Slafinski and Paul G. Bosya, of Pennsylvania, who were in the company of Chupek the night prior to the accident.

The men were working on a construction job in the Westernport vicinity and met Mayhew on the evening prior to the accident.

The fatal accident occurred about one and a half miles east of Westernport on Maryland State Route 135 between that community and McCoole. Another passenger in the car, Mrs. June Ellen Bennett, 21, of Ohio, was also injured in the crash. She also testified yesterday.

Glass Talks Deadlocked

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bargaining affecting 25,000 employees of Pittsburgh Plate and Libbey-Owens-Ford glass companies continued deadlocked today on incentive pay rates and other issues.

The United Glass and Ceramics Workers Union and the two companies renewed negotiations here yesterday. Talks were broken off when the strike was called Oct. 11.

The session recessed last night without any announcement as to progress. Neither side has disclosed demands or offers, but a company spokesman had said prior to the bargaining here that swages were not the main cause of the dispute.

Cub Pack To Meet

Cub Scout Pack 10 will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at LaVale Methodist Church. Den 2 will be in charge of the program, "American Folk Lore," which is the October theme, according to B. B. Lucas, cubmaster.

Woman Free On Appeal Of Motor Charge

Mrs. Virginia E. Miller, 115 Potomac Street, today was found not guilty in Circuit Court on her appeal from a conviction of reckless driving in Trial Magistrates' Court.

The woman testified that she was driving her car out of her driveway onto Potomac Street, but due to parked vehicles she was unable to make the turn. She told Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris that she then backed slowly and bumped a car owned by James Muir, who resides at 119 Potomac Street. She said she got out of her car and looked at the Muir car but did not see any damage. She said her bumper struck the Muir car's bumper.

Muir obtained a warrant for Mrs. Miller and it was served by Trooper Lloyd Wayne Lewis. The officer testified today that the place on Muir's car which was damaged could not have been inflicted by the bumper of Mrs. Miller's machine.

Thomas N. Berry was attorney for Mrs. Miller. She had been fined $10 on a charge of reckless driving in Trial Magistrates' Court.

A 20-day sentence to the county jail against Harry Spiker, of Gilmore, as a result of a disturbance at a tavern was affirmed by Judge Harris when the appellant failed to appear in court.

A $100 fine and 30 days in the county jail which had been given Robert Emery Biltner in Trial Magistrates' Court was affirmed by Judge Harris when the man failed to appear in court.

William Messersmith, who appealed a $50 fine in Trial Magistrates' Court on a charge of reckless driving, was found guilty by Judge Harris. He was given the same fine and ordered to pay the court costs.

Halloween Dance Planned By PTA

The Parent-Teacher Association of Northeast School will sponsor a Halloween dance at the school tomorrow from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

The dance will be open to the public, PTA spokesmen said, and both children and adults are asked to come in masquerade, although such dress is not compulsory. Prizes will be awarded for costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wiegand, co-chairmen of the event, are being assisted by Mrs. Myrtle Kesner, Mrs. Marvin Clem, Mrs. Juanita Seibert and Mrs. Willard Riggs.

The committee in charge is seeking donations of candy for the program, which will include the sale of refreshments.

Worker Injured

Leo H. Divilbliss, 45, of RD 2, Flintstone, is reported in "good" condition at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted with lacerations of his right leg. Attaches said the man was hurt while working for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

PTA Meeting Tonight

The Ridgeley High School PTA will meet tonight at 7:30 p. m. at the school. Teachers will be in their rooms at 7 p. m. to confer with parents of students.

Army's New Sea Vehicles Use Big Tires

Automotive Group Told Of Equipment By Army General

BALTIMORE (AP) — Versatile land and sea vehicles with huge, low-pressure tires were described yesterday by the Army's chief of transportation.

They have been designed to meet the demands for increased mobility in modern atomic warfare, and the likelihood of smaller-scale wars on the order of Korea, Maj. Gen. Frank S. Besson told the Society of Automotive Engineers.

"The trend in wheeled vehicles is toward giant, low-pressure tires, he said.

An extreme in the trend, Gen. Besson added, is the "overland train" now being built in Texas. It consists of a control car, a power car and five trailers each with a capacity of 15 tons. All units of the train have tires 10 feet high and four feet wide. Each wheel is powered by a separate electric motor, with power from a Diesel electric generator carried on the power car.

Gen. Besson said the Army's new 600-ton capacity beach-lighter will undergo acceptance tests in Long Beach, Calif., next month. It is a 338-foot self-propelled seagoing craft with propellers which apply thrust in any desired direction by varying the angle of the blades. The vessel also has hydraulic rams on the bow to assist in backing off a beach.

Gen. Besson also told the engineers, attending week-long meetings of the SAE's National Transportation and Diesel Engine Section, that the army now has a 100-ton amphibian monster capable of carrying 60 tons cargo from the ocean onto land.

It rolls or swims on 10-foot tires with each wheel powered by a separate Diesel engine.

The general said the Army's attention in the field of aircraft is to short-range planes and helicopters. The major emphasis is on low, slow-speed craft, a region of flight he said need a great deal more exploration.

'Appeal Seen On Blue Law

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — An appeal to the Harrison County Criminal Court from two police court convictions under provisions of Clarksburg's Sunday "Blue Law" appeared likely today.

Atty. Gen. E. Morris, who represented Joe Pulice in the municipal action, said he will appeal two fines leveled against his client.

Pulice was convicted during a 90 minute hearing Tuesday. Complaining witnesses said Pulice operated his store on Sunday in violation of a three month old law which requires that it be closed. He had been acquitted on similar charges on two previous charges.

Man Accused Of False Tax Return

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — Among more than two dozen indictments returned by a federal grand jury here Wednesday was one against Harry Lashinsky, Parkersburg, president of Southern Attractions, Inc., Charleston.

Lashinsky was charged on five counts of allegedly filing false admission tax returns in 1953, 54, and 55.

Other indictments included May Kathryn Elson of Wellsburg, indicted on three counts of embezzling postal funds while serving as a temporary rural mail carrier; John Vogel, Rachel Marion County, for failing to pay special tax and engaging in the retail sale of non-tax paid whisky; and Nicholas Begakis, Clarksburg, an alien crewman who failed to register for the draft and overstayed his crewman's landing permit in 1955.

Services Set For Victim Of Plane Mishap

A memorial service will be held for Ensign George A. Campbell, who died in an airplane crash October 2 near Jacksonville, Fla., on Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Piedmont Presbyterian Church.

Chaplain Paul D. Caravetta (Lt. jg) USNR, pastor of Frostburg Presbyterian Church, will officiate, assisted by Dr. John D. MacLeod, ex-moderator of the Presbytery of Winchester and pastor of Keyser Presbyterian Church.

A son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert M. Campbell, Ensign Campbell was born in Harrisonville, Md., on September 28, 1936. His father is pastor of the Piedmont Presbyterian Church.

Ensign Campbell attended the Randallstown School, the Pennsylvania Avenue School and Fort Hill High School, Cumberland. After the family moved to Piedmont he attended Bruce High School, Westernport, later transferring to Piedmont High School, from which he graduated in 1954. He attended Potomac State College, Keyser, for two years, graduating in 1956 and was active in sports at Piedmont High School, playing on the school's championship basketball team in 1953-54.

Ensign Campbell enlisted in the Navy in March 1956, and received flight training at Pensacola, Fla. He was commissioned as a jet pilot, receiving his Wings at Memphis, Tenn., in September, 1957.

Upon completion of advanced training he was assigned to a heavy attack squadron at the Naval Air Station at Jacksonville, Fla. He was then sent to Sanford, Fla., for additional training as a bombardier-navigator. He completed this training in September of this year and was assigned as the bombardier-navigator in the crew of an A3D Skywarrior. This aircraft crashed on October 2, while making a radar navigation flight.

Survivors include his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Robert M. Campbell; two brothers, Lt. Robert J. Campbell, stationed with the Army at Baumholder, Germany; and Lt. William H. Campbell, USAF, Oscoda, Michigan; three sisters, Misses Dorothy, Elizabeth and Bernice June Campbell, all of Pittsburgh.

Murphy Services WESTERNPORT—Services for Mrs. Lovada E. Murphy, 70, of 236 Clay Street, who died yesterday, will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. in First Baptist Church.

Rev. William Orndorff, pastor, will officiate and interment will be in Philo Cemetery.

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home and will be taken to the church at 11 a. m.

Blacktopping Of Playsites Is Completed

In an effort to improve playground facilities at elementary schools in Allegany County a program of blacktopping eight playsites was started and today will be completed, according to Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for county schools.

Pence said the blacktopping was listed as the second most urgent need in the physical education program in the elementary school level and that the prime need of a program for each school to follow had been solved.

Blacktopping has been completed at Westernport Elementary, where 10,000 square feet was laid at a cost of $2,000; Central Elementary at Lonaconing, 10,000 square feet for $2,000; McCool Elementary, 5,000 square feet for $1,000; Piney Plains Elementary, 5,000 square feet for $1,000; Crestapton Elementary, 5,000 square feet for $1,000; Pennsylvania Avenue Elementary, 5,000 square feet for $1,000; West Side Elementary, 5,000 square feet for $1,000; Coriganville Elementary, 2,500 square feet for $500 and Midland Elementary, 2,500 square feet for $500.

Pence said a survey had been made to determine which schools needed more blacktop space on a basis of enrollment. The blacktopping completed at the various schools was in addition to that which had been in use.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, said the money for the blacktopping came from a $16,000 fund which had been placed in the budget several years ago as the Board of Education's share of the proposed South View Addition project in Cumberland. After the city dropped the project the Board of Education obtained approval of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to use the money for the blacktopping project at elementary schools in the county.

Autopsy Set On Child Death

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — An autopsy was scheduled today to determine the cause of death Wednesday of a four-year-old Parkersburg boy. The youngster collapsed at his home and died enroute to a hospital of unknown causes.

Authorities said Mrs. Bernard Hopkins told them she noticed her son, Edsell, was pale and was perspiring and he came into the house after playing with a lawnmower in the yard. She said he suddenly keeled over.

The Rock of Gibraltar became a British possession in 1713.

School Board Considering Change In Age Requirement

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The State Board of Education had before it today a number of recommendations, including one by State School Supt. R. Virgil Rohrbough that first graders be admitted in West Virginia's public school only if they reach six years of age by Nov. 1 of their initial year.

At present a child may start to school if he will be six years old by the following Feb. 1.

The board opened a two-day meeting Wednesday by announcing it would open next January bids on a new health and physical education building at Marshall College.

Bonds worth $1,350,000 for financing construction of the building were approved by the last two Legislatures. But the board turned down the lowest bids earlier this year because they were some $450,000 higher than the law-maker's allocation.

The board also asked Marshall to request the 1959 Legislature to approve the selling of additional bonds if the low bid in January is again above $1,350,000.

In other action the board approved a request from Concord College to submit an application to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for construction amounting to $1,748,000.

The school said the money would be used to construct a women's and a man's dormitory and a 24-unit student-family apartment building.

The college will finance the structure with the sale of bonds to be retired from the buildings.

Concord was also given permission to increase its 1959-60 budget request to the Legislature by $138,000 for purchase of furniture and equipment for the new building and to sell its telephone lines and telephone equipment to General Telephone Co. of the South-east for $3,500.

The board authorized Shepherd College to apply to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency calling for the construction of a women's dormitory for 200 students and a cafeteria seating 200 students. The projects, costing an estimated $961,000, would be financed similar to those at Concord.

Man Facing Murder Count

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — The sheriff's office, following up a routine check on a migrant laborer, hospitalized last August from a blow on the head, learned the man died last Saturday at Crownsville State Hospital.

Authorities changed a charge of assault with intent to murder against Curtis Alston, about 30, to one of murder.

Alston is accused in the death of William Green, about 38, who officers said, was hit on the head with a tent pole last Aug. 2 at the Shiloh labor camp. Both are migrant laborers.

Alston has been held in jail since in $10,000 bail.

Green was taken to Cambridge Maryland Hospital, then transferred to University Hospital in Baltimore. About two weeks ago he was taken to the Crownsville State Hospital, where he died without having regained consciousness.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Klopp said he made a routine call to check on Green's condition, since the grand jury reconvenes next Monday.

Klopp said he was told that Green had died last Saturday and his body sent to the Baltimore City morgue. Klopp called the morgue and arranged for an autopsy to be performed.

Court Order: Being Sought In Shooting

Attorneys Claim Client Incompetent To Stand Trial

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Attorneys for Willis K. Rowe, charged with the slaying last May of Brenda Parks, have asked for a court order declaring Rowe incompetent to stand trial.

Rowe, 30-year-old magazine salesman from Silver Spring, is charged with the fatal shooting of Parks, Wingate boat builder and a Democratic candidate for county commissioner at the time of his death.

The motion was filed in Wicomico County circuit court, where the case was transferred.

State's Attorney C. Burnham Mace of Dorchester County said today he would ask the court to hear medical evidence at the earliest opportunity to decide if Rowe could stand trial or needs further treatment.

"As soon as there is a judicial determination that Rowe is able to stand trial, I will ask for an early trial date to be set," Mace said.

Mace said the defense motion apparently was a result of reports from Spring Grove State Hospital, where Rowe is under treatment, that he is mentally sick at this time.

Filing the motion in Rowe's behalf were attorneys Thomas A. Wadden Jr. and Vincent J. Fuller of Washington.

Rehabilitation Board Under Civil Service

State Board Takes Steps To Remain Eligible For Aid

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Board of Vocational Rehabilitation Wednesday took steps to keep the division under civil service, and thus eligible for federal matching funds.

The action came as the board directed P. Ray Power, division director, to approve a division's contribution to the State Merit System Council.

At an earlier board meeting, it was revealed that Power had refused to sign his department's 1959-60 contribution of $3,450 because the service offered him by the council was "poor."

Power Wednesday maintained the council's service was "poor" but agreed to sign the contribution. Following the meeting, Power said the council had not furnished his department with "needed or qualified personnel."

"The people we do get from the council are not fully qualified in many instances," he said.

However, he said he was "an employee of the board," and "therefore I followed their wishes."

Board President Raymond Brewster told Power that his refusal to approve a contribution would have the effect of withdrawing the division from the council. Brewster said the board did not want such to happen and a short time later, Power signed his department's allocation of the council.

Board members also told Power they felt he was not providing them with adequate reports on agency spending. He was directed to provide in the future detailed, regular reports on his department's handling of funds.

Power maintained the board never had requested him to furnish such itemized reports. "I have always complied with any request asked of me" by the board, he said.

State agencies supported in part by federal funds are required to operate under a merit system, or civil service, to be eligible for federal grants. Power's department is such an agency.

The board also awarded a contract to a Charleston firm for construction of a cafeteria and dining hall at the State Rehabilitation Center in Institute, Kanawha County.

The W. A. Abbott Co. submitted a low bid of $139,490 from among eight bids on the project.

Norfolk Banker Dies

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Richard P. Gardner, 58, a vice president of the Bank of New York, died Wednesday of injuries received in an automobile accident near Norfolk last Saturday.

ROSE IS A HEEL — A walk down the garden path is a must for a girl who acquires this new shoe from Rome. It has a metal heel fashioned to look like the thorny stem of the red chamois rose.

Hotel Strike In Pittsburgh Comes To End

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Management of five major Pittsburgh hotels rushed plans today to resume full operations after settlement of a 22-day strike by 2,300 employees.

In a secret ballot vote Wednesday, the workers agreed by a two to one margin to return to work. They accepted a management offer of pay increases and other benefits in a three-year contract.

The outcome of the vote to end the strike, which had crippled hotel operations and forced cancellation of several major conventions, was learned about 8 p.m.

Johnsons Could Win Election

CHICAGO (UPI)—Alderman Einar Johnson thought it would be a good idea to get all the Johnsons in Chicago to support his candidacy for Cook County clerk, but he didn't realize how much territory that took in.

The Chicago telephone directory recommends that anyone looking for Johnson to "also see Johnson, Johnstone, Jonson, Jonsson, Johnson and Einson." Candidate Johnson has sent 250,000 postcards.

Protest Plane Sale

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Several hundred Cuban refugees attempted a "march on the British embassy" Wednesday night to protest Britain's offer to sell jet fighters to the Cuban government. Police riot squads broke up the mob some distance from the embassy. Sixty-eight men and 13 women were arrested, but there was no report of casualties.

Farmers Hold Power In Indiana Election

By BOYD GILL
United Press International
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Indiana voters decide next month whether they want six more years of conservative Republicanism which詹纳 espoused during his 12 years in Washington.

Handley's Democratic opponent is Evansville Mayor R. Vance Harkle, who at 36 became the youngest mayor in the history of Indiana's fifth largest city.

Harkle calls himself a "middle-of-the-road" Democrat but he is generally considered to be a "liberal."

Handley, 48, was handicapped by Jenner as his successor. Shortly after the fiery Jenner announced last December he would not seek renomination, he tagged Handley to take his place on Capitol Hill.

Handley's first obstacle was to hurdle an Indiana constitution provision which says a governor cannot hold any other office during the term for which he was elected. Handley's four-year gubernatorial term runs to January, 1961.

The Indiana Supreme Court, ruling in a test suit, said it was up to the Senate to determine the eligibility of its own members.

Handley sees eye to eye with Jenner on most issues, chiefly domestic. He is a vigorous opponent of federal aid to states.

Harkle and his campaign crew have concentrated their campaign on state issues, including Handley's willingness to leave the governor's chair after serving half a term, and a highway scandal over land buying and equipment purchases which occurred in a Republican administration immediately preceding Handley's election.

Handley was lieutenant-governor during the time the scandals occurred but claimed he knew nothing of what was going on before the election when he announced he believed it worked well in Indiana but he would oppose it in Congress on a federal basis because states should have the right to decide for themselves.

Indiana farmers hold the balance of power, and they are strangely silent on how they intend to vote.

Democrats haven't had anyone from Indiana in the Senate since the early 1940s. They see their biggest chance for victory this time in a national reaction to the recession and an Indiana industrial area reaction to a "right to work" law which the 1957 Legislature imposed.

Handley let the bill become law without his signature, defying a statehouse march by nearly 10,000 labor union members demanding he veto it. He never took a stand on the issue until a month before the election when he announced he believed it worked well in Indiana but he would oppose it in Congress on a federal basis because states should have the right to decide for themselves.

Woman Killed In Highway Mishap

UPPER MERLBORO, Md. (AP)—An elderly Anne Arundel County woman was killed yesterday in a collision on U. S. 301 near here.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Godfrey, 69, of Glen Burnie, was pronounced dead on arrival at Casualty Hospital in Washington.

Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, 72-year-old William L. Godfrey. The car collided with a tractor-trailer driven by Willie D. Ivey Jr., 32, of Hampton, Va. Ivey was jailed on charges of manslaughter and speeding.

Ford Turns Out Last 'Model T' In 50th Anniversary Observance

MAHWAH, N. J. (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. turned out what undoubtedly will be the last Model T even assembled today to commemorate the golden anniversary of the first "Tin Lizzie." The 1909 Model T rolls off the assembly line at Ford's assembly plant here interspersed between two bright and shining 1958 models. Immediately afterward the Model T, the world's first mass production automobile and an American symbol of frugal operation, will participate in an economy contest with one of the 1959 Fords. The Model T, driven at its top speed of 20 miles an hour, averages about 13 miles per gallon. The new Ford, when driven at a conservative 30 miles an hour for best gasoline economy, uses about 24 miles per gallon. Actually, the Model T—a twin-lever job—was not new. It was a Flint, Mich., furniture dealer who reconstructed from parts obtained from antique car hobbyists throughout the nation. Some of the parts simply were not available.

Traffic Safety Plan Approved

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Safety and Driver Education Assn. has endorsed the four recommendations of the Governor's Traffic Safety Advisory Commission for improvement of highway safety, it was announced Monday. The Governor's committee had earlier called for the establishment of a central file for accidents investigated by the state's police agencies; establishment of driver education courses in all high schools; increases in State Police salaries of $100 per month; and a statute authorizing traffic courts to hear cases and impose penalties upon juveniles under the age of 18 for traffic offenses.

Only about 30 per cent of the houses bought in the U. S. this year will be brand-new ones.

White House Doctor Knows Patient Well

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Back stairs at the White House:

It seems a trifle odd to talk with Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the White House physician, about the condition of President Eisenhower as the Chief Executive starts his 69th year.

Snyder talks rather detachedly about what can be expected of a person nearing 70. Although he doesn't play himself, the white-haired, ramrod-straight Army doctor has become probably the ranking expert on Eisenhower's golf. The doctor goes to a golf course and stands off to one side at the first tee, watching with a highly practiced eye as the Chief Executive hits a series of practice shots.

Can Tell By Swing
Snyder can tell from watching Eisenhower's swing, from the accuracy and length of his shots, just about how his number one patient is feeling physically and mentally.

The President hits his first tee shot, Snyder snubs out a cigarette with a grimace as he notices that the yardage is about 150 short for an Eisenhower tee shot. The President hops in his blue electric golf cart and buzzes down the fairway. Snyder keeps up with the cart, loping along in a full-legged stride with his sporty maroon jacket flapping in the wind. This could be accepted as a fairly normal picture except for one thing—Snyder is 77 years old.

Diagnosis Riding
Eisenhower walks some levelly golf holes, but since his 1955 heart attack, he has used the electric cart increasingly. But not Snyder.

He has walked every foot of the way on virtually every round of golf Eisenhower has played since becoming President in 1953.

In fact, Snyder may have walked something like 2,000 miles in the wake of the President. This is an admittedly rough calculation based on an average of two 18-hole rounds a week for the Chief Executive since he's been in office.

Give or take a few miles, the durable doctor is an active example of his own medicine. He's a real bear for exercise and would like to see Eisenhower on the golf course three times a week.

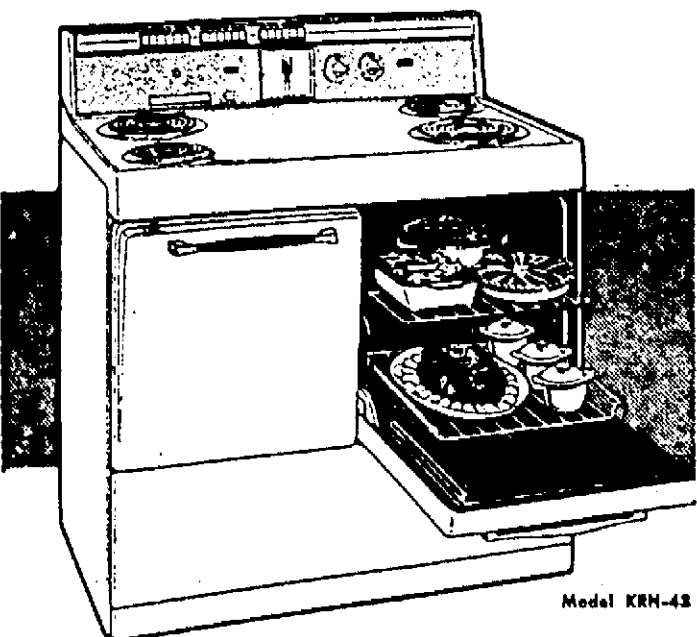

Knows Patient Well
Although the President has been attended by a host of big-name specialists during illnesses of the past, not one of them even professed to know as much about the patient as Snyder.

The venerable physician whose jaunty step and compact frame belie his 77 years, took a critical pasting at the time of the President's 1955 heart attack for not getting him to a hospital sooner. Most doctors who knew anything about the case, however, came to realize that Snyder knew his patient and conducted himself well within the margin of safety.

It was Snyder again who gave Eisenhower the green light to seek re-election in 1956, knowing that the Chief Executive was too restive to face the sedentary life of a Gettysburg squire.

It was Snyder, too, who properly diagnosed the President's ileitis in 1956 and who encouraged his rapid return to activity after a mild stroke in 1957.

Cost Drops In W. Va. Public Safety Report

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Cost of the State Department of Public Safety runs about 85 cents per person to West Virginians annually, but deducting the cost of property stolen and returned and fines from arrests, the cost drops to 30 cents.

Department records disclosed today that for the biennial period, 1956-57, $1,024,000 in stolen property was recovered as a result of arrests and $1,195,000 from fines was added to the state school fund.

The report also noted that in the 10-year period 1947 to 1957, only one neighboring state showed less increase percentage-wise than West Virginia in the number of men in State Police ranks.

That was Pennsylvania which had only 27 per cent boost. However, the Keystone state added 425 men for that decade to boost its total to 1,970 men. West Virginia's gain was only 59 men and a hike of 29.5 per cent to 239 in the department.

Ohio jumped from 296 men to 729 and both Virginia and Kentucky more than doubled their number while Maryland was up 63.3 per cent.

State Police officers at a recent meeting of the Legislature's interim committees that 100 more troopers were needed to drive adequate protection and better driver safety programs in the state.

Hunt Underway For Fugitives

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An intensive search was under way today for some 15 miles south-west of Charleston for one of two escaped convicts who terrorized a squirrel hunter Wednesday.

State Police said they were seeking Joe E. Westfall, 20, of the Aaron's Fork section of Kanawha County near Sissonville.

Authorities said Westfall and a Maynard G. Gillenwater, 25, fired several shots at Thomas Shamblin of Charleston as he approached with his automobile in a remote section near the Kanawha-Lincoln County line.

The hunter retreated and later summoned police. When state troopers converged on the scene in the vicinity of the little community of Summerville, Lincoln County, the escapees ditched Shamblin's car and fled on foot.

Gillenwater, a resident of the Summerville area, surrendered meekly after being tracked to an abandoned house. However, Westfall evaded capture and slipped away into the woods.

Supper Scheduled

KEYSER—The WSCS of Dawson Methodist Church will hold a turkey and ham supper today from 5 to 8 p. m. in the basement of the church.

HOOP SKIRT—The influence of the hula hoop is beginning to be felt in the fashion world, judging from this spring, 1959, design by Neal of California. A figure-circling satin band swings at the bottom of a spray of black silk organza over a sheath. A pink rose accents its high Empire bodice. Ring around the rosy?

Council Adopts Insurance Plan At Westernport

WESTERNPORT—A group insurance plan for 14 employees of the Town of Westernport with the Nationwide Insurance Company was approved at a meeting of Mayor Ray L. Wilt and Council last night.

The policy was explained to town officials by Robert Derham, the company's local representative. It provides hospitalization, and surgical and medical benefits for employees.

The town will pay $3.17 per month for each male employee, and $4.33 for women. An employee must work at least 50 per cent of the work scheduled to be qualified to become a member.

All employees are requested to meet with the Mayor and Commissioners next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. to discuss the policy and determine if it will meet their approval. Employees may take out additional benefits.

Two other plans were received from Blue Cross and Blue Shield. Last week, policies of the Group Department Washington National Insurance Company of Evanston, Ill., Mutual of Omaha and United Omaha were discussed.

Mayor Wilt said police suggested that equal time be given for the traffic light at the intersection of Main and Washington Streets for thoroughfare.

Bible Class Projects Set By Baptists

FROSTBURG—Phelathia Class of First English Baptist Church held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Mern Stewart with Mrs. Anna Myers as co-hostess.

Mrs. Flora Logsdon presided at the business session and conducted the devotional. Mrs. Martha Hosken was in charge of the topic for discussion, "The Attributes of a Christian Woman."

Roll call was answered by each member quoting a Bible verse containing the word "baptism." Projects for the next meeting were planned, and members are asked to bring sewing needs to the November meeting, at which time the group will work together on pillows for use as gifts at Christmas.

Refreshments were served in individual baskets and half-masks were made and presented by Mrs. Myers to each member. Autumn flowers and Halloween featured the decorations.

Project Planned
Announcement has been made by officers of the Braddock Playground Association that equipment on the playground will be dismantled Sunday, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Fathers of children who used the facilities during the summer have been asked to help with the work.

According to the officers, an average of 20 children were present each day this past summer. At least 20 to 25 fathers are needed to complete the work in one afternoon. Hereafter, they said, only about five have cooperated in the work.

Study Group Meets
The Beall Elementary School Child Study Group met yesterday in the school lunch room with 15 members present. The topic for discussion, led by Mrs. Raymond McFarland, was "Misbehavior of Children in Different Age Groups."

Miss Esther Carter, pupil personnel official of the Allegany County Board of Education, was a visitor.

The next meeting will be held at the same place next Wednesday at 1:30 p. m.

Brief Mention
Charles Richardson, cubmaster for Cub Pack 46, sponsored by the Beall Elementary School PTA, announced that a meeting for parents of members of the pack will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Officers and directors of the Frostburg Community Programs, Inc., will meet in Compton Hall at State Teachers College tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Rev. Paul V. Cavaretta, president, will preside and the main item of business will be the election of officers.

The Women's Guild of Zion United Church of Christ will hold its annual sauerkraut dinner next Wednesday in the lower auditorium of the church from 5 to 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, Mrs. Grace Hopkins and Lynn George, all of Centerville, were recent guests of Mrs. Daniel Price and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sotzer.

C. Waller Hayes, a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, attended the fall meeting of the convocation of Cumberland at Harriott Chapel, Catactin Furnace, Frederick County, this week.

"Lost Battalion"
The "Lost Battalion" of World War I fame was the First Battalion of the 308th Infantry and parts of the 306th and 20th Infantry Machine Gun Battalions of the 7th U. S. Division.

Psychiatrist Dies
NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Irving J. Sands, 67, a psychiatrist and neurologist, died Tuesday.

A study conducted by Eugene Gilbert & Co., researchers, found that teenagers consider newspapers to be "most practical" and are "used more now than a year ago."

Figures issued by the U. S. Treasury Department show that 3,334,478 pounds of snuff were consumed in 1957, 13,805,311 pounds in 1960 and 36,206,726 pounds in 1957.

Book publishers issued 13,142 hard-cover titles in 1957 and 4,500 paperback titles.

Montgomery Begins New TV Western

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—George Montgomery, who has lived in the shadow of his famous wife (Dinah Shore) for the past six years, tackled television himself this week in a new Western series.

George winces—as do all movie-land husbands—when he is referred to as "Dinah Shore's husband."

As the bouncy singer's star rose to the video heights, George's movie career began to wane. But if there ever was any resentment, Montgomery never gave a hint of it. He is as proud of Dinah's success as if it were his own.

While Dinah entertained millions every Sunday night George was busy with his furniture business and designing the couple's new home, much of which he helped build.

Now, however, the big handsome guy will become a TV star in his own right. Saturday night he makes his debut in "Cimarron City," an hour-long horse opera on NBC—the same network Dinah toils for.

Saddle Role Is Familiar
"It's back in the saddle for me," Montgomery said during a lunch break.

"I got my start back in 1937 in 'The Lone Ranger' movie serial with five other guys who were playing the same role. They killed me off in the sixth episode.

"Since then I've made 65 pictures, half of which have been Westerns.

"Cimarron City" will be an adult 'adult Western'. The character—Lloyd—is the son of one of the city's founders who tries to keep law and order as part of his duties as mayor.

"He's not a lawman, though. With 'Gunsmoke,' 'Wyatt Earp' and a flock of others there's too much competition in the badge-wearing department.

Enters Overcrowded Field
"Doing an hour show a week is too much. So I'll alternate with John Smith. He plays a deputy sheriff in a more heroic role than I play. Audrey Totter is a regular member of the cast, too. She plays a gal who runs a boarding house.

Montgomery admits the Western field is overcrowded, but he believes the good ones will endure.

"I'll get out before the wedding process begins—if I don't believe in the show," he said. "I'm a partner in the production company and I'll be in a position to know."

In addition to his TV series, Montgomery recently completed a swashbuckling starring role in MGM's "Return to King Solomon's Mines."

It looks as if George's career is in the ascendancy again. And who knows, maybe some day soon Dinah Shore will be introduced as "George Montgomery's wife."

Plans Progress For Campus Day Event At Potomac State

KEYSER—Mothers and fathers of Potomac State College students will be welcomed as guests of the college Saturday, November 8, during the second annual Parents Day program. Personal invitations are being sent to parents of all regularly enrolled students on behalf of the administration, the faculty and the student body.

The day's activities will give parents an opportunity to meet instructors, members of the administration and other parents, as well as to visit the campus and make a tour of the buildings and grounds.

The program is an extension of one originated by Coach Dana G. Lough, who for several years invited parents of the football players to the campus for a day of activities. Team members' fathers will again accompany their sons to the training table, dressing room for game preparations, and to the playing field where they will be seated directly behind the players' bench.

Parents will be asked to report first to the gymnasium for registration between 9:30 and 10:15 a. m. During this time women of the Home Economics Department will serve hot coffee and doughnuts while parents register and visit together.

Convocation Set
Registration will be suspended at 10:15, at which time there will be a brief convocation in the gymnasium for the parents. President E. E. Church and Dean K. S. McKee will speak. Registration will be resumed at the conclusion of the convocation, beginning at approximately 10:45.

Classes will be in session from 8 to 10 a. m. Beginning at 10:45 students may accompany their parents on a tour of the campus. Instructors will remain in their classrooms, where they will be available to meet parents until noon.

From noon until game time at 2 students will have an opportunity to accompany their parents to the restaurant of their choice for lunch, affording them time to visit together. The Keyser Kiwanis Club has announced plans to serve pancakes and sausage at a nominal fee that day at the Keyser fire hall from 11:30 to 1 and again from 5 to 7 p. m. Members of the college Circle K Club may be contacted for information about tickets.

Mothers and fathers are to be guests of the college at the football game between the Potomac State Catamounts and the Newport News Apprentice School at Stayman Field. Halftime ceremonies will be highlighted by an exhibition by the ROTC drill team directed by Sgt. Francis Birney. Music will be provided by the ROTC band directed by Nunzio Barbera.

Paine Coordinator
Alan H. Paine is serving as coordinator of plans for Parents Day. Miss Irene Brown is in charge of invitations. Registration will be handled by the Circle K Club who will be directed by its sponsor, W. E. Michael. The ROTC department will prepare identification tags which are being provided by Circle K. Miss Margaret E. Rafter and women of the physical education department will prepare corsages for their mothers. The group will also have charge of music during registration.

Water Need At Oakland Discussed

OAKLAND — The Mayor and Council of Oakland is considering plans for increasing the water supply of the community.

At a council meeting Monday, local business people urged action on the water problem.

It was pointed out that the Sterling Poultry Processing Company plant needs more water to operate, and if more water is available the operation can be expanded, thus increasing employment and production.

Spokesmen also stated that the Town of Oakland and its surrounding area need more water because of normal community growth, and the natural dropping of the water table. More water will mean a greater industrial growth, and the natural dropping of the water table.

Water is now obtained by pumping from wells, and Mayor Russell Smith said some consideration is being given to the eventual establishment of a modern filtration system.

Council decided that as an immediate step to aid the poultry plant the town will sell it any surplus water available at a minimum rate of 10 cents per thousand, and in the meantime a study of pumping costs and other factors will be made.

In the event of any marked expansion in the town's water system, council members pointed out, it will be necessary to make a sharp increase in water rates to all consumers.

Study Offered
A training meeting featuring parliamentary law will be held next Thursday in the Accident fire hall at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. N. N. DeWitt and Mrs. Ralph Buckel will conduct the meeting which is held for all Homemakers clubs and non-homemaker members.

Miss Ethel Grove, home demonstration agent, said.

Monday, the Meadow Glade Homemakers Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Harry Craver at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Reuben Friend, baker and Mrs. Wilmer Friend will hold the clothing clinic for the club. Mrs. Ray Bittner and Mrs. Lester Green will present the citizenship program. "Study of Garrett County."

Tuesday, the Sunnyside club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ross Crowe who will hold the clothing clinic. Mrs. Harold Holtsapple will present the study.

Campus Day Program Set At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Ivan C. Diehl, dean of instruction at Frostburg State Teachers College, announced that Lillian C. Compton chapter, Future Teachers of America, is sponsoring a "Campus Day" at the college Saturday in conjunction with the homecoming celebration.

Diehl said this is the second Campus Day to be held in 1958, and invitations have been mailed to high school seniors in Harford, Anne Arundel, Howard, Carroll, Montgomery, Prince Georges, Calvert, Charles and St. Mary's counties. Representatives from high schools in several of the counties were present at the Campus Day earlier in the month and schools that did not have representation then have been invited for Saturday.

Registration will take place in Lowndes Hall lobby tomorrow at 9 p.m.

Students and their counselors will be housed in the residence halls and breakfast will be served to the group in the college dining room of Frost Hall.

Other morning activities will include guided tours of the campus and a program in Compton Hall auditorium at which time visitors will be officially greeted by Dean Diehl. Dr. Thomas V. Baucum of the recruitment committee will then explain procedures for admission to the college.

President R. Bowen Hardesty will speak on "The Present and Future of the State College at Frostburg."

The Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Charles L. Sager, will close the program. Following luncheon in the college dining hall the group will view the homecoming parade, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

At 2:30 a soccer game between Lynchburg and State Teachers will culminate the day's activities. The college band, directed by Ward K. Cole, will play at half-time.

Group Entertained
The Friendly Group met a recent evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Labor, Mt. Pleasant Street. Mrs. Alice Miller spoke. Devotions were in charge of Elizabeth Workman.

Following the business meeting a short skit was given by Alvina Cole and Mary McCluckie. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Thomas, Spring Street.

Others attending were Ida Hayman, Margaret Workman, Margaret Walsh, Gertrude James, Maude Chidester, Edith Zarger, Ruth Berkenbaugh, Althea Yenshaw, Martha Collins, Anna Plummer and Jennie Thomas.

Lions Dinner Slated Tonight

WESTERNPORT — A dinner meeting of the Tri-Towns Lions Club will be held today at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church.

At the last meeting Russell H. Marsh, district governor, discussed the growth of Lions International and District 22-W activities. Glenn Davis, deputy district governor, spoke briefly.

Recent efforts of the club to instigate action on some proposed road building projects in this area were reviewed, and plans were made to reactivate these efforts. Visits to the Lonaconing and Frostburg clubs were suggested in order to solicit support in getting action on the Georges Creek improvement projects. It was reported that orders for 307 fruit cakes have been received. Paul M. Fuller, chairman for the sale of Christmas trees, states that arrangements have been completed for securing local evergreens this year.

Prize Winners Listed

W. Va. Teacher Pay Hike Below National Average

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Despite pay increases this year West Virginia's school teachers were still expected to fall below the national average, the West Virginia Education Assn. said Tuesday.

The association noted that the state average was about $3,700 annually, compared to the national average of $3,600.

The highest paying county in the Mountain State, Hancock, allows its teachers with a bachelor's degree $3,765, with the scale ranging up to $5,635 for veteran teachers with master's degree. State law requires that a teacher with a masters degree receive a minimum of $3,762.

WVEA research director Aaron Rapping Jr. said 33 of the state's 55 counties now pay more than the legal state minimum—among them 29 of the 28 counties bordering on other states.

Rapping noted that pay hikes this year ranged from $90 a year in Fayette, Kanawha, Harrison, Ohio and Tyler Counties to $225 in Marion, Hancock and Putnam.

Increases granted in other counties were $155 to $211 in Berkeley, $180 in Greenbrier, $135 to $162 in Cabell and $135 in Logan, Nicholas and Wyoming Counties.

Safety Unit Fetes Union

LONAICONING — Local 7768, United Mine Workers of America of Lonaconing, has received a citation from National Safety Council of Chicago.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of National Safety Council, presented the large certificate award to Local 7768 in recognition of its outstanding cooperation in preventing injuries from roof falls.

The certificate of commendation was earned by the Lonaconing coal miners group for successfully completing a campaign year without sustaining a chargeable injury from a fall of roof in coal mines with the purpose of the miners attaining maximum mine safety.

Alec Bogie is president of the local union; John Donaldson vice president; William Donald, treasurer; John Merbaugh, recording and financial secretary; David Steele and Andrew N. Grove, trustees.

Attending from here were his mother, Mrs. Edwin Grim of Main Street, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simpson said he copied his divorce "degree" from one that had been granted his second wife from her first husband. But Judge See told Simpson that "a three-year-old" could have drawn up a better court order.

Judge See and members of the Bar Association decided to start jury trials Monday, November 10, instead of Monday, November 3, because of the general election November 4.

Judge See will not hold court the remainder of this week because he left shortly after noon yesterday for Huntington to attend a meeting of the State Judges Association, of which he is treasurer.

Jaycees Meet
Region 7 of the West Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce held its regional meeting Tuesday night in the Rose Room of Rosemont Restaurant. Thomas Marshall, national Jaycee vice president from Jackson, spoke on the group's top project and also qualified for the national award for civic improvement.

Dr. Frank Fischer of Martinsburg, president of the West Virginia Jaycees, commented on the possibility of West Virginia rising to the top in the "Parade of States" for awards.

Robert Stone, of Charles Town, spoke on the duties of local officers and Dr. Gilbert Youngblood discussed awards and scrapbooks.

Progressive action on civic improvement was by Joseph Staley of Charles Town. Toastmaster was William Vuicich, secretary of the Keyser club. The business meeting was conducted by the State Vice President Norman E. Kinsner of Charles Town.

Phil Handley, Keyser Jaycee president, welcomed the group and introduced T. Warner Lowry, manager of the Potomac Light and Power Company, and George Petras, plant manager of Emerson-Pryne Company. Lowry was instrumental in organizing the Keyser chapter. He arranged the first meeting of the chapter with Martinsburg before Keyser obtained its charter. Petras has supplied materials and typing needed by the organization.

The meeting was attended by members of the Charles Town, Martinsburg, Berkeley Springs and Keyser chapters.

Nostalgic Dishes From The '20's

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

Health crusades at the dinner table were popular in the 20's. Some of this zeal for good nutrition came from women's visits to "health resorts." They would return home with pockets full of recipes, "health" cook books and tales of new ways of serving foods, then trade recipes and volumes and compare ideas.

For a while my mother and some of her friends were on what my older sisters called a hearts-of-lettuce kick. Several times a week crisp cold compact heads of iceberg lettuce were quartered; then the wedges were arranged on individual salad plates. Each person at the table received a buxom serving and, in some families, woe befell the youngster who didn't eat every leaf!

Our family didn't mind the frequency with which we were subjected to this "health salad" because different and delightful dressings accompanied it. One of these was the Russian Dressing that, in our part of the country, had caught on. That concoction

HEALTH KICK?—If you want more bran in your diet, and you want to do it prettily and differently, here is the answer: Molasses and spice, with an apple topping, provide that just-right flavor.

tion first "made" Fannie Farmer! The Boston Cooking-School Cook in the revised 1923 edition of Book, the formula called for mayonnaise, chili sauce, celery, pimiento and green pepper. But inventive cooks added other ingredients and my mother, besides using homemade mayonnaise, was likely to embellish it with capers and chopped green olives.

Another time at our table the dressing for the hearts-of-lettuce might be salad oil, vinegar and seasonings made creamy with Roquefort cheese. Still another time the lettuce would be topped with sour cream, laden with coarsely grated cucumber, and seasoned plentifully with salt and black pepper.

Bran binges were also a part of the 20's. In one form or another the cereal appeared often on many family tables. My mother was too sensible a person, and too interested in fine food, to prepare such dishes as bran-and-nut "roasts" for main courses, as some fadist cooks did. At our house, dishes made with bran caused no pain! Delicious bran muffins came various ways; a satisfying large size for family meals or made in tiny cupcake pans for company buffet suppers. The muffins might have the sweet addition of dates or raisins, or they might be enlivened with walnuts or pecans. Occasionally a lavish hand would add both fruit and nuts.

Nowadays bran cereal is still being used in quick bread and in quick-bread-type cakes. One of the best of the new recipes is this one for Bran Gingerbread with a topping of sliced apples and other good things. We think it makes a perfect family dessert. If you serve it hot from the oven, you'll find it has a delightfully fluffy texture; so if you should prepare it ahead, be sure to reheat it. The combination of light molasses and spice in this recipe yields just-right flavor.

Bran Gingerbread With Apple Topping

Ingredients: 1/2 cup all bran cereal, 1/2 cup light molasses, 1/4 cup soft shortening, 1/4 cup boiling water, 1 egg, 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) sliced apples (drained), Topping.

Method: Stir together the bran, molasses, shortening and boiling water in a medium-sized mixing bowl. Add egg and beat well; let stand 5 minutes. Sift together the flour, baking powder, soda, salt, cloves and ginger. Add to bran mixture, stirring only until uniformly mixed. Spread in greased pan (8 x 8 x 2-inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Arrange drained apples over top. Add blobs of topping. Broil slowly for 5 to 10 minutes until apples are thoroughly hot. If nuts on top, begin to get too brown, turn over with a fork. Serve hot.

New Food Products For Market

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

New Food Products coming up! Here's what nearly 150 newspaper food editors tasted during their recent annual conference. Some of these foods are already in markets, others will be there soon.

Instant, whipped potatoes — mashed potato with the moisture removed — come in flake form for the first time.

New frozen open-crust pumpkin and double-crust mince pies appear in individual-portion (5-ounce) size.

A new spaghetti sauce mix, packaged in a foil envelope, is a blend of spices, herbs and dried vegetables.

The first concentrated tomato juice to be nationally available comes in a 6 1/4-ounce can ready to be stored on kitchen shelves. It may be re-constituted by adding three parts of water, used as it comes from the can for tomato paste, or mixed with an equal part of water for tomato sauce.

An all-butter loaf-shaped coffee cake is a Danish-type pastry marbled with a cinnamon pecan filling; it comes frozen fresh from the bakery oven.

A new family-sized seafood package contains six South African rock lobster tails and weighs 1 1/2 pounds.

Bite-size shredded corn biscuits are designed to stay crisp even when milk is poured over them at breakfast time.

A prepared formula for babies is composed of evaporated milk, maltose dextrin syrup and vitamin D.

The French breakfast rolls called brioche come frozen, ready to brown in the oven; there are six to a package and the rolls are made with butter and fresh whole eggs.

Tiny caramel candies, something like penuche in texture, and flavor, come in 6-ounce packages for use in cookies, fudge, sauces and other desserts.

An instantly soluble sugar for weight-watchers is the first to appear in granulated form so it may be sprinkled on food. It is a specially blended mixture of glycine (an amino acid found in all proteins) and saccharin.

Instant coffee, available in 2- and 6-ounce jars, flows easily when poured into a measure and will not cake on the spoon.

In the baby-food field—a high-meal "dinner" containing turkey and vegetables, comes in 4 1/2-ounce containers.

Instant nonfat dry milk solids are being processed by a new method that makes them dissolve even more rapidly than heretofore and improves their flavor. Either the old instant or the new super-instant nonfat dry milk sugar in the top of a double boiler; beat with rotary beater (hand on electric) until blended. Cook and stir constantly over hot water until mixture thickens. Beat in nutmeg. Chill and serve over baked apples stuffed with mince-meat. Makes 2 cups sauce.

VARY FRENCH DRESSING

A generous amount of paprika added to the oil-vinegar mixture for French dressing gives rosy color and good flavor. Or add prepared mustard as do the French. Tarragon vinegar also gives flavor change when used instead of cider or red or white wine vinegar.

Schooltime Breakfast

The youthful "cowboy" or "ranchman" in your family will be eager to get up when he can be sure of having a pancake breakfast with all the trimmings! See that he has a bottle of maple-blended syrup handy—he'll love serving himself. Occasionally, for the sake of change, mix the syrup with fruit juice, with diced fresh or canned fruits, or with canned apple sauce. And try heating the syrup with a bit of butter for another tempting treat... the whole family will join in your "ranchman's" enthusiasm for the first meal of the day.

Pancakes
2 cups prepared pancake mix and waffle mix
1-3/4 cups milk
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons cooking oil, melted butter or other shortening

Combine all ingredients. Mix with spoon or egg beater just until smooth. Bake on hot griddle or in lightly greased skillet, turning once. Do not stir batter between bakings. Serve with butter and Warm Log Cabin Syrup. Makes about 20 four-inch pancakes.

Tamale Pie Has Plenty Of Oomph

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's anybody's guess whether Tamale Pie originated in Mexico, Texas or California.

Some Mexican cooks disclaim it. Some Texans aver it is their concoction. And the first recipes for anything similar that we have been able to track down appeared in a cook book published in San Francisco almost 50 years ago.

How do modern cooks usually prepare this casserole? First they spoon a layer of cooked cornmeal into the bottom of the baking dish, then comes a filling of a spicy meat and tomato sauce. The third layer is cornmeal mush with a topping of grated cheese.

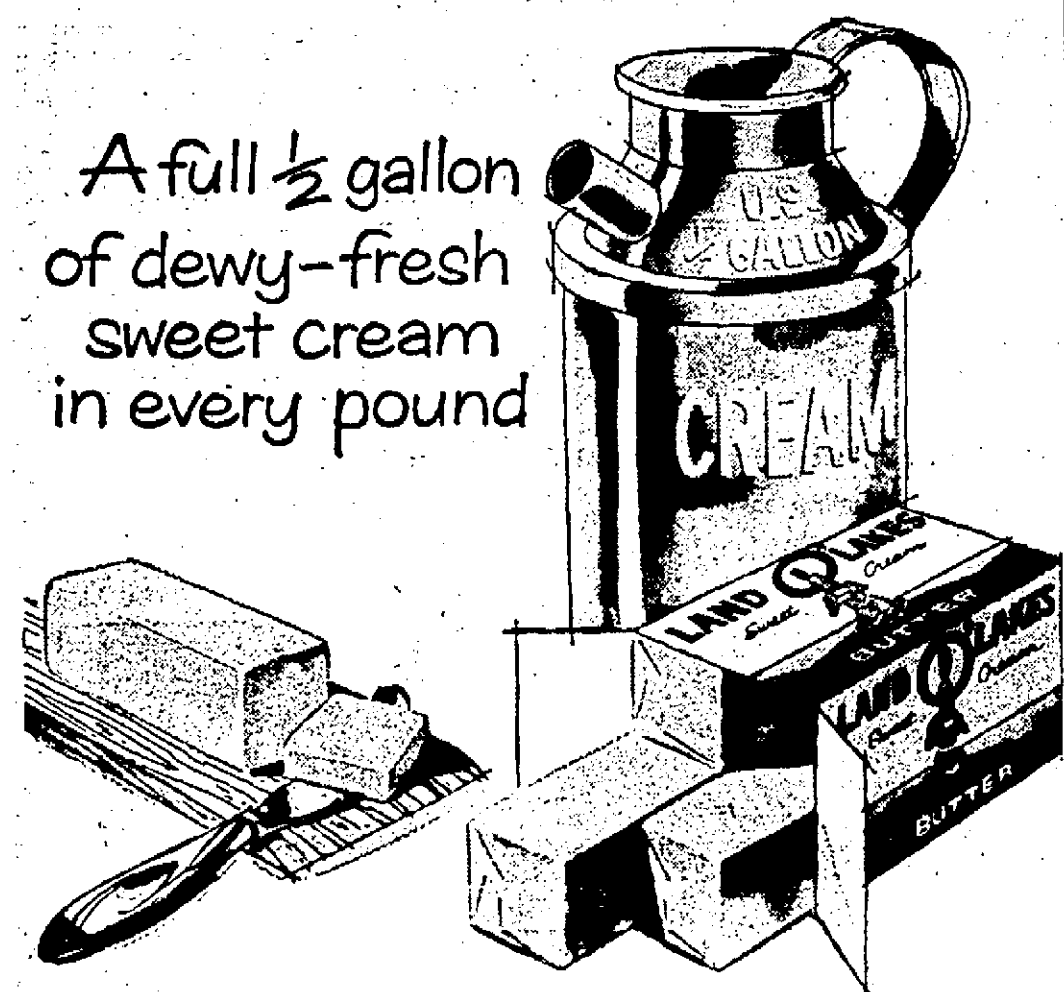

But that's putting it simply. One thing is sure, there are dozens and dozens of variations of this dish. In our early recipes the meat suggested was pork or beef, cut in cubes or hashed; nowadays the meat is almost always ground beef.

These early versions of Tamale Pie — called Tamale Loaf and Tamale Pudding — did not include tomatoes; these days canned tomatoes, tomato juice, tomato sauce or tomato paste are usually present. The early recipes did call for ripe olives and whole kernel corn, and present-day rules usually still include them. In addition many cooks like to add onion, green pepper and celery.

How about seasonings? All along the line there's been one "must": chili powder. But modern recipes for Tamale Pie may also call for Worcestershire sauce, cayenne or tabasco, oregano or basil, garlic. We ourselves sometimes add the haunting taste of cumin.

Monterey Tamale Pie

Bayou Pecan & Rice Dessert

The cook in the Deep South has used the home-grown products, pecans, rice and syrup to make a dessert so wonderful you'll never forget it!

It takes 40 minutes baking to toast the pecans and blend the vanilla, eggs, butter and dark syrup into a heavenly sweet. Use one of your fancy baking dishes and serve this dessert from the baking dish at the table. This dessert is so delicious it deserves a ceremony of some sort!

INGREDIENTS:
2/3 cup uncooked w. rice
1 1/4 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups dark corn syrup
1 cup granulated sugar
3 teaspoons vanilla
3 tablespoons melted butter
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped pecans

METHOD: Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid. Simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks, mix together the eggs, dark syrup, sugar, vanilla and butter. After the rice cooks, stir in the milk. Cover and cook over low heat until the milk is absorbed. Stir occasionally. Press the rice over the bottom of a glass pie plate or shallow baking dish holding about 6 cups.

Just before baking, pour the egg-syrup mixture over the rice. Sprinkle with the pecans. Push the pecans into the syrup mixture.

Bake uncovered, in a pre-heated 350° F. oven 40 minutes. Serve warm. Top with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream, if desired. This recipe makes 8 generous servings.

Savory Sauce Peps Up Eggs

Poached Eggs with Savory Cheese Sauce

Buttered Toast Salad Bowl
Gingerbread with Applesauce Beverage

SAVORY CHEESE SAUCE
Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1 can (10 ounces) tomatoes, 4 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese, 1/2 cup light cream.

Method: Melt butter over low heat in 1-quart saucepan; stir in flour, salt, a dash of pepper, mustard, curry powder and sugar. Add tomatoes and cook and stir constantly until bubbly and thickened. Add grated Parmesan and light cream; stir constantly over very low heat (do not allow to boil) until cheese is melted and mixture is hot. Serve at once. Or cover (off heat); at serving time reheat over very low heat stirring constantly. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Note: About 1/2 cup, or more, of the sauce may be spooned over 1 or 2 poached eggs. The eggs should be poached until they are firm enough to have only slightly runny centers. If a 10-ounce can of tomatoes is not available, use 1/2 cup tomato juice and 1/2 cup lightly drained canned tomatoes.

How To Make A Croustade

Here is a simple, delicious shell for chicken a la king, creamed ham and eggs or lobster Newburg:

Cut unsliced white bread into thick slices, 2 inches thick. Remove crusts. Cut the squares into two oblongs and hollow out crumbs, leaving a shell about 1/2 of an inch thick. Brush the shell with melted butter and bake in oven, preheated to 375 degrees for twelve to fifteen minutes.

TAMALE PIE ORIGIN — There's argument where this zesty dish originated and it's a toss-up whether it came from Mexico, Texas or California. Early recipes called for pork or beef cubed or hashed, but nowadays it is almost always ground beef.

salt, 3 cups hot water, 1 cup enriched corn meal, 1 cup cold water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese.

Method: Cook onion, green pepper and ground beef in melted butter over low heat until lightly browned. Stir in corn, olives, tomato paste, chili powder and salt; cook 10 minutes more. Heat 3 cups water to boiling in saucepan. Mix corn meal, cold water and salt; pour into boiling water,

A "trade wind" is one that blows regularly from the same direction, usually from the east toward the equator. Original meaning of "trade" was a "track" or course.

Names Flavor Politics Stew

By United Press International
Two more "name" speakers appeared in West Virginia today in behalf of Republican and Democratic candidates seeking election in the Nov. 4 balloting.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks arrived at Charleston in the early afternoon to participate in the ground-breaking ceremonies for an interstate highway route. Tonight he will address a Kanawha County GOP rally.

Also arriving in West Virginia this afternoon was Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.) chairman of the Senate Campaign committee for his party. He met with party leaders at White Sulphur Springs and tonight speaks at a fund-raising dinner at Marlinton, Pocahontas County.

Wednesday night Labor Secretary Mitchell spoke in Wheeling and Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) addressed a rally at Fairmont. Mitchell said Democratic control of congress would "invite Democratic fiscal insanity" for the country. He said that since 1952 wages have gone up 25 per cent and prices risen only eight per cent while under the Truman administration prices went up 50 per cent.

"The real income of American workers in purchasing power is at an all time high," Mitchell declared. "This is in contrast to a Democratic policy of straight and narrow expressways to a valueless dollar, higher taxes, rising prices and desperate finances."

Morse said that one of the "worst condemnations" of the Eisenhower administration was "its give away of the tideland's oil fields."

Get Jet Permission

NEW YORK (UPI)—Permission to operate jet aircraft out of Idlewild Airport was granted today to American Airlines, the third airline to receive such clearance.

Evangelist, Governor Battle Over Sermon Plans

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham and South Carolina Gov. George Bell Timmerman were locked today in a spiritual-temporal battle over the evangelist's plans to preach a sermon Sunday on state property.

Timmerman said Wednesday night the issue was whether Graham's plans to preach on the state house grounds constituted a "violation of the law of the land" and the principle of "separation of church and state."

But Timmerman reaffirmed his first — and foremost — objection to the Graham rally, that the evangelist is "a widely-known advocate of de-segregation."

The governor denied permission had been granted for use of the grounds and said he would leave it to Graham's "conscience as to whether he will trespass on state property."

"The Lord willing, I plan to be in Columbia as scheduled," said Graham, who is winding up a religious "crusade" in his hometown of Charlotte, N.C.

In his statement Wednesday night Timmerman said the issue of rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's had been joined by the participation in Graham's rally of "an integrated Army detachment."

He said that such a detachment had "erected Army property in front of the south (rear) steps of the state house in preparation for the Graham rally."

Timmerman referred to a three-foot high wood and steel platform made up of two Army boxing rings that will seat a choir for the rally.

The stand was provided by the Special Service unit of nearby Fort Jackson, which frequently cooperates with the city of Columbia in preparation for civic events. Fort Jackson, like all Army posts, is racially integrated.

Timmerman said the stand had been erected "in apparent defiance" of the "well-known principle" of church and state separation.

Church Planning Dinner Programs

Milton G. Fiene, West Coast field representative of the Lutheran Laymen's Stewardship Movement, will be the speaker at the congregational dinners at St. John's Lutheran Church next week.

Fiene, a layman of the United Lutheran Church, visits congregations and helps them in their stewardship and budget programs.

Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor, said the dinners at the church are a part of the 1958 stewardship program. The program will include a visitation project, gathering of pledges and estimates for the church program, and acquainting members with the work of the church.

Progress reports and proposals for new projects in 1959 will be given at the dinners which will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Kingpin Of All Measures Of Good Or Bad Times In U.S. Gross National Product

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The kingpin of all the measures of good times or bad in the United States is the gross national product. It is widely accepted by businessmen and economists as giving the best picture of the economy at the moment.

But some economists have challenged its accuracy and doubt if it gives a complete picture of where we stand. And probably many Americans have only a vague notion of what it is or how it is compiled.

The short definition for GNP usually used is: The dollar value of all goods and services produced in the nation.

President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers has just predicted that GNP will hit a record annual rate of 450 billion dollars by the end of this year — a comforting thought for all, except for those whose own businesses aren't booming and for the more than four million who are out of work.

The GNP is made up of the best statistics and estimates available to the Commerce Department. The first announcements often have to be revised as later figures come in. And a rise in GNP could reflect a rise in prices quite as much as any gain in business activity.

What are the components of GNP?

First and biggest are personal consumption expenditures, which at present are reported to be running at an annual rate of 292 billion dollars. This is an estimate of what people are spending for durable goods like autos and household appliances, what they are spending for nondurable goods like clothing and food, and what they are spending for services like electricity and rent and medical care.

The next item is gross private domestic investment. This includes spending on construction of nonfarm homes or apartment houses and the cost of all other kinds of building. What business is investing in durable equipment also goes into this figure or estimate.

Then the department gathers data on business inventories. If they are rising as they were a year ago the change from the previous three months period is added onto GNP. If they are falling as they have been for some time the change from the last period is subtracted from GNP. The change in the last three months was a minus four billion dollars at an annual rate.

Then the department adds in what it has been able to find out about net foreign investment — what American businessmen or individuals have spent on their holdings abroad.

Finally it looks at government purchases. Here the figures are more easily come by. And over the past year they have been rising.

The latest figures show federal spending on goods and services running at 53 billion dollars a year, and state and local spending running at 49 billion. With the federal budget approaching the 80 billion dollar a year level, it is obvious that not all outgo adds to gross national product.

The value of GNP is that it gives estimates of three things: The value produced, the incomes earned, and the spending done.

Critics say it leaves out of account some other kinds of economic activity. And they list the exchange of used cars, houses, land, or of stocks, bonds, mortgages and other credit instruments.

They also stress the distortions caused by changing prices when GNP is used as gospel for where the economy is and where it's headed.

Gobel Finds Wife Trouble Real Bother

Newest Mate Has Own Opinions On Feeling Of Role

By VERNON SCOTT
UTL Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — That George Gobel is a scoundrel, flouting three wives before the public within the last year. In addition to his real wife, Alice, the sawed-off comic has played house with Jeff Donnell and Phyllis Avery on his hour-long television show.

Is he ashamed? Does he have any regrets?
"Aw, no," says George. "It's harder on me than it is on them. It's no good at all. Every girl I get I have to marry. That ain't no fun."

Phyllis, a green-eyed blonde, doesn't agree with the crewcut funnyman. She says, "Nobody thinks of George as a lady killer, but he's doing better than any other comedian on TV."

"In his own way George is mighty cute, and I love playing his wife."
Gobel blushed becomingly. "I hope Phyllis sticks around for awhile," he grinned. "She's sweet and easy to work with. But don't get me wrong, I hope that spooky real Alice of mine stays with me, too."

Not Nattering Type
"I'll be playing the role differently from Jeff," Phyllis explained. "She nattered him most of the time. I'll be merely inconsistent, like most women. I've met the real Alice, and she's not the nattering type at all. In fact, I picked up a few pointers from Alice."

"She sort of tolerates George when he gets whimsical."
Phyllis is having her second go at video marriage, too. For two years she played Ray Milland's spouse in the "Mr. McNulty" series.

She also can draw on real life experience from her nine-year marriage to actor Don Taylor, from whom she is now divorced.

"Once you've been married it's fairly easy to fall into a husband-wife relationship," Phyllis went on. "Er... I mean in a comedy situation. Single people don't have the knack for that take-things-for-granted attitude."

"I won't henpeck George if it can help it, and we hope to do some singing and dancing together for a change."

Hundreds Apply For Job
Phyllis was selected for the role after NBC was inundated with requests to fill Jeff's nylon. Literally hundreds of applicants fought for the part, including many a well-known name.

"We wanted somebody who hadn't been seen too much," George said. "We didn't need a glamour girl, or a youngster. I had my mind made up in favor of a pretty girl with experience. We found the perfect answer in Phyllis."

"I'm not trying to be funny about it, but changing wives in the middle of a TV program upsets a lot of people," George said soberly. "They think I'm a cad, or a double-crosser, or something. One thing good about it all, my wife Alice thoroughly approves of Phyllis."

Kaye In Line For Award In Straight Role

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—An Academy Award for Danny Kaye?

That's the hottest rumor in Hollywood these days, and nobody's more amazed than Danny — that rare actor who doesn't think he deserves it.

"I'm flattered by the Oscar rumors, but I don't think I deserve an award," he says. "One of the zany props, the rapid-fire 'git-gat-giddle,' the outrageous mugging that made Kaye a top comedian, and in his very first shot at a straight role Danny hit the bullseye in 'Me and the Colonel.'"

"The part was a startling change from my usual brand of comedy. It was a real leap off the diving board. A gamble. It was not only a character role, but there was no music, no funny props, no costumes to depend on."

Likes Pace Change
"For the first time in my life I played somebody other than Danny Kaye, and I loved it," the funnyman said.

Danny liked the change of pace so well he is starring in his second straight role, playing the story of musician Red Nichols in "The Five Pennies."

Again, Danny draws on warm, sentimental humor instead of the explosive yokes that rocked his audiences in "Up in Arms" and "Knock On Wood."

"The transition was easy for me," he continued. "But I could not have done it ten years ago. For one thing, I've grown older, and if a man matures in his thinking he comes to a point where he must try a new avenue in his career. That's what happened to me."

Has Greater Insight
"All my travels for the United Nations have given me an insight into people and situations that I never understood before."

"I realize now that people have to see some humor in the tragic moments of life if they are to survive. Humor and tragedy are very close."

Danny's personality off screen has undergone a metamorphosis comparable to his movie revolution. He's no longer the wise-cracking, flip character he once was. He seldom raises his voice or mugs it up for laughs — but there's still a twinkle in his eye.

New Thriller Series On TV Heavy-Footed

U. S. Steel Hour Also Falls Short. Sandburg Criticized

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Last season CBS-TV folded a rather plodding drama series called "Climax" and Wednesday night CBS-TV unveiled something that looked suspiciously like "The Son of Climax."

It was a taped thriller series called "Pursuit" and like most of the Climax shows, it flittered away an hour on a heavy-footed script. Like Climax, it was unrelenting in its chase of clichés. Like Climax, its acting and direction were mechanical.

It's too bad that this should be so because there is a need on TV for a solid adventure or thriller series — the sort of thing Alfred Hitchcock used to do so superbly for movies.

Wednesday night's Pursuit starred MacDonald Carey, Stu Erwin, Carol Lynley and Vivian Nathan and all of them seemed rather listless. It also starred Sal Mineo, a young actor whose carefully pomaded hair drips down his forehead in cuddly-coo ringlets. I found it difficult under such circumstances to feel any rapport with him.

CBS-TV's "U. S. Steel Hour" dumped Edward Andrews and Faye Emerson Wednesday night into a gummy aspic, "Secret In The Family." It was billed as a comedy and it did have a few crackly lines, but somehow, it all hardly seemed worth the trouble.

Over at NBC-TV, Milton Berle offered Carl Sandburg in a short session of songs and readings Wednesday night. Yes, I said Milton Berle and Carl Sandburg.

I don't want to get into a discussion of Sandburg. To anyone interested in poetry, his defects are obvious: His misty generalizations to the banal, his lack of precision, his limited intellectual range.

However, it's interesting to watch even a poet of peripheral importance on something like the Berle show. Berle treated Sandburg as if he were some curious cross between Frank Lloyd Wright and Albert Schweitzer — a kind of maverick-saint who constantly spouted holy witticisms.

Anyway, it was heartening for a change to have some poet on TV aside from the self-satisfied Robert Frost. And who knows? — in some distant day some TV producer may pick up a book of real poetry and discover there are several important American poets around with names like Marianne Moore, Robert Lowell, and Richard Wilbur.

The Channel Swim: The brains behind NBC-TV's "Brains and Brawn" deny it, but there are persistent reports the quiz is headed for the boneyard. "Stars of Jazz" will return to ABC-TV on Nov. 9 when "Encounter" folds.

"The Invisible Man," a half-hour series filmed in England, will be dropped into the Tuesday CBS-TV spot now held by "Keep Talking." CBS-TV hopes to find another niche for "Keep Talking," possibly Sunday night. Bing Crosby will guest on NBC-TV's special one-hour "Dean Martin Martin Show" Nov. 22.

ABC-TV's "The Rifleman" out-trended the debut of NBC-TV's "George Burns Show," 26.3 to 15.6 — CBS-TV's Arthur Godfrey ran a poor third with a 9.7. There's a good possibility that ABC-TV may replace "Confession" with another series, "One Step Beyond."

The oil company which coiled on Nat Hiken's proposed series, "Man of the Hour," now is warming up to the show again. Jack Webb of NBC-TV's "Dragnet" is the author of a book, "The Badge," which will be published next Monday.

SRC's Plan To Help Gain Public Support

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission says it is working on a program aimed at developing public understanding and support of its 15-year construction plan.

Chairman Robert O. Bonnell said the presentation planned for civic and service clubs must be refined further. But as outlined yesterday, it would include colored slides showing work now under way and proposed for the future in each jurisdiction.

Murtaugh Named NL 'Manager Of Year'

Pirate Pilot Easily Wins Over Haney, Bill Rigney

By FRED DOWN

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Danny

Murtaugh, who recalls his first day as manager of the Pittsburgh

Pirates as "my saddest day in baseball," is the United Press

International's 1958 National League Manager of the Year.

A 24-man UPI committee, composed of three baseball writers from

the 41-year-old native of

Chester, Pa., an overwhelming selection by giving him 18 votes.

Fred Haney of the Milwaukee

Braves and Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants received three each.

The one-time utility infielder with both the Philadelphia Phillies and Pirates was honored for his part in the spectacular rise of the 1958 Buccaneers from a tie for last place in 1957 to second place. It was the Pirates' best finish since 1944 and their best in a non-war year since 1938.

Gain 22 Games

Actually, the Pirates showed a gain of 22 games over their 1957

was 62-92. Their final 1958 mark

Murtaugh's rise to the top of his profession was every bit as sensational as the Pirates' progress in the National League race because he wasn't even expected to be their manager this year.

When Murtaugh replaced Bobby

Bragan on Aug. 3, 1957, Joe E.

Brown Jr., general manager of the club, specified that Danny was only "an interim manager."

The next day is the one Murtaugh recalls as "my saddest in baseball."

"The next day," he recalls, "we played the Cubs. We started the

with a six-game losing streak.

At the end of the day, we had dropped a doubleheader, extended

and fallen into the cellar."

Play 300 Ball

In spite of that start, Mur-taugh's Pirates played over 300 ball (26-24) over the last two months of the season and his 26-

26 record as "interim manager" persuaded Brown to extend his

This year the Pirates got off to a steady start but were not taken

the Giants faded and left them in the lead. There are frequent changes in the major sports. The Pirates never could get within range of the Braves but they almost matched their pace over the last two months. The Braves won 33 of their last 52 games while the Pirates won 32 of their last 52.

Jordan Seen In Title Bout With Akins

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Young Don Jordan of Los Angeles today emerged as the next probable title opponent of world welterweight champion Virgil Akins. Jordan scored a split decision over Gaspar (Indian) Ortega of Tijuana, Mexico, in an unusual charity fight in 12 rounds Wednesday night. Today negotiations for formal contracts were opened for a title fight in Los Angeles Dec. 5. Jordan outpointed Ortega in the view of Referee Frankie Van and Judge Tommy Hart, each scoring it 116-114 under California's 10-point-must-per-round system. Judge Lee Grossman had Ortega on top 115-113.

The nationally televised fight was the 48th win in 55 bouts for 23-year-old Jordan and the 14th loss in 62 matches for Ortega. There were no knockdowns but it was an action-packed contest. Jordan weighed 143½ and Ortega 145½.

The fight was staged in the grand ballroom of the Lafayette Hotel, recent residence of beauties in the Miss Universe Contest. More than 1,000 members of the Optimist Club and the sports-minded Century Club paid $25 for a steak dinner and, as the tickets read, "a night of boxing."

Metts Leads In Scoring

At the half-way mark of the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League race Valley's Clifton "Tippy" Metts has the scoring lead with eight points in four games.

"Tippy" leads runnerup Jim Duncan of Beall by four tallies with the Beall booter having a goal and three penalty shots. Metts has eight goals.

Valley is also the top scoring team as the Black Knights, who have won the title the past five seasons, has accounted for 16 points while holding opponents to a single goal and one penalty shot. The Knights have had but one penalty shot to date and missed it.

Other point records are Bruce 8-2; Beall 6-7; Mt. Savage 3-10 and Flintstone 4-16.

The second half gets underway tomorrow with Valley at Mt. Savage and Flintstone invading Beall. The Knights and Bruce are tied for the lead with three wins and a tie while Beall (2-2) is third and Flintstone and Mt. Savage, both with 0-3-1 marks, tied for fourth.

WVU Plans Four Changes

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — At least four changes are expected in the West Virginia University lineup when the Mountaineers go against VPI at Richmond, Va. Saturday.

Coach Art Lewis sent his charges through their final workout at home today with Bruce McClung at end, Pete Tolley at tackle, Dave Rider at a halfback post and Noel Whipkey at full back.

Lewis said unless there was something to change his mind, he's sticking with this quartet in his opening lineup. McClung replaces Tony Tallarico, Tolley replaces Dick Guesman, Rider replaces Mel Reight and Whipkey takes over from Bob Benke.

The use of Tolley at tackle gives Lewis two converted guards at the tackle positions. Carl Danenberg moved into one of the posts last week with his play in the Pitt game.

During Wednesday drills Lewis sent the squad through its defense patterns and then staged a short scrimmage with the freshman team running VPI plays against the varsity. The squad departs Friday morning for Richmond.

Await Medical Report

PRINCETON, N. J. (UPI) — Coach Dick Colman awaited a medical report today whether halfback Dan Sachs will be lost to Princeton for Saturday's game against Cornell. Sachs suffered a severe back injury against Pennsylvania Oct. 11.

Collegians' Grid Injury List Reads Like All-American

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Editor

You could take the cream of the college football players laid up with injuries this season and come up with a pretty formidable All America team, just about as formidable as the problems the coaches face in replacing them.

Down in the Southwest, Southern Methodist Coach Bill Meek first end and star punter Dave Sherer in the opener against Ohio State. The next weekend he lost quarterback and ace passer Don Meredith against Notre Dame.

Meek hoped to have both ready for Georgia Tech this weekend. Dawkins "Doubtful" Army, with its limited manpower, is hurting for its game with Pitt. Fullback Harry Walters is out with a sprained ankle. The condition of halfback Pete Dawkins' charley horse won't be known until Friday.

Meantime, Coach Red Blaik is doing some wild reshuffling in the Army backfield. Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz said Wednesday that he had to rebuild his line after losing starting ends John Kanuch and Tom Hyde last Saturday against Tulane. All America tackle Bob Reifsnyder hasn't played since injuring his ankle in fall practice. Two fourth stringers a month ago, Paul Manikowicz and George Betsek, took over the end slots as the Tars prepped for Penn.

Iowa State, unable to score in its last nine quarters of play, is without a regular kicker, according to Coach Jack Stapleton. Two punters, Cliff Rick and John Scheldrup, are both injured as the team preps for Missouri.

On the credit side, Ohio State should have its starting backfield intact for Saturday's game with Wisconsin, for the first time since the season's opener as quarterback Frank Kremblas is reported in perfect condition. Dick LeBeau, Bob White and Don Clark also have been plagued by injuries in the first four games. But Boston College can't say the same for quarterback Don Allard, Philis.

expected to miss the Miami game Saturday. He has been out with a shoulder injury since Sept. 29. Georgia Tech, who uses the quick kick the way some teams use the forward pass, lost Joe Delany, its quickkick artist, with a sprained ankle, and he may miss the SMU game Saturday.

Ferrick Signs As Phil Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Baseball's Tom Ferrick is coming back to Philadelphia and there isn't a happier coach in the game. Ferrick, who has made his permanent home here since his rookie days with the old Athletics back in 1941, was named pitching coach of the Phillies by Manager Eddie Sawyer Wednesday.

He had been with Birdie Tebbetts in Cincinnati since 1953, but Tebbetts' resignation as Redlegs' manager, and Chuck Puntillo, while Syracuse's star tackle Ron Luciano is out of the Penn State game with a virus infection.

Bucks' Kremblas Ready

On the credit side, Ohio State should have its starting backfield intact for Saturday's game with Wisconsin, for the first time since the season's opener as quarterback Frank Kremblas is reported in perfect condition. Dick LeBeau, Bob White and Don Clark also have been plagued by injuries in the first four games. But Boston College can't say the same for quarterback Don Allard, Philis.

Garden Stakes Purse Swells To $297,250

CAMDEN, N. J. (UPI) — The addition of Charran Stable's Crafty Skipper raised the field to 13 today for Saturday's Garden State Stakes, richest horse race in the world.

Craft Skipper had suffered an ankle injury in the Garden State trial last week, but trainer Lucien Laurin said a quick recovery had been made and the horse was likely to participate in the mile and one-sixteenth classic.

The 13 probable starters swelled the stakes' gross to $297,250, with the winner's purse tagged at $178,350.

First Landing, leading the two-year-old thoroughbreds for divisional honors, has been installed the favorite in the Garden State.

Panthers Pull Out All Stops For Knights

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitt's football team is pulling out all stops for Saturday's game here with unbeaten Army. The Panthers have several reasons.

For one thing a victory would give Pitt the prestige of winning the nation's No. 1 ranked team.

For another, the game will go a long way toward deciding the eventual winner of the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of Eastern football supremacy. Army, winner in four games, and Pitt with a 4-1 record, currently are one-two in the weekly balloting.

Pitt Coach John Michelosen figures, quite naturally, his biggest problem will be stopping Army's fabulous halfback duo of Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson and "Lonesome end" Bill Carpenter.

"Lonesome George," said Michelosen making up his own tag, "kept me awake trying to figure a way to defense him. He's so fast you almost have to use two men to cover him. And he can come in diagonally for a quick pass or go deep."

If Michelosen has figured a way to stop the Cadets, who last week regained the national lead in total offense, he's keeping it under wraps.

In a radical departure for Pitt, the Panthers have opened up their offense considerably. Quarterback Ivan Tonic is especially prone to relay on aerials. He has completed 20 of 30 passes, including three for touchdowns.

Mustangs Keep Grip On First

Mustangs, with a 2-1 victory over Black Widows, kept a two-game lead over the losers in the Flying Saucers Mixed Bowling League. Jets posted the only shutout, sweeping Thunderbolts, 5-0, while Flying Forts downed Piper Cubs, 2-1.

Pacing their teams were Bob Sharon, 175-480, and Hazel Diehl, 130-372. Jets; Frank Oss, 165-412, and Kay Leighty, 187-423. Thunderbolts; Jack Clauson 195, Carl Grabowski 450, and Margaret Arding, 154-366. Mustangs; Bill Hunt, 181-508, Kay Hartell 142 and Wilda Hunt 372. Black Widows; Bill Reitmeyer, 171-436, and Maxine Valentine, 149-398. Flying Forts; Bill Laurent, 164-452, Jo Ann Spiker 121 and Margaret Lloyd 303. Piper Cubs Standings:

Minors Seen Aided By New Draft Ruling

NEW YORK (AP) — The proposed unrestricted draft of minor league baseball players was seen today as a financial boom to minor league clubs and a curtailment of large bonus payments.

Unrestricted draft by the major leagues was recommended Wednesday by a nine-man committee appointed last month by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick. Under the present rule the majors may draft only players who have had four years' experience.

The committee, headed by Frank Lane of Cleveland, figured that a major league club will think twice before it pays a big sum for an untried youngster, who could be drafted from the minors by another big league club the following year.

"Curtalement of payment of a large number of bonuses to untried players will provide major league clubs with an opportunity to funnel into the minor leagues additional financial aid," said Sam Smith, president of the Alabama-Florida League who represented circuits of Class B, C and D on the committee.

Another committee member said the unrestricted draft will give minor league clubs an opportunity to develop their own young players and then sell them to the major leagues since the big boys won't be so ready to pay large bonuses.

The proposed legislation will be submitted to the majors at their December meeting in Washington, D.C.

Bowhunters To Meet, Show Archery Films

The Cumberland Bowhunters will meet today, 8 p. m., at the Bowman's Addition Fire Hall with area archery enthusiasts invited.

Two films will be shown, "Big Game Hunting With the Long Bow" and "Hunting For Sport." Featured in the films, which are in color and sound, will be Fred Bear, one of the world's top shooters, and Howard Hill, trick-shot artist with the bow.

Call Up Defenseman

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings have called up defenseman Jack Hendrickson for a three-game stay. Hendrickson, from Hershey of the American Hockey League, will be reassigned to another club following his brief stint with Detroit.

Vikings, Pioneers To Clash In Top PVC Tilt Tomorrow

The chances of either Petersburg or Romney staying in contention for the Potomac Valley Conference football title will be decided tomorrow afternoon when the two rivals tangle at Petersburg.

Both the Pioneers and Vikings still are harboring ambitions of dethroning or tying Keyser for the title the Golden Tornado has held since 1953. Also in contention are Ridgeley, West Virginia School for the Deaf and Romney and the Tornadoes.

Petersburg, beaten only by Ridgeley, 14-12, in five loop starts, closes out its circuit slate next Friday when tangle with Keyser on the Tornado gridiron.

Romney, in two PVC games, has tied Moorefield, 6-6, and won over Franklin, 21-0, for two tries.

The Pioneers have three games remaining, including tomorrow's and the closest against Berkeley Springs on Friday, November 14. Next Friday a week Romney meets Keyser.

The Golden Tornado, with a league winning streak of 22 games, will be heavily favored tomorrow to make Southern of Oakland its 25rd victim when invading Oakland. Keyser has a 2-0 loop mark and is 6-1 for the year. Southern has won but two games in seven attempts and lost three league clashes.

Circleville and Franklin, both out of the race, tangle tomorrow at Franklin with both elevens in search of their initial PVC conquest. The Indians have lost three starts and Franklin is without a triumph in four games against loop opponents.

Berkeley Springs, although unbeaten in the circuit with a victory over Ridgeley, 8-7, is not eligible for title honors because of participating in only three league games. The Indians will be at Moorefield tomorrow with the Jackets taking a 2-3 log into the skirmish.

The big game of the loop is carded for Saturday afternoon in Romney when the unbeaten Lions are host to fast-moving Ridgeley. A victory for the Lions assures them of no worse than a tie for the honors while Ridgeley will be out to keep its flickering hopes alive in the race.

West Virginia Deaf has yet to lose on the season for five tries and is the only undefeated, untied club in the district. The Lions have won three league contests and close the PVC schedule against the Hawks.

Ridgeley, after a slow start, has rebounded with vigor and will put a 4-2 conference record on the line against the Romneys. The Hawks are 5-2 for the year butties.

Jordan Rates Terp Passing As Tops

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Watch out for Maryland's passing attack, says Auburn Coach Ralph Jordan. It's one of the toughest in the business.

Gut the Tiger coaches may have an untried secret weapon to neutralize the danger in Saturday's game.

If they can shed enough tears, the playing field will be too soggy for the invading Terrapins to try much fancy stuff.

Jordan, whose Tigers are still undefeated in 18 games — though last week they tied Georgia Tech 7-7 — speaks with profound respect for the Maryland passers who set a new Atlantic Coast Conference record last Saturday.

They completed 21 against a North Carolina team which is more than moderately capable on pass defense.

Jordan rates the Terrapin aerial strength as the stoutest Auburn has gone up against in four games this year. He has alerted the Tiger defenders to be especially watchful for quarterback Bob Rusevlyn, 14th in the nation in passing, and Ron Shaffer, ninth leading pass receiver.

Statistically, Auburn — now in fifth place in The Associated Press poll — should be able to resist the Maryland attack. The Tigers lead the nation in pass defense, having yielded only 44.8 yards a game, and in total defense with a miserly 93 yards.

Tigers Buy Burnside From Phoenix Club

DETROIT (UPI) — Southpaw Pete Burnside, 28, today was purchased from the Phoenix Giants of the Pacific Coast League by the Detroit Tigers. Burnside posted an 11-7 record and 3.91 earned run average for the PCL champions.

Yankees Sign Keller Brothers

The University of Maryland lost an outstanding baseball prospect and the world-champion New York Yankees gained a pair of future stars when Charley Keller Jr., and his brother, Don, signed as Yankee farmhands in New York yesterday.

Sons of Charlie "King Kong" Keller, slugging outfielder of the Yankees, the two Keller boys were accompanied by their father to the Yankee office for signing.

Charley-Jr. is a 19-year-old outfielder who has a penchant for hitting the long ball, just like his dad. He starred as a member of the Terps' freshman baseball team last year when he hit eight homers. He's six-two and weighs 183 pounds.

Catamounts Lead WVIC Pass Defense

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI)—Shepherd College became the new rushing leader in West Virginia Conference statistics released today by executive secretary George Springer.

However, West Virginia Tech retained a firm hold on top honors in three other departments. Tech was the rushing leader last week. Shepherd's rushing total is 239.5 yards while Tech slipped to an average of 235.3 yards a game.

Tech is first in total offense, with 283.6 yards, total defense, giving up 112.7 yards per game and in rushing defense, allowing 73.6 yards a game.

Bethany remained the pass defense leader with 145 yards, while Potomac State replaced the Bisons as the best defensive team against passes, giving up but 32.2 yards per game.

Blair (Red) Weese of Tech took over as individual leader in total offense and retained his first place hold on scoring and rushing. He has gained 43 yards a game and scored 54 points. Paul Hoffman of Bethany was last week's leader with 343 yards.

Steve McMillan of Glenville regained the punting leadership, averaging 41.8 yards. Teammate Larry (Doc) Stanley is tops in punt returns with eight for 132 yards.

Andy Urbanic of Bethany and George Howard of Davis & Elkins are first in pass receiving and kickoff returns respectively.

Ghosts Send Fangio Into Retirement

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Age and a gallery of ghosts sent Juan Manuel Fangio into retirement today.

The five-time champion of the auto racing world called it quits because the exhilaration of winning "turned into a burden of mere fatigue." But there was more to it than that.

The 47-year-old Argentinian admits that he sees "too many spectres on the sidelines."

"In the last 10 years more than 20 of my racing comrades died behind the wheel," mourns the balding, paunchy man who many consider the greatest race driver of them all. "Our reunions nowadays look like gatherings of war veterans who try but cannot forget those who never came back."

He sees his retirement as the end of an era, which it is, and confesses that the younger dare-devils of track and road have made it too "tough" for an aging champion with slowed reflexes. "The cycle is completed," he says. "All the great ones are gone — one way or another. It is my turn."

Happy Ending
It has to be a happy ending, in that he didn't go "another" way as most of the great ones did. Because he will be a racing rarity, a living legend, this son of an Italian who emigrated to Argentina and took his first job as a mechanic's assistant when he was only 11.

Fangio had more than a quarter-century of it, which is many more years than most of them survived. Working by candlelight, he built his first "monstrosity" out of spare parts when he was only 20 to launch his driving career. It was nine long, desperate years before he won his first race.

There are two classes of drivers. The first is composed of the "lead foots," the dare-devils who know no other way except to "put their foot through it." Then there are the "safe and sure" ones, who know every inch of their cars and drive with their heads as well as their hearts.

Fangio started as the former and became the best of the latter, turning racing into a cold and calculated science. He walked the track for hours, inspecting the turns and searching for danger spots. The week before a race he was in bed at 10 p.m. every night, training with the fervor of a prize fighter.

Successful Formula
"A man can't play until the early hours of the morning and expect to have sharp reflexes," he explained simply.

It was a formula which produced racing's greatest success story. Despite the encroaching years, Fangio won them all, and kept right on winning. So great was his fame that last February, before a Cuban race, he was kidnapped from his Havana hotel by Cuban rebels because they knew it would gain them world-wide attention.

Fangio tried to qualify at Indianapolis last May but the car he had was a "bucket of bolts" and he didn't make it. Yet even those wise in the ways of the speedway admired his touch and his calm.

"But now I am tired in body as well as spirit," he says in announcing his retirement in Thursday's Sports Illustrated. "I have always thought of my car not as a cold machine but as a hot-blooded horse, racing with the rider in one beautiful, harmonious unit."

"As for me," he concludes, "the rider has grown older and more blasé than the horse."

That feeling, plus the gallery of ghosts, told him it was time to go—walking.

Weirton, 20-0, then bowed to Barbourville, 20-13, before losing to East Bank, 13-12. . . . McElwee, who had a brilliant record at Romney with two unbeaten teams and one state champion, side-stepped with all the adroitness of a scabbard returning the kickoff 96 yards the inevitable question: "Which of the four is the best?"

. . . Citing that they are four different clubs, Dick said that "Weirton is big, rushed hard and makes its own breaks; East Bank is real good despite the lack of manpower; Barbourville is a hard-hitting team with lots of experience." . . . As for Parkersburg, McElwee said that his Mountain Lions had improved a great deal since their opener with Weirton. . . . "Frankly," he continued, "We're a little disappointed because we didn't beat them."

. . . Dick's teams have had a jinx over Parkersburg since he packed his duds and headed for Charleston in 1954. . . . Charleston has yet to lose in four meetings. . . . Beall High coach Jerry Calhoun has announced that the Mountaineers will play Parkersburg in Frostburg Friday, November 7, under the lights. . . . The Mounties, who had an open date, will be playing their first game ever against the Vikings and it should be quite a contest.

. . . Both Calhoun and "Toney" Crites of the Vikings have been doing stand-out jobs since taking over at the two schools and it could be the start of a good series. . . . Beall, now, will have a 10-game slate for the season, being idle this week, then taking on Charles Town, Handley of Winchester, Petersburg and La Salle.

Tribe Wampum Bearers Put Fingers In War Paint

CLEVELAND (AP)—The big wampum bearers in the Cleveland Indians' wigwag had their fingers in the war paint today, and it probably will be many moons before peace pipes glow again.

The current conflict comes hard upon a tribal decision not to seek a happier hunting ground south of the plains country at Houston or in the land of the sky blue water at Minneapolis.

Lined up on one side of the tepee are Charles M. Baxter Jr., his brother, Andy Baxter, and Hank Greenberg.

Daley On Other Side
On the other side, controlling about two-thirds of the wampum invested in the Tribe are big chief William R. Daley and other stockholders.

The squabble adds up to this: The Baxters and Greenberg—general manager of the baseball club for eight seasons until replaced by Frank Lane a year ago—have made public their dissatisfaction with the way the front office is operating. Clear out the dead wood, they say, naming no names but specifying they don't include Lane.

They say they will buy out the majority stockholders or they will sell their minority holding to the majority. Same price either way. Based on an offer from Houston it would mean about a 50 per cent profit for the seller. The present owners paid nearly a four million dollar price for the Cleveland baseball club two years ago. Most of that amount was in notes and other debts they took over, not in cash.

No Public Squabbling
Daley, spokesman for the other side, says he does "not want to enter into any public squabbling" and can't "see how it can help the ball club."

"Some time ago I said that we had plans about strengthening management," he stated.

"I definitely do not intend to sell my stock," he continued, and added that he will not buy out the dissatisfied trio of directors at an asking price based on the Houston offer. Daley said he would buy them out "at a fair price" but that the Houston offer was on a condition of transfer of the franchise.

"The Indians are here to stay," he said, repeating the announcement he made a week ago.

Buck Party Tomorrow For K Of C Teams
A "buck party" will be held tomorrow evening at the home of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus.

Al Martin and Mickey Clark, co-chairmen, said the affair will be held from 9:30 p. m. until midnight. It will follow the LaSalle-Allegany football game at Fort Hill Stadium.

Proceeds will go to the K of C softball teams in the City League and Rocking Chair League Dance music will be provided. Tickets will be available at the door or may be purchased from team members.

West Virginia, Hoosiers Off Probation List

CHICAGO (AP) — Indiana and West Virginia have been restored to good standing by the NCAA after serving one-year probationary periods.

The NCAA policy-directing council made the announcement Wednesday in ending a three-day session.

Indiana's penalty followed Big Ten action last year when Hoosier Football Coach Phil Dickens was suspended for the season for violating Big Ten recruiting rules.

West Virginia's case concerned a violation of expense rules in the recruiting of a basketball player.

The council did not impose any additional disciplinary action on any other NCAA member. This was the first time in 12 meetings since 1954 it has not taken such measures.

However, 15 cases are pending and 20 others are in a state of preliminary investigation. Eight schools remain under varying degrees of NCAA punishment — UCLA, Southern California, Seattle, Auburn, North Carolina State, Southern Methodist, Wichita and Memphis State.

In other main items of business, the council:

1. Proposed that any college athletic staff member should be considered guilty of unethical conduct if he were compensated for scouting or negotiating for professional teams.

2. Ruled, effective upon circulation among the members, that any athlete receiving direct or indirect financial aid from a professional sports organization will be ineligible for collegiate athletics.

Both measures were aimed primarily at relationships between colleges and professional baseball, said Walt Byers, executive director of the NCAA.

Buckhannon Youth Signs With Pirates
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A Buckhannon, W. Va., youth who was named to the West Virginia all-state baseball team in 1957 has signed a Pittsburgh Pirates contract with their Grand Forks, N. D., farm club in the Class C Northern League.

Larry West, 6 feet, 190 pounds, plans to continue attending West Virginia Wesleyan College where he is a sophomore. He is a right-handed pitcher.

The Pirates said West was one of the "most sought after" baseball prospects in West Virginia.

FUKUOKA, Japan. (AP)—Visiting American golfers Ken Venturi and Jack Burke Jr. Wednesday won over a Japanese team 3-2 in the second U.S.-Japan exhibition match played at Fukuoka golf course. Venturi and Burke so far are undefeated in Japan.

Venturi shot a 3-under par 69 and Burke a 71.

Elgin Baylor Impressive In Pro Debut

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — It took All-America Elgin Baylor just eight seconds to get on the scoreboard in his first pro basketball game and just one night to fire the fancy of Minneapolis Laker fans.

The 6-6 rookie from Seattle University scored 25 points in his National Basketball Assn. debut Wednesday night in steering the Lakers to a walkaway 99-79 victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

The smoothly-coordinated college star, who drew some $20,000 for signing with a team that is out of business if the bonus boy can't bring in the crowds, bagged 10 of 21 field goal tries, 5 of 7 free throws, gathered 13 rebounds and had 6 assists.

Jack Parr, former Kansas State ace, also showed to advantage in his league debut. He scored 14 points for the Royals and was topped only by Dave Plotek with 17.

The New York Knickerbockers also made news in the NBA by obtaining Frank Selvy, former All-America from Furman, from the St. Louis Hawks for their second draft choice next spring and by defeating Philadelphia 109-108 in an exhibition game.

The Knicks will be the fourth club Selvy has played with since 1954. He was drafted by the defunct Baltimore Bullets, moved to Milwaukee when the Baltimore clubs folded, went with the Hawks to St. Louis when the Milwaukee franchise was transferred and played with Minneapolis last season on a lend-lease basis.

Terps' Shaffer ACC Runnerup In Receptions
GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Virginia, N. C. State and South Carolina have proved the Atlantic Coast Conference's most dangerous kick returning teams through the first half of the '58 schedule. The Wolfpack continues as the No. 1 ball-hawking club in the conference.

Virginia's Ulmo (Sonny) Randle is still far in front in the kick-off returning race, in addition to leading the ACC in pass receiving. He has returned nine for 221 yards and an average of 25.7 yards per return.

Claude Gibson of N. C. State, King Dixon and Alex Hawkins of South Carolina and Randy Harrell of the Wolfpack are engaged in a punt-returning battle. Gibson has returned five for 59 yards, Dixon six for 56, Hawkins five for 55 and Harrell four for 54.

According to ACC Service Bureau figures, N. C. State is tops in the interception department with 10.

Meantime, Randle moved closer to the ACC receiving record of 31. The Cavalier half-back has 23 catches for 302 yards and four TD's, eight catches more than Ron Shaffer of Maryland, his closest challenger. Don Coker of North Carolina is still No. 1 in punting with a record-surpassing average of 44.3 yards on 13 kicks.

Selection Board Will Pick Three All-State Teams
WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI)—An 11-member selection board will convene in Parkersburg Nov. 9 to pick three all-state West Virginia high school football teams, it was announced today.

The selection date and announcement of committee membership were made by chairman Bill Bibb, sports editor of the Wheeling Intelligencer.

Named to the board were Cliff McWilliams of the Wheeling News-Register; Bob Schriener, Martinsburg Journal; Mickey Furfari, Morgantown Dominion News; Jim Snyder, Parkersburg News; Virgil (Stubby) Currence, Bluefield Daily Telegraph; George Springer, Beckley Post Herald; Jim Van Zant, Williamson Daily News.

Jerry Gould, United Press International at Charleston as regional committee members.

Also serving will be Brad Kincaid of the Parkersburg Sentinel, president of the association, and West Virginia publicity director Eddie Barrett, who serves as the committee secretary.

The committee will pick all-state teams in each of the three divisions of West Virginia high school football play.

Harvey Kuenn, Detroit center fielder, has been on the American League All-Star team in each of his major league seasons.

20,000 Witness Cards' Workout
TOKYO (AP) — Some 20,000 Japanese baseball fans thronged Komazawa Stadium today to watch Stan "The Man" Musial and the visiting St. Louis Cardinals hold their first workout.

The Cards open a 16-game goodwill tour Friday in Tokyo's Korakuen Stadium against one of the strongest nine the Japanese have mustered from Japan's two professional baseball leagues.

"I never saw so many people watch a mere workout," Solly Hemus, the Redbirds' manager told a reporter.

Al Jacks, Richie Lucas and Bob Scrabis accounted for 1,185 yards in passing for the 1957 Penn State football team.

Going Hunting? BE CAREFUL!

This fall, some 20 million Americans will go hunting. They will be tramping wood, field and stream, scanning the skies for the quail and the pheasant, looking into the forest recesses for the deer and the bear. They will be carrying loaded guns. That will mean special care, to avoid accidents.

In the first place, experts say, hunting by pairs is the safest. More than that means there are too many guns to watch. One going alone can get into trouble in a boat, or in a swamp. Once in the field, the hunter must exercise good judgment. He must know how to carry a gun properly, how and where to point it, how to handle it when crossing a fence or obstruction. He must obey laws against trespassing.

The good-mannered hunter always asks permission of the farmer to hunt on his property. Obliging, he tells them where there's good game.

Luncheon time. Note safe position of guns—unloaded and action open, safely pointed. Never lean gun against tree.

Never climb over a fence with a loaded gun. Hand the gun to your companion before you climb fence or obstruction.

Hunters carry guns in safe positions. At right, hunter has his gun pointed toward ground; his companion carries his with muzzle pointed upward.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

For Friday, October 24, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Encouraging rays for all worthwhile lines of endeavor. Make time count. Extra hard work can lead to additional achievement. Good Mars and Uranus influences.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Especially favored now: Scientific pursuit, study of history, economics, aviation, new discoveries in medicine. Taurus have the talent for these fields, but all require hard work.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Compare ideas with friends, loved ones! You may be helped more than you suppose. Remain calm, alert to opportunity. Be thoughtful in all things.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Today is full of promise and good tidings for worthwhile interests, and there should be no time or room for worry, fretting.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Your innate initiative, buoyancy and general capability can properly be used today, being gains, fresh benefits, perhaps valuable new friends and contacts.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Good influences for worthwhile endeavors, but not for personal, generally, and for personal interests. A fine period in which to improve on methods.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — You could find yourself in the thick of things by noon. But don't worry; you will be the equipment used today, being gains, fresh benefits, perhaps valuable new friends and contacts.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio) — A day for calm, unhurried action — but not for procrastination. Going businesses, essentials, family matters most highly favored. Use every reasonable, honest effort to achieve.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Aim at fullest performance now since much can be achieved by you capable, well-balanced folk. Keen observation suggested.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — This is no day in which to make drastic changes. Go forward with pre-planned activities; seek help but don't be impatient about it. Be sensible in money matters, consistent in effort.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — A sensible but hopeful procedure in your affairs can bring pleasant and fruitful results only today for the future. A splendid day for personal achievement, for routine matters.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Establish your program and pace yourself to accomplish without waste motion. Seek all the advantages possible. Sidelstep all non-essentials.

YOU BORN TODAY are farsighted, determined and fond of luxuries; have the welfare of your fellowman and loved ones always in your mind. You are inclined at times to procrastinate, but once you decide to proceed and follow through, great gains can be realized. Develop your many talents which can aid you in your chosen field. Seek intelligent, congenial associates. You are a good mixer; use this gift to advantage — never unwise. Avoid stubbornness.

bring the message, "Onward to Greater Things."

The local church has been called First Evangelical United Brethren Church for about two years. Prior to that it was Bethany Church. Up until 1946 it was the United Brethren Church, at which time it merged with the Evangelical Church.

On May 8, 1907 the local church was incorporated. In March of the following year the church building was erected and the cornerstone was laid on July 12. The dedication service was on December 20.

Fisherman Have Some Superstition

LOWESTOFT, England (UPI)—Fishermen of the Scottish herring fleet declined Wednesday to invite the Bishop of Aberdeen aboard when he visited them. They have a superstition that "pigs and parsons bring bad luck to a boat."

Elizabeth Taylor Sued For Failing Pay House Rent

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor, who was believed to have been left a small fortune by her late husband, Mike Todd, Wednesday was charged with failing to pay two months rent on a house at Tucson, Ariz.

The 26-year-old raven-haired beauty whose New York dates with singer Eddie Fisher were reported to have caused the break up of her marriage with Debbie Reynolds was charged with owing $3,000 in rent for September and October.

Arrest Demonstrators

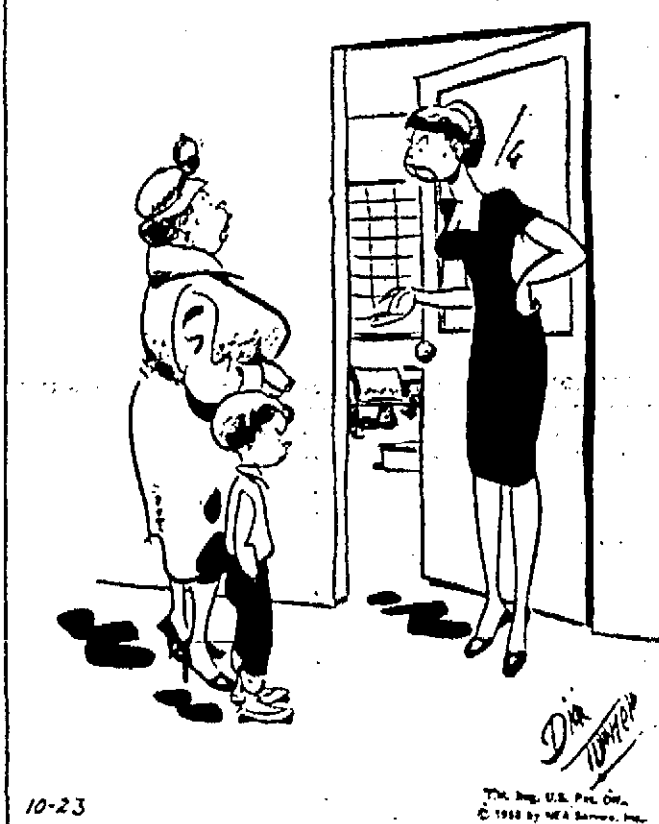

CAIRO (UPI)—Sixty labor demonstrators were arrested in Khartoum, Sudan, Tuesday for attempting to "attack" the car of U. S. Ambassador James S. Moose Jr. during an anti-government demonstration, the semi-official Middle East News Agency said Wednesday night.

Slices Of Bread Used To Stop Fire

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Henry Short has a new fire fighting technique. When wiring in his auto caught fire, he called the fire department, then grabbed a loaf of every room in the building, and wrapped the slices around the burning wires.

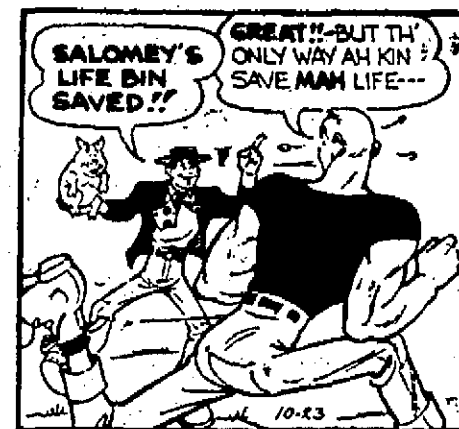

When the fire fighters arrived, the blaze was out.

Bad Installation Causes Smoke Scare

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Workmen recently installed a stove for burning wood shavings in the old City Hall here. Wednesday smoke filled the building, and the fire department was called.

The chimney had been connected to the ventilating duct.
